The music will be furnished by Boone's orchestra.

THE FORTNIGHTLY ENTERTAINMENT HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS

On Tuesday afternoon another group of High School students were entertained by the Fortnightly. The English class was taken to see the Jewett Players at the Copley Theatre, Boston, in their presentation of "Diareel." The play was enjoyed for the interesting plot and they defected a few times throughout the enactment. Mr. Maynard acted as chaperon.

Among the presenters, Dolores Adams, Peggy Maddocks, Frances Comins, Marion Breen, Barbara Paine, Ruth Chamberlin, Ethel Downes, Frances Adams, Edna Hilly, Abigail French, Woodbury Saunders, Donald Tucker, James Woolley, and Edgar Taylor.

Last night's fire, for which box was last night at 7:35, was in the corner of the main floor, and was caused by a cigarette and occupied by Mr. S. E. Peck. It is thought to have started from a hot smoke pipe. The fire burned the cellar stairs somewhat, and the main floor, and continued through the partitions when stopped by the firemen. There was not a great amount of damage done, although the main floor was well filled with smoke for a time.

GIRL SCOUT NOTES

The fourth annual State review will be held Saturday, May 12, at 2 p. m. in the Boston Arena. National officers will be present. Every Girl Scout in official uniform will participate in the opening ceremony.

Program: Competition for State championship in badge and drum corps and song groups.

The new features will be demonstrated in "home activities and English country dancing."

Troop 2, under Capt. Ethel H. Bone are working on second class work. They have made scrap books and with 25 valentines sent them to the Prudential Prevention at Mattapan.

Troop 3, under Capt. Dolan during the last snow storm had a very enjoyable sleigh ride, stopping at the telephone farm for hot chocolate and sandwiches.

Mrs. Savage, school nurse, has met with this troop a number of times instructing them in bandaging and first aid.

Troop 4 has met at the home of Mrs. Eastwood three times. Under her direction they have completed leaflets for the Red Cross and Near East Relief.

Laura Puffer and Virginia Hunkins of this troop have completed their second class requirements.

A number of merit badges have been won.

Patrol and individual lists are being kept.

Troop 1, Capt. Donner has been working with 12 young girls on the Tenderfoot work. They went on a hike to Bear Hill recently. They returned to Mrs. Donner's home, built a fire in her yard and toasted marshmallows.

Flowers were sent by the Troop to a classmate on the death of her father.

Troop 7, Capt. Blanche E. Mann has 19 active Scouts.

Imelda Mobis of Patrol 4, is attending Patrol Leaders' Class in Boston. She gives about 15 minutes at each troop meeting telling the Scouts what she has learned at the class the previous week and any interesting things they have done.

Patrols 5 and 6 were all new Scouts last September. Ten have been invested and are working on second class work.

Two members of Patrol 4 are planning to attend the Patrol Leaders' Camp this summer.

Mary A. Lyons, Secretary.

WINCHESTER FLORENCE CRITTENTON CIRCLE

The regular meeting of the Winchester Circle of Florence Crittenton League will be held Thursday, April 12, at the Unitarian Church at 2 p. m. There will be a business meeting and at 3 o'clock the meeting will be open to guests, the members of the Mothers' Association as well as others who are interested in the work, being invited to attend. Dr. Guibara will speak on "Mental Phases of the Work," and there will be music. Tea will be served after the meeting.

BODY TO ENFORCE CODE OF ETHICS

Appointment of a committee on professional conduct to interpret and enforce the new code of ethics adopted by the American Society of Mechanical Engineers was announced Saturday at the society's headquarters. The members are Charles T. Main, Boston; Fred J. Miller, New York; Edward N. Trump, Syracuse; Charles L. Newcomb, Holyoke; and George I. Rockwood, Worcester.

The code commands loyalty to country, personal honor, fairness to contractors and workers, and interest in the public welfare. Among the things forbidden are betrayal of professional confidences, undignified or misleading advertising, and questionable professional associations.

MR. GEORGE H. EATON GOES TO PORTLAND, ME.

The information that Mr. George H. Eaton, formerly of this town, for many years connected with the Traffic Department of the Boston & Maine Railroad and during Federal control chairman of the New England Freight Committee, has accepted his connections with the American Agricultural Chemical Co. as general traffic manager at New York, to accept service with the Maine Central Railroad as freight traffic manager, will be received with pleasure by shippers throughout New England.

Mr. Eaton is one of the best informed traffic men in this section of the country. His experience in the mercantile line for nearly two years places him in a position thoroughly to understand both sides of the traffic question and his return will be a help in solving the many difficulties and problems that arise in this territory.

As chief traffic officer of the Maine Central, Mr. Eaton will be a member of the New England Freight Association, and will bring to that organization his long experience with the New England situation combined with his intimate knowledge of the needs of the manufacturer. New England is to be congratulated.

He has taken up his residence in Portland, Me., and Mrs. Eaton will join him on April 15th. They will occupy their home for the present at the Congress Square Hotel.

EASTER SUNDAY PAGEANT

The Winchester Unitarian Sunday School gave on Easter Sunday a very successful little pageant. Appropriately hymns were sung by the congregation led by the Church quartet, with Mr. Scott at the organ and Miss Mary Whittington as soloist. Those taking part in the pageant were as follows:

Genesis Life. Helen Bosch Liberator, Carolyn Kader, Anthony Trees, Sherman Russell, Benjamin Thomas, Camille Seichman and Owen Keller. Blasphemy. Rachel Healer, Robert Newell, Robert Williams, Richard Wood, Charles Eaton, John Robinson, Spring Flowers, Betty Mead and Marjory Brooks. Shower. Helen Wild, Sunbeam, Jane Horton, Spring, Frances Mason, South Wind, Herbert Wallough, West Wind, Frank Barnes, East, Barbara Leake, Easter, Octavia Cooper.

Miss Doris Puffer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luther W. Puffer, Jr., of 33 Woodland street, is home after spending the winter in Florida.

WE WANT TO BE YOUR Laundry

Having made this statement, you naturally will ask us,

WHY?

Our reply is that in relieving you and your home of all the drudgery connected with weekly washings, you have assurance that the work will be done in a modern plant, where the rules of scientific sanitation are observed rigidly.

This is but one reason. The Representative who will respond to your call will give you others.

WADLEIGH-PRICE PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATION

The April meeting of the Wadleigh-Price Parent-Teacher Association will be held at the Wadleigh School Monday evening, April 9, at 8 o'clock.

The committee consisting of Mrs. Elsie B. Tompkins, Mrs. Carl E. Woods and Miss Mary J. Hills, appointed in January to prepare a list of desirable books for boys and girls to read, will report at this meeting. The results of their work will be interesting and valuable.

The following topics will also be discussed:

1. Do the first two weeks and the last two weeks of school count for marks? Should they?—Miss Davis.

2. Would it be possible to make one school room more attractive?—Miss Yaffee.

3. Would it be well to give one from each class, elected by the class to serve with the committee on children?—Miss Murphy.

4. What form of certificate or diploma should be given the pupils at the Wadleigh school on graduation? Refreshments will be served.

All the parents are urged to be present. Mrs. Rowe's room still has the honor.

W. L. Parson, President.

"HONEYMOON FLATS" TO BE PRESENTED

"Honeymoon Flats" is the title of the comedy which will be presented to the people of Winchester Thursday evening, April 19th, in Lyceum Hall by Santa Maria Court, 150, Catholic Daughters of America. The play is being coached by Mrs. Frances T. Conlon. Some of the best amateur talent in the community will take an active part in the production.

The committee will conduct a whist party this evening at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth McDonald, 10 Hill street. The proceeds will be donated to the fund to carry on the show.

The play committee includes Mrs. Frances T. Conlon, chairman, G. R. Mrs. Alice Martin, Mrs. Elizabeth McDonald, Mrs. Minnie O'Connor, Miss Mabel City, Mrs. Helen Studley, Miss Mary J. Kelley and Mrs. Katharine T. Weaver. The following are the heads of the various sub-committees: Mrs. Helen Studley, properties; Mrs. Elizabeth McDonald, publicity; Miss Mabel City, music; Mrs. Katharine Weaver, costumes; Mrs. Alice Martin, reception.

ROONEY-SNOW

Miss Madeleine Helene Snow, of Brookline, was married yesterday to Edwin Richards Rooney at the Rectory of St. Cecilia's, Boston. Mr. Rooney is widely known in banking circles, being the president of the First National Bank of Boston. He is a member of Exchange Club, Boston Athletic Association and Winchester Country Club, and a former Winchester resident.

BOY SCOUT NOTES

The Union Meeting of the Winchester troops has again been postponed until April 21st.

There will be a swimming meet for all troops beginning at 2 p. m. Saturday, April 7th, at the Cambridge gym. All boys desiring to pass swimming tests are especially invited. After the swimming we will go to the Harvard athletic fields to see the practice.

Miss Barbara Wellington will take the part of "Aunt Jem" in the play for children, "Little Men," to be given April 13 and 14 at Jordan Hall, Boston, by the Lenox-Hand Dramatic Club of Greater Boston.

Choice Shrubs, Plants, etc.

Many a man who puffs, going up stairs can run up a hill without the slightest exertion.

The work of patching our streets is being carried on actively, and much work is being done in the district by the Highway Department. More patching than ever is needed this year and some of the work will be quite extensive.

For the 13th time in 20 years the Legislature yesterday shelved the plan for a new State Prison by combining all prison bills in a resolve for another investigating commission. Evidently no politicians in Massachusetts ever expect to go there, at any rate.

It is reported that the bids for the proposed Rumford School are much higher than the estimated figure, the sum of $40,000 being mentioned as the lowest estimate in advance of the anticipated cost. It is expected that this school was estimated in the vicinity of $20,000, $10,000 being the best price obtained to date, with prospects of a rise.

The STAR will be glad to hear from radio owners who are interested in these programs.

The past ten days have witnessed a record number of fires in this town. We may at least congratulate ourselves that we had only one fatality, the importance during the winter months, when travel for the fire apparatus was difficult and uncertain. That record speaks well for the care and caution of our citizens. That the streets are open should make no difference. Dry grass and leaves, with the accumulation and litter of the winter, make con-

We read that an automobile side-swiped another car in a nearby town this week and the driver was not aware of the accident, notwithstanding the fact that his wife was so frightened that she jumped from his car, and the force of the collision ripped the tire off one wheel. So, really he drove on for nearly a mile, when turning to speak to his wife, he found her missing. She, meanwhile, had been treated by a physician for injuries resulting from her jump. THE UNITED STATES OF EUROPE

ST. JOSEPH, Mich., April 5.—With six men convinced that the Communists "advocated" armed insurrection and civil war to overthrow the government of the United States and establish soviet rule and dictatorship of the proletariat, and five men and a woman convinced that the Communists merely "predicted" violence, the jury in the Foster syndicalism case returned to Judge Charles E. White this afternoon that it was hopelessly deadlocked.

Judge White's charge to the jury, which he delivered yesterday morning, is regarded as having had much influence on the jurors who voted for acquittal. The court point out that the charge against Foster and the Michigan criminal syndicalism law was that he had "voluntarily assembled with a group which advocated, regulated, by violence and said that the prosecution must establish beyond a reasonable doubt that the communist party at the time of the convention was a society formed to teach and advocate the doctrines of criminal syndicalism." He said it was not criminal syndicalism to express the belief or predict that the revolution could not be accomplished without force and violence.

The court also instructed the jury that Foster had the legal right to teach and advocate "the theories or doctrines of the class struggle, mass action, dictatorship of the proletariat, soviet system of government, abolition of the capitalist system, industrial unionism, internationalism, affiliation of the American trade union movement with the Red International-ale of Labor Unions, support of the soviet government of Russia, independent working class action, the communist social revolution and other industrial, economic and political changes mentioned in the document of the communist party, and his right to meet with others to make plans to bring about such changes, provided they did not teach or advocate the use of violence, sabotage, crime or other unlawful means of terrorism." —Herald.

FORTNIGHTLY NOTES

April 9. Come early to vote. Give the new administration the encouragement of a heavy vote. The Secretary's report will tell of the year's club work.

Miss Louise Mudgett will entertain with a miscellaneous program of readings. After the entertainment there will be a short informal reception to the newly elected officers and chairman. Tea will be served.

April 22 to 28 is National Garden Week. Mrs. Frank B. Goode of Lincoln, Sharon, State Chairman of conservation will speak at the Fort-nightly meeting of April 23.

The Club Luncheon will be held in the Town Hall on May 14 at 12:30. Robert First of Somerville will cater. Last year he furnished so excellent a luncheon for the Medford Woman's Club that they have recognized him this year. As the tickets are limited the first choice will be given to club members and to those on the waiting list. Guest tickets may be secured after April 30.

April 9, Monday, 1:30 P. M. The Fortnightly Annual Meeting. Tolls open; Miss Mudgett, reader. The series of lectures by Mrs. Cyrus Dullin culminated Thursday afternoon, most delightfully with a visit to Mr. Dullin's home and studio. The home is situated on a high hill, with a magnificent view on a clear day, you can see the ocean. The studio is a few yards distant from the home. Upon its walls and around the room are as reliefs and bronze and plaster casts of Mr. Dullin's work. As Mr. Dullin was at home, Mrs. Dullin turned her lecture, "The Making of a Bronze Statue," over to him.

Mr. Dullin is a man of an cordial manner simple and unassuming that it was hard to realize you were in the presence of a man of genius and world renown.

Mrs. Dullin presented him to her guests and also showed them his cap of student days of 30 years ago to which he is still devoted. She explained that he was never happy in a suit until the coat tail had been burned in the oven fire, and Mr. Dullin assured her he was happy now because he had burned them that morning.

He illustrated his talk by the work upon which he was then engaged; a war memorial, the concept on a figure of memory, the symbol, the tin left worn by our soldiers for the first time in the late war. It was the draped form of a woman about 8 feet in height, holding in her left arm, a tuft hat; her right hand meditatively touching her cheek, as with bent head, she gazed at the bar with its laurel wreath of victory—thinking sadly and quietly of the supreme sacrifice.

Mr. Dullin also explained the technicalities of his art, and the process of coating a statue into bronze. Mrs. Dullin is a charming hostess; she served tea in the best of style. Her guests left, regretting that their course of lecture with her was over.

OVERSEAS VETERAN TO SPEAK SUNDAY AT FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

Fed 17,000 Children During Famine at Alexandropol

Major Milton D. Brown, who is to speak at the First Congregational Church next Sunday morning, at 10:30, has a remarkable record of overseas service in four countries. He served in the French Ambulance Corps during the World War, was Acting Commissioner of the American Red Cross in Roumania in 1919 and 1920, and then entered Near East Relief service in Turkey and Russian Armenia. He went through the Turkish siege of Kars, and later saw the Bolshevik revolution in the Transcaucasian Republics. It was Mr. Brown who, as director of the Polish orphanages, carried 17,000 children through a famine at Alexandropol, keeping them on half rations until the relief train finally got through.

Mr. Brown came back to the United States last fall, and until he returns to the Near East is giving voluntary service in behalf of the emergency relief fund for the Christian refugees from Asia Minor and for the support of American Near East orphanages maintained in safety zones.

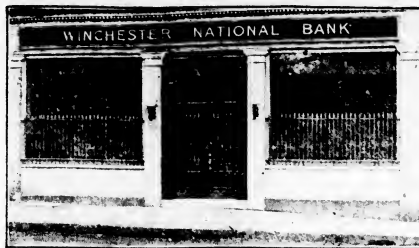

Mr. Brown recently received a personal letter of thanks from the Queen of Roumania, recalling his important relief work in the western part of that country, for which he had already been awarded the Queen's War Cross.

He is one of four returned Marsh-chusets workers who will receive the Near East Relief Medal for service, in the annual dinner at the State House, on Monday noon, April 9.

There will be a special collection for Near East Relief. The public is invited.

Misunderstanding Somewhere.

A young fellow who fancied himself an artist bestowed a great deal of time and care on the production of a picture representing a cow grazing in a field. He showed it to a great painter in order to ascertain his opinion of its merits. The latter, after looking at it for a minute or two handed him back his visitor's card. "The ship is not bad but you've made the sea much too green."

"Get used to him"

ANY book on etiquette tells a lot of ways to introduce one man to another, and business custom suggests several more. Down in Texas they say "Bill, get used to Henry"—and Bill does.

That just fits this introduction. We want you to "get used to" the man who heads up your electric service in this district.

The introduction is informal, too; it means a handshake if you're near the Edison Light office, a quick response on his part to your needs wherever you are, and an "on-the-jobness" at all times to make Edison Service a part of the town's growth and contentment, as well as a means to that growth.

Drop in on him—as he's likely to drop in on you. If you know any way he can stretch Edison Service to cover more ground for you, to make life more worth living, tell him. A recommendation from him is a recommendation from you—he is your representative in Edison Service; it's up to him to see that Edison Service serves you.

His name is

Base Steel Line and Rod. Resting his rod and line on the pier rails while he lit his pipe, an angler named Duffy of Totland Bay, Isle of Wight, was astonished to see it halted. Two days later a visitor recovered the rod and line from the sea about a quarter of a mile distant. A ten-pound bass, still very much alive was on the hook.

New England's Sunken River. Off the coasts of Maine and New Hampshire there is a large sunken river. The former, land of these regions extends for several hundred miles beneath the sea. The present river is the headwaters of a former stream whose channel is revealed by soundings.

Can Join Mica. A process for joining mica has been patented by a Calcutta man. It consists in bringing the parts into contact, applying a mica solution, and subjecting the whole to heat and to slight pressure. With this used as a flux mica may thus be joined to metal.

A Sad Dog. A drunkard's dog never frolics except when its owner is sober or asleep; yet it will mourn when he is dead.

SELECTMEN'S MEETING APRIL 2

The Board met at 7:30 p. m., all present.

The records of the meeting of March 26 were read and approved.

Inspector of Animals: Word was received from the Department of Conservation, Division of Animal Industry, stating that the nomination of Dr. William Buckley for the position of Inspector of Animals to serve for the ensuing year ending March 31, 1924 is hereby approved. The Board therefore appointed Dr. Buckley Inspector of Animals for the year ending March 31, 1924.

Town Hall Building (Boiler): An external inspection report was received from the Employers' Liability Assurance Corp., Limited, relating to the steam boiler No. 1C, 1 S, in the Town Hall Building. Same was ordered filed.

Bathing Beach: The Clerk was instructed to send to the Metropolitan District Commission a copy of the State passed by the Board of Selectmen, requesting the Board of Selectmen to ask the State Department to prohibit swimming and bathing at Sandy Beach or in any of the waters in the small basin above the street at land of the Commonwealth.

Railroad Avenue: The following notice was received by the Town Clerk and forwarded by her to the Board of Selectmen after duly filing it in her office.

Winchester, Mass.,
March 29, 1923.

To the Hon. Board of Selectmen of the Town of Winchester, Mass.

Gentlemen:

I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 28th inst. and in reply to inform you that the same has been forwarded to the proper authorities for their consideration.

Very respectfully,
John W. Bartlett,
Clerk.

Loans in Anticipation of Revenue: The Board approved a loan in anticipation of revenue, amounting to $200,000 placed with the First National Bank of Boston at 4 1/2 per cent discount, plus $15 premium. The interest on this loan is to be paid by the Town of Winchester, Mass., in four equal payments of $50,000 each, and are payable at the Old Colony Trust Company in Boston or the National Bank of Commerce of New York.

Fire Department (Call Firemen): A letter was received from the Chief of the Fire Department, submitting for the Board's approval the name of James L. Nowell, 14 Winchester place 2d, as a position as call man in the Fire Department. The Board approved the same and referred to the Committee on Fire Department for report.

Sealer of Weights and Measures: (Unclassified.) Mr. Maurice Dinnien, Sealer of Weights and Measures appeared before the Board to ask authority to purchase a Ford car. The appropriation for the Sealer of Weights and Measures' Account this year allows an expenditure of $329 for this purpose, the rest of the money for such a machine to come out of the Board of Health Account. This matter was referred to Mr. Main for his power to act, to take up with Mr. Carl F. Woods, Chairman of the Board of Health and Mr. Dinnien.

Insurance: Mr. Davidson appeared before the Board to state that the Park Department would be glad to insure their car along with the other cars of the Town provided there was any saving in expense, and provided also that the insurance was placed on the Park Department's car before some expired, which will be in one week. This matter was referred to Mr. Batesman who is to report in regard to the matter.

Accounts (Highway Account): The Clerk was instructed to serve the Finance Committee and ask them to submit a detailed account of what the Finance Committee of last year took out of the Highway Appropriation, as recommended by the Board. The Clerk was instructed to send a letter to Dr. J. Harper Blissdell, chairman of last year's Finance Committee and still a member of this year's committee.

Coal: The Board voted to confirm a verbal order given by members of the Board to the Superintendent of Streets to purchase one car of "screened lump" soft coal from George W. Blanchard & Co. Coal is to be bought at the rate of $7.00 per ton. A letter was received from George W. Blanchard & Co., relating to this matter.

Street Openings: A report was received from the Superintendent of Streets relating to the various streets which will probably be resurfaced or repaved this year. This report was in reply to the Water and Sewer Board's request as to what streets the Board of Selectmen intended to have constructed or repaved this year. No further action was taken in regard to this matter pending an inspection which will be made by the Board of all the streets in town.

Harrison Street: A letter was received from C. P. A. Siedhoff, calling attention of the Board to the condition of Harrison street, both as to its surface and drainage conditions. This matter was laid over one week.

Wildwood Street: A letter was received from Daniel D. Burns, 35 Wildwood street, complaining of the condition of Wildwood street in front of his property. In his letter he also complains about the stagnant condition of a brook at the rear of his property. This matter was laid over one week.

The meeting adjourned at 10:10 p. m.

FINE 59-FT CRUISING SCHOONER BUILDING FOR COMMODORE BEGG'S OF THE CORINTHIAN YACHT CLUB

A fine addition to the Corinthian Yacht Club fleet is building at Lawrence's from the designs of George Owen on the order of Commodore Sidney A. Beggs, who at the annual meeting this year was elected senior flag officer to replace Commodore Lawrence F. Perival. This 59-foot cruising schooner will be the flagship of the club's fleet and will surely attract considerable attention wherever she makes port. This coming summer, up to the present time Commodore Beggs has been a strictly racing man entering that sport in 1916 with the Owen designed 20-rater, Rawdwa. The cat rigged "R" Rawdwa II, champion of the class, followed in 1920, and when legislation ruled this fast racer out of competition his present 20-rater Rawdwa III was brought out in 1921. Although from her designs the new schooner appears much like the racing craft, she is being built for offshore work and cruising along the coast. With her moderate rig and everything inboard, the schooner should make a long ocean race should make a good showing.

She is to be 59 feet overall, about 16 feet waterline, 14 feet 6 inches beam and 7 feet 3 inches draft. For auxiliary power a four-cylinder G-H Stirling engine, developing 15-horsepower at 500 revolutions will be installed. The schooner in three lower sails will spread 1850 square feet of canvas.

At least for local waters this schooner will be the first designed to the "ketch-rig" rule, all aboard should make the schooner very easy to handle, for, with the exception of the fore-cast, each sail has only one halyard and all including the jib, will be given lazyjacks.

She will have a teakwood deck, deck-houses, and companionways in mahogany. Ratsey bulk and hollow spars. Below decks the main cabin and stateroom will be shut off from the remainder of the yacht by watertight and soundproof bulkheads. The finish below will be in mahogany with tinted paneling.

The outboard watery leads to a steering gear on port side, forward of which is the main cabin with berths for four, clothes closet, china cabinet and sideboard. The whole width of the stern, across a large double stateroom for the owner. This contains a double berth on the starboard side, a single berth on the port side, with drawers underneath, and a dresser. A bulkhead separates the main cabin from the galley and engine room. A bulkhead forward is a good-sized fore-cabin for the crew. Cabins, engine room, fore-cabin and deck will be lighted by electricity. Thus, in convenient as possible and easy to handle.

GOT KNOWLEDGE FROM STARS

Ancient Egyptians Said to Have Been Able to Foretell Coming Events With Accuracy.

The ancient Egyptians were great astronomers and astrologers. Their priests knew how to calculate solar and lunar eclipses, and their religion was founded on astronomy. They had a theory of belief in a mysterious relation between the spirits of the stars and human souls and they thought that the destiny of mortals was regulated by the motion of the heavenly bodies. From the conjunction of planets at the hour of birth, they prophesied what would be the temperament of a child. The horoscope also foretold the kind of life he would live and what manner of death he would die. Of these astrologers, Diogenes, who wrote during the century preceding Christ, said: "They frequently foretell with the greatest accuracy what is about to happen to mankind; show the failure or abundance of crops and the epidemic diseases about to befall men and cities. Earthquake, deluges, risings of comets and all those phenomena, the knowledge of which appears impossible to common apprehensions, they foretell by means of their long continued observation."

Tammany Hall of New York.

The Tammany society of New York was incorporated soon after the Revolutionary war. Its meetings took place in Tammany hall, so often distinguished in the political history of the country. Many of the soldiers and sages of the republic became members of the society. For it was based upon the broadest republican principles. It was in favor of government by the people, of freedom of speech and religion and of the liberty of the press originally established for benevolent purposes, it became political as soon as an aristocratic element was suspected to be growing strong, favorable to a standing army and extensive navy in time of peace, to heavy taxes and to alien and sedition laws, such as were in vogue in the mind of the elder Adams, when a large party desired to empower the president so that he could expel suspected foreigners from the soil of the United States, as the Federal Navy.

WILLIAM J. SHAUGHNESSY

William J. Shaughnessy, aged 29 years, of Hemingway street, a World War veteran, passed away Sunday morning at 11 o'clock in the Hospital due to an injury received while serving with the United States Army in France with the 32nd Engineers in the Verdun drive of November 3, 1919, where he received the injury that caused his death.

He was well known here where he was born and educated, being a native of Winchester High School. He worked at the patent leather business at Haley's Patent Leather shop and at the A. McLatchey Patent Leather Company on Cross street.

Mr. Shaughnessy was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Shaughnessy, formerly of 22 Lockwood street, and is survived by three brothers, John and Fred of Woburn and Richard of New York.

A solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated at St. Charles' Church, Woburn on Thursday and a military funeral was given the dead war veteran by Woburn Post of the American Legion assisted by Winchester Post, of which he was a member. The flag on the coffin was at half staff during the funeral.

"HONEYMOON FLATS"

Rehearsals are progressing most favorably for the annual play which will be presented on Thursday evening, April 19th, by the C. D. of A. Mrs. Frances T. Conlon is directing the play this year and all signs point to a most creditable performance. The play this year is a most entertaining comedy, "Honey Moon Flats," in which many amusing situations are very ably handled by the experienced cast. There will be dancing after the show with Miss Mabel Coby in charge of the orchestra arrangements.

Between the first and second acts Messrs. Bernard Sherry and Frank McGowan of Woburn will present their famous sketch, "Mr. Gallagher and Mr. Shean," which is sure to create much merriment. There will be a dancing specialty between these two acts also.

The following young ladies will comprise the cast of the comedy: Roscoe Monford, one of the Honey Moon Flats; Miss Murphy, the janitor; Miss Mary Jane Kelly; Harry Brown, 1st tenant; Miss Margaret Cassidy; John Gibson, an Insurance Agent; Miss Edith Keen; Tom Carson, reporter on Boston American; Miss Edith Keen; Mr. Monford, the landlord's wife; Miss Henry Hays; Mrs. Murphy, the janitor's wife; Miss Molly McGuire; Rosie Murphy, her little girl; Miss Margaret McCarron; Mrs. Brown, second tenant; Miss Elizabeth Noonan; Mrs. Gray, third tenant; Miss Miss Mollie Poland; Mrs. Jones, fourth tenant; Miss Mary McCarron; Mrs. Smith, fifth tenant; Miss Mary Martin; Helen Danborn, Mrs. Gray's sister; Miss Elizabeth Kelly.

A. LINCOLN BOWMAN

Mr. A. Lincoln Bowman of 90 Church street died at his home on Friday morning last of pneumonia after a short illness dating from the previous Sunday. He was 55 years of age.

Mr. Bowman had made his home in Winchester for about ten years. He was district sales manager for the American Oil Company, was a native of Boston and a graduate of the English High School, Class of '87, the son of John A. and Sarah (Clapp) Bowman. He married Miss Lucy Denison, who survives him, together with three daughters, Mrs. Ruth Parsons, Miss Doris and Miss Mariou Bowman, all of this town. The younger daughters are widely known to Winchester young people through their connection with the supervision of the playground on Manchester Field.

The funeral services were held at the residence on Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock and were conducted by Rev. George Hale Reed, pastor of the Unitarian Church. The interment was in Wildwood cemetery.

MRS. KATE KELLEY

Mrs. Kate Kelley of 31 Swanton street, who was taken to St. Elizabeth's Hospital last week, following a fall at her home, died at that institution on Monday morning, April 9th, as a result of her accident. She was 70 years of age and had been a resident of this town for over 40 years. She was the widow of the late William Kelley, who died six years ago and was well known as an employee on the town highway and sewer departments.

She is survived by one daughter, Sister Mary William of Mt. St. Joseph Academy, Brighton, and one brother, Timothy Sheehan of Windsor Locks, Conn.

Solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated at St. Mary's church on Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock. The burial was in Holy Cross cemetery.

Mr. Arthur Warren, son of Mr. Frank L. Drummond of the Winchester Chambers, is quite ill at his home.

MENCHIN-EDWARDS

Miss Melvina Edwards, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Edwards of Westchester Heights, and Mr. Oza Frank Menchin of Waltham street, Woburn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Menchin, were married on Saturday evening at six o'clock at the home of the bride's parents by Rev. Howard Chidley, pastor of the First Congregational Church.

The ceremony was attended by a large gathering of friends of the young couple. Most attractive decorations of cut flowers and greenery made a pleasing and fitting background for the wedding, and the couple were attended by Mr. Louis Menchin of Woburn, uncle of the groom, best man, and the bride's sister, Miss Ruth Menchin, sister of the groom, who were bridesmaids. Miss Grace Edwards, sister of the bride, was flower girl, and Master William H. Edwards, Jr., her brother, was ring bearer. The bride was given in marriage by her father, Mrs. Louis Menchin of Woburn played the wedding march.

A reception followed the ceremony, attended by about 100 friends from all surrounding places. Many handsome and useful gifts were received.

Following a wedding trip to New York, the couple will make their home at 179 Lexington street, Woburn, where they will be at home to their friends after May first. The groom is a well-known market gardener of Woburn and Mrs. Menchin has until recently been a member of the senior class at the High School.

BRUSH FIRES

Brush fires were in evidence this week. Saturday afternoon the department was sent to extinguish burning grass in Rangeley and 515 for an alarm from box 572 for fire on Ridge street on the estate of W. E. Thompson. Wednesday when burning grass at the rear of the Congregational church assumed alarm called upon to send some men to the scene, and a few minutes later another grass fire on Euclid avenue required attention. The alarm from box 28 at 9:25 Wednesday night was for the dump on the shore road at Black Ball Pond.

FORTNIGHTLY NOTES

Miss Louise Mudgett progressed her business in a miscellaneous program of readings which maintained a pleasing balance between humor and pathos.

The selections dealt with those subjects nearest a woman's heart—love, marriage, home; and though not didactic they could not fail to strengthen one kindly feelings to those who walk the common way with us. The characters in her impersonations were so well portrayed that each one had a distinct individuality compelling undivided interest on the part of the audience.

The program opened with the play by Frank Crane entitled "The Iron Year" which has had a prolonged run in New York. "She Made Him Over" was given as an encore. This was followed by a short story of Sophie Kerr's "Julietta Tires of a Husband" which came a laughable monologue "The Salt Cellar" arranged by Miss Mudgett and "Sunset" it is safe to say that her concluding verse "Try Smiling" left her audience in a smiling frame of mind.

After the election of officers, the retiring president, Mrs. Harriet C. Eldridge was presented with an artistic program by the Club in appreciation of her faithful service. She responded gracefully and then presented the gavel to the newly elected president, Mrs. Lillian T. Mason who expressed her wishes for the future good of the Fortnightly.

Following this there was a reception to the new officers and a social hour.

A Ford, owned by John Kline of Cambridge was reported stolen from the Knights of Columbus house Wednesday night, the police recovering it on Cambridge street where it had been abandoned.

THE FORTNIGHTLY

The Secretary's Report.

The Fortnightly has completed another successful year. The club is one of the oldest in the state having passed its 41st birthday last December. The membership committee reports growing interest in the club as manifested by a full membership of 600 and a present waiting list of 50.

The usual 14 meetings have been held with an average attendance of 341. This is the largest average we have ever had, and indicates the interest members have shown, especially considering the unusual winter, which we have been obliged to endure. This severe weather compelled the only change in the club program as scheduled, but was only in the date, not the entertainment. On January 28, about 22 brave, faithful and warm members assembled in our always chilly Town Hall, and as there was not a quorum present, the meeting was postponed to January 29th when Loring Underwood described "Old New England Gardens" beautifully illustrated by slides taken by the direct color process.

The program year commenced at the annual meeting, when Prof. Edward H. Briggs gave an instructive and optimistic lecture on the subject "For what do we live?"

At the next meeting, the entertainment was a fashion show, when attractive clothes for morning, afternoon and evening were for different ages were shown on living models.

On March 5th, Mr. Edwin M. Whitney gave his interpretation of the story "The Walked Jimmy," entertainingly representing a dozen characters in a single scene.

The Harvard quartet performed the program for the first meeting of the fall, and consisted of groups of songs from different periods, with a few solos.

President's Day, Nov. 12th, we had the pleasure of entertaining Mrs. Grace Morrison Pool, State Federation president, our district director, Mrs. Ferguson, and guests from neighboring clubs. Prof. O. W. Warmington gave a stimulating lecture on "Problems in Puritanism," and Miss Dorothy Peterson, a young Irish soprano, gave the musical part of the program. A reception and tea followed.

The last meeting in November was a club talent program, when the musical program furnished all the musical part of the program, consisting of piano solos, vocal solos, and a trio of piano, violin and cello, and the dramatic committee furnished the scenes in costume.

December 11th, Mr. Corveth Wells, an English engineer, gave an illustrated lecture, "Six Years in the Jungle." He told of his adventures, manners, people, animals, and vegetation of the Malay peninsula, and at the conclusion of the lecture, he displayed beautiful silk Malay garments of five young people.

REPLY TO DR. DENNETT BY DR. RALPH A. MANNING

I appreciate your kindness in arranging for me to demonstrate for your benefit at the Waddeigh School of Technology, but I fear that you did not understand my offer. I do not want to demonstrate to fair minded persons, not to those that judge without knowing.

However I will demonstrate even to you at my office in Boston at 473 Beacon street, whenever you are to call and make an appointment for same.

My practice in electronic medicine and osteopathy is so extensive that I do not have the time to spend answering your letter, but I will say that this will end the controversy in the Star.

For the benefit of you and others who would like to see my work of curing patients, I will say that as long as I live the electronic method and osteopathy will be used in Winchester. I am prepared at any time to present if necessary, to those who have received benefit by my treatment which is proof enough to treat different countries, not to those of the persecution of the electronic method is jealousy.

Ralph A. Manning.

CHANNING POLLOCK TO SPEAK HERE

Author of "The Fool" at Congregational Church Sunday at 8 o'clock

Mr. Channing Pollock, author of "The Fool," will be in town to speak in the First Congregational Church next Sunday afternoon at 8 o'clock. "The Fool" had a phenomenal run of over two hundred performances in New York and has already been presented more than 60 times in Boston. It is now being played in seven different countries to audiences of 15,000 people daily.

Mr. Pollock comes from England, and expected to return as soon as the war was launched in this country, but is now establishing a dollar theatre in New York.

Mr. Pollock is as interesting a speaker as his play is a drama. Winchester is fortunate to have secured him. All who are interested in his play and who wish to see the tone of the theatre improved will want to hear his interesting and experiences to tell about trying to get a decent play on the boards. Church people who wish to encourage the right kind of drama will find food for thought in his address.

It is expected that the Church will be full. The public is invited to hear him.

EDWARD HYDE RICE

After a successful life devoted to the public welfare, usefulness and most kind in the home, faithful to the last degree in business, Mr. Edward H. Rice passed away Sunday last, April 8th after a protracted illness.

Mr. Rice was born in Boston, July 28, 1849. He shortly after removed to East Cambridge, coming to Winchester about 1865, residing first on Mr. Vernon street just above the Wadleigh School.

He subsequently removed to the present location 20 Eaton street and except for a short period he has resided in Winchester continually.

In business he had been connected with the Winchester Mfg. Company throughout his business life being survived by only two who have continuously been with the same house quite unique in the history of any business in New England.

Mr. Rice was one of the oldest members of the Boston Y. M. C. A., joining before the Civil War. In Winchester he was a life member of the William Parkman Lodge. When the Village Improvement Association and the Y. M. C. A. were in existence, Mr. Rice always took an active interest, serving in various capacities.

In the Congregational Church, Mr. Rice was not only among the oldest of the members, but served for years as clerk of the Church and later as treasurer of the Sabatiah School.

On the Republican Town Committee on one occasion he was treasurer and served on various committees.

He was descended from the Rev. Deacon Rice on his father's side and General French on his mother's side, both prominent early settlers in the Massachusetts Colony.

He is survived by Mrs. Hattie T. Rice; his daughter, Mrs. Laura Tolman Kilgore; his son, Calvin Winsor Rice; his brother, Mr. Marshall Rice, and his grandson named for him, Edward Hyde Rice.

MRS. FRANK M. NOWELL

Mrs. Margaret E. Nowell, wife of Mr. Frank M. Nowell of 627 Main street, long a resident of this town, died at the Worcester Hospital on Wednesday after a short illness.

A complication of diseases caused her death, which was not unexpected. Mrs. Nowell was 63 years of age and was a native of Roxbury, the daughter of John and Annie (McKeon) Conner. She had made her home in Winchester for 38 years, being widely known to a host of friends here.

She was a member of the American Legion Auxiliary, the S. of V. Auxiliary, Winchester Branch of the N. W. C. W., and the Branch of the M. W. C.

Besides her husband she is survived by three daughters and four sons—Mrs. Harry B. Nowell, Mrs. Carl M. Fisher, Mrs. Henry E. Smith, John R. Nowell, George R. Nowell, William A. Nowell and J. LeRoy Nowell, all of this town. She leaves twelve grandchildren.

The funeral services are to be held this Friday morning at 9 o'clock at St. Mary's Church, and the burial will be in Wildwood cemetery.

COME TO THE MOVIES

A real moving picture show is to be given in the Town Hall next Friday, April 20th by the Florence Crittenton League.

These pictures have been selected with great care, and both programs are equal to any presented by Boston's best theatres. One film called "Na-nook of the North," 6000 ft. long, a full of Eskimo life with its thrilling adventures. "One Terrible Day," "Aesop's Fables" and the Current Events of the world.

Send your children in the afternoon at 2:30 for a real treat and come yourself bringing your friends to the evening show at 8 o'clock.

Tickets on sale at Star Office, Mrs. Rufus Clark, 5 Central street, tel. Win. 241-M; Mrs. J. H. Blaisdell, Fenwick road, tel. Win. 950, or at the door on day of the show.

BAD ACCIDENT

A man supposed to be H. L. Ferguson of Melrose is dying at the Winchester Hospital with a crushed skull as the result of being struck by an auto truck near the corner of Washington and Forest street shortly before eight o'clock this morning.

Identification was made through a paper in the victim's pocket and it is assumed that this is his name. He was riding a bicycle at the time of the accident. He was a large, middle-aged man, was owned and driven by Timothy Day of Woburn.

President Arthur T. Downer of the Winchester Landladies has a new Stanley sedan, one of the finest cars in town.

WINCHESTER SALES

A. Miles Holbrook reports the sale of William L. Hall's property situated corner of Wedgemere avenue and Calumet road, to Leonard H. Spaulding, formerly of Winchester. The property consists of a thoroughly modern house of ten rooms and three baths and two car garage and about 17,967 sq. ft. of land. Both buildings are constructed of hollow tile with stucco exterior and potted-tile roofs, and are equipped with almost every modern convenience.

Mr. Holbrook has also sold for Mr. George B. Whitehouse of Winchester, the new colonial style house recently erected by him at the corner of Newwood street and Cottage avenue. The house contains seven rooms and the lot contains about 105 Cambridge street. The purchaser is Crawford Goldwater of Brookline and formerly of Winchester, who will occupy about June 1.

Mr. Holbrook has also sold for Norman V. and Hattie E. Osborne of Winchester, Massachusetts, their stucco exterior house, double garage and about 5453 sq. ft. of land, situated at the corner of Washington street and Cottage avenue. The purchaser is Mr. Carl E. Webster, also of Winchester, who is with the Stone & Webster Company of Boston.

Mr. Holbrook has also sold for George B. Whitehouse a lot of land on Cottage avenue, comprising about 8952 sq. ft. of land. The purchaser is William H. Jenks of Cambridge and formerly of Winchester.

Mr. Holbrook has rented for Mrs. Bertha L. Bradford of Winchester, the premises of 105 Cambridge street to Edward H. Merrill of Salem, who is already occupying the property.

Rented for Mrs. Esther R. McCarthy of Winchester, a lot of land on Cottage avenue, comprising about 8952 sq. ft. of land, and garage situated at 178 Cambridge street to Howard C. Proctor, formerly of Winchester, who is already occupying the premises.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S SUNDAY

Sunday morning at the First Congregational Church will be Young People's Day. The Senior Department of the Sunday School will attend in a body. Rev. Mr. Chidley will preach a special sermon for young people on "Generations of Character." All young people of High School age are invited to this service.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Ripley return from Florence Villa, Florida, where they have been spending the winter, today.

Next Thursday, April 19th, being a holiday, correspondents to the STAR are requested to send all matter to this office as early in the week as possible.

CALUMET MIXED BOWLING TOURNAMENT

Closing next Monday evening, the final games in the Calumet mixed bowling tournament are being fought by the leaders in the "bread winners." On Monday evening the three leaders all took a hand in the matches. Team 7 dropped two points to 10, 5 won all three from 12 and 4 took three from 13. None of the scores were particularly close. Mrs. Pittman rolled a record match for the ladies, making a total of 205 with 107 for her best single. Mrs. Dickson rolled 192 with 88, Miss Parsley 182 with 95, Mrs. Walker 172 with 90, Mrs. Tattle 171 with 87, Mrs. Johnson 86, Mrs. Adriance 88, Mrs. Hayward 83 and Mrs. Doying 82. Mrs. Snow, with 210 on 115, led the gentlemen. Others who rolled up were Mr. Kenerson 208 with 115, Jacobs 203 with 105, Murray 116, Parsley 105, Doying 101 and Dickson 101.

This scores:

WINCHESTER MEETS STONE-HAM TOMORROW

Winchester High's baseball nine meets the Stoneham High team tomorrow afternoon on Manchester Field in the first scheduled game of the season. The Stoneham outfit is reported to be stronger than last year and it looks as if the local boys will have a hard time to show speed to win. Coach Bond has been drilling the boys very thoroughly during the last week and the team really looks good for such an early start of the season.

A practice game was played with Rindge Tech on Manchester Field, last Tuesday afternoon, and Winchester came out on the light end of a 6 to 3 score. The game lasted only seven innings and Winchester was off its form and teamwork. Francis Tansy, was in the box and certainly proved beyond doubt that he will make good there during the season. He allowed Rindge two hits and made as many on his own hook. The support which he was given was quite poor, but the team had not yet had a chance to get going. Captain Kendrick covered third well and Melley did his bit behind the bat.

The game gave Coach Bond an opportunity to find the weak spots and at the same time he was able to finally decide who would constitute his first team in tomorrow's game. The lineup will probably be: Fitzgerald 1st, O'Donnell 2nd, McCarron 3rd, Kendrick 4th, Kelly, French, Prime, Kennerly, Melley and Tansy and Melley for the battery.

This lineup is fairly strong excepting the outfielders, all of whom are good players, but the outfield trail is in. It is expected that these men will develop before the close of the season and if they do Winchester will have a team comparable with the best in the league.

Richard Lawler of Washington street, Tufts 22, high on the assembly at Winchester High on last Monday. He extended an invitation to all those interested to attend the English Night at Tufts on Friday the 12th. He spoke further of the advantages and growth of Tufts and outlined briefly what is being done by the college to increase these.

SCOUT NOTES

Scout Executive A. E. Butters will take all scouts on a hike leaving Scout Headquarters next Saturday April 14 at 10 a. m. Boys wishing to mass their scout class uniforms and fire making should take at least one quarter pound of meat—not bacon, or sausages—and two potatoes.

In the second swimming meet of the year, Troop One was the winner with a total of 83.56. Troop Four represented by Raymond Bartlett was second with 40 points and Troop Three had 10.16 points, thanks to John Clark the youngest of the senior swimmers.

The features were the speed swimming of William Martin, the diving of Raymond Bartlett and the all around work of Holbrook, Lowell, John, Lars and Henry Knox who resulted in points for their respective troops.

Inwood Brown, Stanley Roberts and Edward Woodbury showed up well for the junior swimmers.

Assistant Scout Master, James Fitch, swam the length of the tank in 10.16 seconds.

The point winners were as follows:

Team	Points
William Martin	48
Raymond Bartlett	4
Holbrook Lowell	21.46
John Clark	10.16
Henry Knox	4.46
Stanley Roberts	2.36
Edward Woodbury	1

In the first ball game of the season Troop One beat Troop Four, 8-6. Francis Montague has been elected captain of Troop One team and has called for practice Sunday morning.

Richard Dowd and Holbrook Lowell please take notice.

HIGH SCHOOL GYM MEET

The training of the gymnasium classes at the High School is becoming more and more intense as the date of the annual exhibition draws near. The affair will comprise exhibitions of the work done by both the girls and boys gym classes with a few special features to be added by those students who are more gymnastically inclined than the others.

The date of the exhibition has been set for May 4th, at the Town Hall and a tentative program has been arranged as follows:

FRIDAY NIGHTS WHIST

At a well attended whist party last Friday evening at the home of Mrs. William E. MacDonald on Hill street the following were the prize winners: Mrs. John Hanlon, Mrs. George Potter, Mrs. Ames Lynch, Mrs. Harry Brown, Mrs. Ethel Horn, Mrs. Joseph Moffett, Mrs. Nellie Sullivan, Mrs. Benjamin Cullen, Mrs. Arthur McIsaac, Mrs. O'Melia, Mrs. Edward Dineen, Miss Josephine Brine, Mrs. Margaret Quownin, Patrick Lynch, Mrs. Joseph O'Connor, Mrs. B. Murray, Miss Margaret Murray won the consolation prize.

The ladies who assisted were: Mrs. Alice Martin, Mrs. Mary Mawn, Mrs. Mary Smith and Mrs. Anna Poland.

Miss Mary Kelley of this town has been presented with a solid gold watch for services rendered at the St. Joseph's cantata, which was recently held at Montvale under the auspices of the Tabernacle Society by Rev. Fr. Finnich, pastor of St. Joseph's church.

WATCH YOUR TELEPHONE CALLS

As the time approaches for placing in service the first machine switching central office in Greater Boston, there is an increasing necessity for all subscribers to give numbers to the operators exactly as listed in the Boston telephone directory.

For this reason, the zeros which are prefixed to all numbers below 1000 should be given as a part of the telephone number called.

For example, if the number of a Winchester subscriber is listed in the directory as 0068-W, the four figures should be used, the two zeros being pronounced, "oh six."

When a subscriber makes a call for this number after Monday, and fails to use these prefixed zeros, the operator taking the call will say to the subscriber, "Winchester 08-W has been changed to Winchester 0068-W."

The prefixed zeros have been printed in the telephone directory for about two years as one of the necessary steps in connection with the introduction of machine switching. The apparatus being so designed that it will operate properly only with a four digit number.

SUCCESSFUL JUNIOR PROM
AT HIGH SCHOOL

One of the most successful proms ever given at the Winchester High School was held in the Assembly Hall on last Saturday night. There were about seventy-five couples in attendance. Details had been thoroughly arranged by the separate committees under the direction of Miss Parker, and every part of the evening's entertainment was well provided for.

The hall was attractively decorated in flowers and ribbons and the confetti which fell from the large lanterns during the seventh dance gave the affair a most cosmopolitan atmosphere. Refreshments were handled more systematically than in former years and all were provided in a very short time. The music was furnished by Boone's Orchestra.

On the reception committee were: Mr. and Mrs. John H. Fawcett, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Farnham, Mr. and Mrs. Maddocks, Mrs. Chamberlain, Miss Palmer, Miss Allison and Miss Parker. Miss Parker and the committees in her charge deserve many thanks and much praise for the success of the prom.

BUILDING PERMITS

Work was commenced this week on the construction of the tennis courts on the Palmer playground.

MYSTIC LEAGUE READY TO START

The Mystic Valley Twilight Baseball League was formerly organized Sunday at a meeting in Knights of Columbus Hall, Stoneham, when by-laws were adopted and the following officers chosen: President, Frank "Chick" Meehan of Stoneham, a former star catcher for Woburn High; vice-president, George Le Duc, Winchester; secretary, Thomas Degan, Woburn; treasurer, Leo Walsh, Wakefield.

The teams thus far lined up for the new circuit are: Stoneham, Wakefield and Woburn K. of C.; Winchester Legion and Merced Town. It is expected that Arlington K. of C. will be the sixth team, that to be determined definitely at the next meeting, Sunday afternoon at Stoneham.

In addition to the above-named officers, there will be a man, not a player, from each city or town on the board of directors.

The league schedule will get under way about May 15, and there will be two games each week for three weeks. There is a possibility of the chambers of commerce of the league cities and towns joining to offer a championship trophy.

WINCHESTER SAVINGS BANK

The Annual Meeting of Corporators of the Winchester Savings Bank will be held in the banking rooms, Wednesday, April 25, 1923 at 7:45 o'clock p. m., to elect Trustees and Officers and to transact such other business as may legally come before the meeting.

H. Wadsworth Light, Clerk, April 13, 1923.

At a party given last Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur King of Main street, the engagement of Miss Beatrice M. King of this town and Mr. Joseph Crowe of Malden, was announced. Miss King, a popular operator at the Winchester Telephone Exchange, is the daughter of Mr. Moses King of 25 Salem street. Mr. Crowe is manager of the Malden Auditorium, a member of Malden Lodge of Elks, Malden Council, K. of C. and Malden Post, A. L. The engagement was attended by a large number of young women friends of Miss King.

were so few clothes.

My advice is, to sell your hammer and buy a horn.

A wordy quarrel between two women is not unlike a dog fight in a flower garden. The only settlement is the garden.

Fretting is like a rocking chair; you can do a great deal of agitating without getting anywhere.

"GET IT WHILE THE GETTING'S GOOD"

Conclusion next week

Yesterday afternoon a Ford coupe driven by Mrs. Kenneth Mansfield of 500 Washington street, when turning from Mt. Vernon street into Converse place hit Paul Wellburn of 9 Ridgefield road, who was riding his bicycle.
He was thrown to the street and his wheel smashed. He did not appear to be seriously injured at the time, but was treated by a physician and taken to his home in the police auto.

LADIES NIGHT AT THE K. OF C.

The Winchester K. of C. will entertain the young ladies and gentlemen who assisted in making their minstrel show a huge success, on Wednesday evening, April 18th, at the K. of C. Hall, Winchester. The committee in charge of the affair have worked very hard, and a good time will be assured to everyone. The night before the holiday was chosen by the committee as the best night. There will be general dancing, and Oh! Boy! the cats will be plentiful. A very competent caterer has been secured for the occasion. Mr. Crossen the director of the show will be on hand with some high class vaudeville entertainers. The committee in charge are: Terry Cullen, Chairman, Buck Haley, Secretary, James Boyle, Treasurer, and Hall man, Thomas Farrell, dancing and refreshments.

Anyone who did not take part in the show will be admitted to the dance and feed for a small sum. All those in the east will be admitted by ticket received through the mail. Don't forget to eat heavy.

And it Will Be Final.

"The automobile driver who depends on his horn to clear the track for him," says the old citizen of Little Lot, "one of these days will have a short argument with a railway train at a grade crossing."—Youth's Companion.

Beggars Overrun New York.

New York city is known as a beggar's paradise and it is estimated that between two and three thousand professional mendicants make that city their home. About 10 per cent are said to be women.

WINCHESTER, MASS.

A view of one aisle in our coal storage space at L Street Station, South Boston where 100,000 tons of coal may be piled in reserve. The new Weymouth station will have space for 300,000 tons. The combined capacity at both stations would fill a freight train of 10,000 cars—a train 75 miles long. It costs as much to handle coal as it does to handle good coal, so Boston's new King Coal can't pay.

The Friendly Glow

Making the King earn his pay

WHEREVER an electric light burns, or a heater glows in a garage or the bathroom, wherever a motor is humming or a fan spinning—there Old King Coal is working for you.

He's a touchy old soul. He does magnificent work, but he has to be handled scientifically to earn his pay. And it is our duty to you to make him work, and make him earn it.

ON December 21, 1922, Boston Edison made 1,700 tons of coal supply you with more electricity than you had ever used before in one day. That is an average of 22 pounds of coal for every Boston Edison customer.

If you had bought 22 pounds of coal that day, and tried to make it furnish your electricity for the day, Old King Coal would have balked.

If your factory, or your office building, had to make electricity out of no more coal than we used to supply light and heat and power for that building, waste would eat up the coal before all the electricity had been produced.

For it is extravagantly wasteful if not almost impossible to use coal in small quantities to make electricity. The more coal you can use under scientific control, the more you can make its electricity do for every cent paid for coal.

Boston Edison buys only the pick of the mines; always has thousands of tons in reserve; handles it by machinery alone from the moment it leaves the mines, unloads it at eight tons a minute, feeds it to the boilers on moving belts and automatic grates (the company need not own a shovel), and burns it almost to the last grain. We study Old King Coal; we take the best of him, and get more out of him for you each year. You rarely see smoke from our chimneys at L Street Station—because the energy in that coal is not allowed to go up in smoke.

OLD King Coal works best on a man's-size job, like making Greater Boston greater. That's why there is storage space at the new station at Weymouth for 300,000 tons.

While Greater Boston continues to grow, and the two million of us use more and more electricity to make it grow, we'll keep Old King Coal at work. And we'll continue to make him, earn his pay.

MRS. EDWARD FLEMING CONDUCTS WHIST

The home of Mrs. Edward Fleming on Pond street was the scene, on Wednesday afternoon, of one of the past card parties of the year when Mrs. Fleming conducted a Whist in aid of the Mary Knoll Mission. It is a custom with Mrs. Fleming to open her home once every year in aid of the good cause and the substantial proceeds thus raised are forwarded to the good Sisters who have charge of this beautiful Mission at Ossining, N. Y.

The party this year surpassed any before attempted by Mrs. Fleming and in addition to the very evident financial success of the affair, such a general air of sociability prevailed as to make all present look forward eagerly to next year's effort for this good cause.

Mrs. Margaret Donovan was the fortunate winner of the beautiful Madeira guest towels which were donated by Mrs. M. J. Meagher of Woburn and Mrs. John Murray of Salem street, Winchester, took the first prize whist, a very lovely copy of "The Good Shepherd".

The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Alice Martin, Mrs. F. A. Mide, Miss Alice (Pearl) Jones, Mary Murphy, Mrs. Margaret O'Brien of Medford and Mrs. Fitzpatrick of Somerville.

FRANKLIN COLLIER AS ENTERTAINER

The League of Women Voters is fortunate in having Mr. Franklin Collier as its guest of honor at its annual "Guest Night" this evening. Mr. Collier, who is a resident of Boston, has brought with him to the League a very large number of his "sunny sayings". They add a cheery note to the breakfast even on the darkest of days—when the night has been short and the coffee has "perked" too long. From the delightful drollery of his column, with its unexpected bursts of thought and its shafts of dry wit, we can guess what great pleasure the League members and their guests will find in him as a speaker.

The meeting is this evening at eight o'clock at the home of Mrs. C. A. Batchelder, 387 Main street.

SUCCESSFUL WHIST

The largest whist party ever held in the K. of C. home on Vine street was that of Wednesday evening when the operators at the Winchester Telephone Exchange gave their whist and cake sale. A substantial sum was realized for welfare work at the exchange from the proceeds of the evening. There were 94 tables of whist and 75 prizes were awarded at the close of the evening. The first prize, a tea set, going to Mrs. Mary Welsh of Woburn; second, a two dollar and a half gold piece to Miss Catherine T. Sullivan; third, a two dollar and a half gold piece to Mr. D. F. Dinneen, and the fourth prize a mirror, being won by Mrs. Josephine Smith. The other prizes were awarded in order to the various winners and were equally attractive.

"Winkles and Winkles."

"By the time a woman has reached middle age she has picked up a good many 'winkles,'" says an exchange. Among them being some which enable her to hide the others.

Uncle Eben's Idea of Friendship. "Friendship," said Uncle Eben, "depends on memory. A good friend remembers you merits and forgets your faults."—Washington Evening Star.

SELECTMEN'S MEETING, APRIL 9

The Board met at 7:30 p. m., all present. The records of the meeting of April 2, 1923 were read and approved.

Fire Department (Call Men): After report by the Fire Committee and at the request of the Chief of the Fire Department the Board voted to approve the name of James L. Nowell, 14 Winchester place, for a position as call man in the Fire Department.

Garden Plots: As has been the custom for a number of years, the Board of allotting certain parts of public lots to citizens of the Town for garden purposes was left to the Superintendent of Streets with authority to authorize the Superintendent of Streets to buy one and a half acre to exceed in price, $1935 and to have a wood hydraulic lift and a wheel pump body.

Highway Dept. (Lower to act): The Board voted to authorize the Superintendent of Streets to buy one and a half acre to exceed in price, $1935 and to have a wood hydraulic lift and a wheel pump body.

Beach: A letter was received from the Metropolitan District Commission acknowledging the Board's letter enclosing a copy of a vote passed by the Town relating to bathing at Sandy Beach and vicinity. The letter states that this matter will be left before the Commission at the earliest opportunity.

Accounts: A letter was received from Dr. J. Harper Blandish, stating that there are no figures available showing in detail the various items cut out of the appropriation recommended by the Board of Selectmen for highway purposes this year other than those included in the report of last year's Finance Committee. This letter was in reply to the Board's request that the Finance Committee furnish a detailed statement of the cuts made in this appropriation by the committee.

Highway Dept. (Unclassified): Further consideration of the Superintendent of Streets' request to be allowed to purchase a concrete mixer was postponed for two weeks.

The meeting adjourned at 10:35 p. m.

George S. F. Bartlett,
Clerk of Selectmen.

CAT'S MARK OF CONTENTMENT

Purr Proves That Pussy Is Just at That Moment Particularly Pleased With World.

We know that the cat purrs when she is pleased. But just how she does it, beyond the fact that she is breathing in a way which causes a peculiar vibration, we do not know. Place your hand on the chest of a man speaking or singing in a low deep voice and you will experience a distinct vibration. It is only this vibration, much exaggerated, that we feel when we stroke a purring pussy. Other "cats" besides our domestic pet also purr, the note in the case of a large animal such as a puma rather resembling a roar. A seldom-noticed peculiarity of the purr is that it continues both during breathing "in" and "out"; careful observation will detect a slight break in the purr with the change of breath. The purr is no more than an expression of emotional contentment. Just as some of us, when feeling particularly pleased with life, will instinctively and almost unconsciously hum, so will a cat purr when it is contented.

THE FORTNIGHTLY

Children's Day came the week before Christmas, and although there were very few children present, there was a large audience of children, who enthusiastically enjoyed Miss Frazier's poem and stories. A slight of hand performance given by Bennett Springer, and also the ice cream cones.

At the musical program of Jan. 22nd, Miss Florence Herson, contralto, sang in a delightful manner, several groups of songs, and the young pianist, Leon Tunkin, played a little late and breathless, arrived in time to please everyone with his selections and technique.

The next number on the program was given by Dr. McIlhenny H. Lichte, an interesting and witty lecture on "The Vaudeville Mind."

Guest night proved the most popular meeting of the year, with an attendance of 605. The entertainment was the clever "Billeted," acted by members of the Fortnightly and presented by the dramatic committee. At the close of the play, refreshments were served by the social committee, and followed by dancing.

Prof. E. Charlton Black entertained on March 12th, with personal reminiscences of Robert Louis Stevenson and James Matthew Barrie.

The last program of the year was a musical one, given by the Boston Symphony Orchestra. It was fully up to the standard of previous symphony concerts and delighted a large and attentive audience.

The newest undertaking of the club, has been the club paper "The Fortnightly News." This has been launched principally for the purpose of efforts of our president, and the press chairman, in their personal deals with club matters in a more personal and detailed manner than otherwise possible. The first number appeared at the first regular meeting in the fall and seven numbers have been issued to date.

The press committee has also reported the meetings for our local paper "The Winchester Star," and has sent notices of coming events to Boston papers.

The Fortnightly room committee reports that "The Fortnightly Room" in the Lyceum building has been used almost every day during the club year. The various committees have assisted in financing and furnishing this room; the music committee undertook the release of the piano, the art committee presented crocheting hangings, etc., shawls, seven are displayed. A large mirror has also been presented to the room.

Not all the activities of all the committees can be mentioned in this report. Also many committees have worked together to accomplish their purposes. For instance, a large card party was given in the fall for the benefit of the Fortnightly room by the social, hospitality and room committee, and the art committee decorated the Town Hall for the occasion. The social committee has provided and served refreshments at three regular meetings, besides the special days, President's, Children's and Guest night.

The art committee has held a series of six lectures on art by Mrs. Cyrus E. Dalin, three of which were held at out of town studios, and three at the Fortnightly room, with morning coffee and a social hour following.

The civic committee has held a successful current event class, with Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole as leader. The legislative committee conducted classes in "Fundamentals of Citizenship" and with the civic committee, endeavored to get every Fortnightly member to become a registered voter. The subject of registration has been the principle interest of the conversation committee, and Mr. C. E. Readall of our Winchester Water Board spoke to the club on this subject as it relates to our own town. The conversation committee has also incited walks to outlying points of interest, even during the winter the walks were taken on snowshoes.

Early in the fall the literature committee observed the centenary of the death of Dante by a lecture "The Message of Dante to the Modern World," given by Vincent Ravi Booth. The literature class at its six meetings has been considering contemporary American dramatists.

Successful classes in millinery, bookmaking and basketry have been managed by the home economics committee. On Dec. 6th, a luncheon and bridge was held at the home demonstration shop in Boston. This committee has also arranged for two lectures each on "The Well-Dressed Woman" and "The Well-Furnished Home."

The music committee has furnished music at every program where it was desired. Talented members of the Fortnightly have been very generous in giving pleasure to the club by singing or playing for us. The music committee also gave a musical for the purpose of raising money towards the purchase of the piano for the room.

The education committee has been active along co-operative lines, with the English department of the High School. By financing a plan worked out and endorsed by many educators for the study of drama, groups of students in the High School have been conducted to the Jewett Repertory Theatre at various times. The funds for this work were procured by the "quilts" given at the Winchester Country Club, by a sale of reclaimed toys at Christmas time, and by public subscription. This committee has also arranged for a class in public speaking.

The soldier welfare committee distributed 600 capsules each containing the address of a veteran. The person taking the capsule agreed to send letters, reading matter or some little gift daily for a month to the ex-serviceman.

In December, the soldier welfare committee assisted the Red Cross in its drive for clothing for next winter. The Social, Hospitality, Civic and Conservation committees solicited articles from Fortnightly members, and the soldier welfare committee sorted and packed the clothing for the entire Winchester drive. 760 coats, suits and dresses, 122 pairs of stockings and 119 pairs of shoes were packed in 27 large bags.

Throughout the year, the Fortnightly Boy at Wentworth Institute has been the special care and pride of the soldier welfare committee.

During the year the courtesies committee has sent flowers and notes of condolence and congratulations. Only one member of the Fortnightly has died during the year.

A new service instituted this year has been transportation with a chairman who has arranged for automobiles for club work, not personal service.

The program committee and the finance committee have quietly and efficiently accomplished their work. The federation secretary has kept us in touch with the State Federation.

The Fortnightly has been represented in the State Federation by Mrs. Wellington and Miss Tarbell, also by our president Mrs. Hildreth who has been a member of the State Federation Literature committee.

The philanthropic fund donations for the year are as follows:

LADIES' WESTERN MISSIONARY SOCIETY

Those who were fortunate enough to attend the meeting of the Western Missionary Society last week Thursday listened to a most interesting address by Mrs. Florence Frazier the principal of Cotton Valley School, Fort Davis, Alabama. Mrs. Frazier is a graduate of Atlanta University, Atlanta Georgia, and she went to Cotton Valley to take charge of the school about a year and a half ago. Cotton Valley is eight or more miles from any city, Tuskegee being 12 miles in one direction, and Union Point 12 miles in the opposite direction, while Fort Davis, the post office and mailing station is eight miles in another.

The soil is cold and poor so that nearly all the white people have turned to farming. The colored people, the colored people to work the farm, coming there a few times a year to oversee what has been done. The white people are very poor. This school has eight grades, and there are 208 children enrolled and there are 12 other little ones that have not been enrolled because that means tuition, and they cannot afford to pay it, so the full number is really 220. These children come from long distances, so bring their dinners. At first this was brought in a tin pail, and consisted of corn bread and molasses, for all the children had for breakfast was corn bread and molasses, their dinner was corn bread and molasses, and supper was again corn bread and molasses.

Mrs. Frazier first went to Cotton Valley she wondered if the children were tubercular and had hookworm, they looked so. It didn't take her long to find they were simply hungry. Children were often sick or faint in the morning, and she found they had come to school without any breakfast. She had brought it along in the tin pail (bread and molasses) to eat for dinner. This was soon remedied by having something for them to eat, and not regularly at 10:30 they are given something hot.

She had the girls and boys each have a project garden, and the girls had being very poor, she had them raise chickens. Each family raises its own peas, corn and potatoes, so there would be no sale for such products. Mrs. Frazier found that all the milk raised was being sent to Tuskegee or Union Point, but now through meetings of mothers and fathers, too, for that matter, she has gotten them to use milk for their children, make butter with it, make jelly and jam, and in general help them to furnish more nourishing food for their families.

By teaching the girls and boys better living conditions in the school, she has brought the homes to better living conditions. Most of the homes are shacks of one or two rooms with possibly a lean-to on the back, the windows darkened with shutters because often there is no glass. Practically nothing in the homes to inspire one to care what happened or was done. But now much of this is changed by the community work that has been vigorously carried on by Mrs. Frazier and her four teachers.

Mrs. Frazier and her four teachers have given their money as well as themselves to do what has been accomplished. The need now is to add several grades to the school that the children may be kept in school a few years longer, there is nothing for them to do when they leave the eighth grade.

Mrs. Frazier made a stirring appeal for Lafayette Harris, a splendid hard working boy whom they had sent up to Clark University at Atlanta, Ga. He is a big 17-year-old boy, ready to do anything he can for himself, and of whom the head of the university sent back word to Mrs. Frazier, "If you have any more Lafayette Harris, send them along."

Miss Mrs. Frazier was coming north her people sent this message, "We haven't words to tell our friends in the North how grateful we are to them for all they have done." The ladies of the society were especially interested in learning first hand about this school, because they have in response to an appeal for supplies. The work Thursday was the usual sewing on aprons and comforts. The luncheon was in charge of Mrs. Geo. Saltmarsh and Mrs. Chandler. It is hoped that all the members will remember to fill their missionary bags (little boxes in other words) and bring them in at the next meeting in May.

Miss Agnes V. Harrold, daughter of Sgt. John A. Harrold of the Winchester police department, graduated from the nurses' training school at the Winchester Hospital this week.

THE YOUNG PEOPLE'S SYMMES CORNER MUSIC CLUB

It was my privilege to spend last Friday evening at the "Home" on Kendall street, when the family gathered in the living room to enjoy a very pleasing entertainment given by members of the "Music Club" under the efficient leadership of Mrs. Katherine Myott. We listened, first, to a piano solo, "Butterfly," rendered by Miss Bevil Sweetser.

Following was a dance by Miss Margaret Harrington, with Victrola accompaniment, "Farad of Wooden Soldiers." Miss Ruth Hollins favored us with a piano solo, entitled, "To the Wild Rose."

We were surprised indeed, when Master Worrell went to the piano and began playing the "Wedding March."

A little commotion in the hall, then in walked a "bridal party," consisting of Miss Elizabeth Dummer "The Parson," Miss Virginia Hart, the "Groom," Miss Margaret Boyd, the "Bride," accompanied by two trainbearers, the Misses Sweetser and Hollins. We scarcely recognized the "Parson" and "Groom" in their masculine costumes.

The "Parson" gave many sarcastic words of advice and warning, such as, "Needles and pins, needles and pins, when you get married, your trouble begins."

As the mirth subsided, Miss Boyd rendered "Sunset" on the piano, followed by a dance by Miss Worrell, entitled "Flower-Land," then the jazz dance by Miss Harrington, victrola accompaniment. Miss Sweetser then favored us with a poem, entitled, "Grannie" very sweet in sentiment and well read. Miss Worrell rendered "In a Garden" on the piano, followed by a dance by the Misses Harrington and Kiddler. The "Rev. Eric," piano solo was given by Miss Harrington.

The refreshments, delicious cake and ice cream were enjoyed by all, as we chatted with the Sisters and Brother in the Home.

Let us not forget the Egyptian dance, very acceptably given by Miss Sweetser. Our dear Mrs. Brazier then played several piano accompaniments to the victrola records, "Somewhere a voice is calling" and others which were so much appreciated.

After singing, Patriotic songs and discussing the pretty fairy-like dresses of some of the artists we separated, declaring the evening to be a No. 1, in every respect, bringing great credit to the young ladies and Mrs. Myott, at the same time, carrying the joy of young life into the "Home."

A FRIEND
WINCHESTER GIRL MARRIED AT HOME BEAUTIFUL EXPOSITION

A Winchester girl, Miss Pauline P. Sweetser, will be this year's bride at the Home Beautiful Exposition, in Mechanics Building. She is a business manager, during her time to banking and financial matters, and the year the bride of this occasion was a sculptress.

Miss Sweetser will be married in the Grand Hall on Friday evening, April 27. The bridegroom is C. P. Fenton, of the Wollaston, probably 10,000 persons will attend the ceremony, which will be complete in every detail. The Rev. I. W. Sneath of the Wollaston Congregational Church, will officiate.

After the ceremony, the young couple will be the guests of the evening. I. Campbell, manager of the Exposition, at a dinner in the Hotel Lenox.

Miss Sweetser is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert S. Sweetser, of 298 Main street. She is a graduate of the Winchester High School, class of 1917.

Mr. Cath is a Wollaston man, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Cath, and is connected with the Vermont Marble Works in Boston. He is a member of the Men's Club of the Wollaston Unitarian Church.

The bridesmaids will be Misses Miriam Phillips and Josephine Phillips, of White Plains, N. Y., Mildred Evans of Pittsburgh, Pa., Ruth Dorsey of Portland, Me., and Lucille Gaffney, of Gloucester. The maid of honor will be Miss Betty Sweetser, sister of the bride, and the best man will be Earl Cath, brother of the groom. The ushers will be Mr. Barnes, Allen Stearns, and Louis DuPlessis, of Wollaston, and Stanley Ackerman of Hartford, Ct.

C. D. OF A. NOTES
It is planned to give the young people the look and the spirit of the Show and also those who are to take part in the comedy a jollification on May 3rd. There will be an entertainment, dancing and refreshments and many pleasing novelties are promised. Besides the "Actors and Actresses," the young sons and daughters of the members will also be guests of the evening and a good time is anticipated.

The Whist which the Court is to conduct in aid of the Boston College Building Fund is scheduled to take place in May and promises to be a popular affair.

THANKS FROM AUXILIARY

To the Editor of the Star:
I have been asked by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the American Legion Post in Winchester to request that you kindly print in your paper a little note of thanks to the townspeople for the generous help and cooperation they gave to the Auxiliary on last Saturday afternoon at the sale of fancy goods and food they held at the Legion House.

Thanking you I remain
Very truly,
Edythe W. Rebenacker,
Secretary of the Auxiliary.

Peter Foley, the friend of a host of residents throughout this section, known today as the "Grand old man of the Marathon" is to run in the race again this year. He is now 64 years of age, and owing to his years cannot enter in the regular form, but he goes over the course just the same, and always makes a place.

WAGE INCREASES AND THEIR EFFECT

Wage increases in industry are attractive from many angles. Frequently they are the logical result of improvements in productive methods; sometimes they compensate for increased value of service rendered and often they are the unavoidable consequence of economic necessity.

The somewhat common assumption, however, that general increases of wages bring business prosperity by reason of the greater buying power thus created in the community, is merely a pleasing illusion.

If it were true, the industrial activity could always be stimulated and prosperity recreated by the simple and alluring process of increasing the incomes not even of wage earners but of every class of people who spend money.

The recently announced advance of 20 per cent in the wages of common labor employed by the United States Steel Corporation is estimated to require an addition to the payroll of from forty to fifty million dollars. But from what source is this vast sum to be obtained? Obviously, it must be contributed by the owners of the steel who will be required to pay a corresponding price in advance of that which otherwise would be necessary.

If, then, the purchasing power of the workers in the steel mills is increased fifty million dollars per year it must be equally apparent that the buying capacity of the steel users will be decreased by a similar amount with the result that there will be no net gain to the country as a whole from the transaction.

Temporarily, the steel workers gain what the steel user loses, but as the process of wage-inflation becomes general in its application, each class of workers must move and more contribute to every other group whose product it consumes, with the inevitable consequence that on the average, the increase of wages will be absorbed by the rising cost of living, which necessarily must follow.

The only effective cure for the high cost of living is a reduced cost of production and of distribution. The general raising of wages to meet a rising cost of living is as futile and unprofitable as a remedy as would be the pouring of fuel to a fire for the purpose of extinguishing the conflagration.

INVADING THE PREHISTORIC TIME LINE

Explorers are making forays across the "no man's" lands of history, finding traces of the prehistoric, in many other places than Luxor, says a bulletin from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic Society.

Notable work is being carried on in the Holy Land, in Mesopotamia, in Egypt, in the Turkish and Persian regions. Among the most interesting of these remains are temples of Greek mythology. An Italian Mission has within the last years of administration to the ruins of an acropolis and a temple of the Pythian Apollo at Gortyna, the capital of Southern Crete, built at the foot of Mount Ida. In the interior of the temple stands a beautiful statue of Apollo as harp-player, which reminds one of the public figure of the god, created by Greek sculptors in the fourth century, now to be seen in the Vatican. The ruins belong to that period of Cretan history when the island was rich and thickly populated.

Happy Hunting Ground of History Diggers

The party was still at work during the spring and summer of 1922 excavating the ruins of a harbor, a market place, the temple and its surroundings, and a Byzantine church which had been built over the ruins of the harbor. An elderly lady was buying a New Year's present for her married daughter. She asked to be shown some table cloths. The salesman brought a pile and showed them to her, but she said she had seen those elsewhere—nothing suited her. "Haven't you something new?" she asked.

The clerk then brought another pile and showed them to her. "These are the newest patterns," he said. "You will notice that the center is exactly the same and the border runs around the edge."

Mr. Warren M. Cox retired Monday evening as Exalted Ruler of Woburn Lodge of Elks.

NEW RADIO INSTALLED HERE

There was a large attendance at the dinner and meeting of the Men's Club of the First Congregational Church last Friday evening, and although the Rev. Perry Bush, the guest of the evening, was unable to attend owing to sickness, an entertaining evening was enjoyed. The dinner was served by Group 4 of the church ladies, the money realized to be used towards the fund for the improvements to be made at the church. President Ralph W. Hopper of the club presided and Mr. George E. Willey led in the singing. A feature of the evening was the new Radio installation made by President Hopper for the Club. This was a very powerful machine and was used for the first time at this meeting. Owing to its size, the President was able to register it without difficulty with the Government, it being assigned as station FAK. It is reported that Mr. Charles A. Lane had charge of the installation and receiving. Messages of great interest and importance were received from stations all over the country, including the new station, B. V. D., Barnes' Dry Goods Store, Winchester, Massachusetts. The entertainer of the evening was Mr. Erick Berlin, who, with recitations and stories, kept his hearers absorbed for two hours following the dinner.

GUEST NIGHT

Franklin Collier, of the Boston Herald and "Otto-Grow" fame, gave real pleasure to a large audience attending Guest Night of the League of Women Voters, held last Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Batchelder, on Main street. His humorous remarks, anent the domestic difficulties of a cartoonist's life were much appreciated especially by the married folk.

After drawing famous celebrities and types of his own choosing, including "Mr. Volstead," "Otto-Grow," and the 1923 "Flapper," Mr. Gustave Reichen (who remained one of the "Clemenceau") and Mr. Addison Pike were challenged to be victims of his art. All the sketches were then auctioned off. Mr. Louis K. Snyder acting as auctioneer.

The bidding was spirited, except in the case of "Mr. Volstead," which had nothing "spirited" in it. In fact, it required great effort to get a small price for his head.

The 1923 "Flapper" girl, a creature so gifted she showed but one eye, had many admirers, and finally fell to the lot of Mr. Stephen Thompson, 2nd, the only "eligible" in the room. "Otto-Grow," the most popular of all, became the "protégé" of Mrs. Chandler Wood.

Refreshments were served by the social committee, Mrs. Willard Bradley, chairman; Mesdames Mudge, Wadsworth, Fessenden and Downes assisting.

DIED AFTER ACCIDENT

Herbert L. Ferguson of 1075 Main street, Melrose, died at the Winchester Hospital last Friday morning about an hour after he was in an accident with an auto truck on Washington near Forest street. He was 32 years of age and was married. The accident occurred when Mr. Ferguson, who was riding a bicycle down the Forest street grade, struck the rear wheel of a milk truck driven by Timothy W. Day of 338 Montvale avenue, Woburn, who was proceeding along Washington street. Ferguson was thrown with great force, his skull being crushed. He was employed as a collector and bookkeeper by a Melrose furniture firm. He lived about an hour after being taken to the hospital. Owing to the absence of his wife, who was in Gloucester, there was some delay in identifying him, the authorities being unable to ascertain whether he actually was Herbert L. Ferguson, which name was found on a slip of paper in his pocket.

Two fires required the attention of the Fire Department Saturday and Sunday. Box 7-43 was rung in Saturday forenoon for burning grass at the rear of the Eastern Felt Company's factory on Canal street, and Sunday noon a telephone call took out the chemical to Fletcher street for a grass fire.

FORD DEALERS IN AGRADE UNIQUE NATIONAL SALES PLAN

On Sunday, April 8th, the Ford dealers throughout the United States, of whom there are 9000, are making a simultaneous announcement of a new sales plan. This announcement is pointing the way to the ownership of an automobile by 20,000,000 wage earners who do not own one.

There are this vast number of wage earners in this country alone, who receive annual incomes ranging from $1000 to $2000, the large majority of whom have never had a plan presented to them that would permit of their owning a car.

There is a universal desire to own motor cars, everyone would like the enjoyment, health, and other advantages that can only be obtained by the ownership of a motor car. Family life can be improved, real pleasure obtained if only the transportation can be supplied.

There are, as proposed means, that any person can make a down payment on the purchase of a car, truck, or tractor as low as $5.00 and then payments of $5.00 per week until the delivery of the car can be arranged. The payments are deposited in the local bank, and will draw interest as a savings account, at the usual rate. The whole plan involves the customers, the bank, and the Ford dealer, all of whom are working in close harmony.

During the past fifteen years over 7,500,000 Ford cars have been placed in the hands of retail customers, more than a million and a half of them within the past twelve months, and yet there are still millions of families who are hopefully looking forward to the day when they can own a car.

In 1903, Henry Ford said, "I will build a car for the multitude." It would seem that the fulfillment of that prophecy is now made possible.

The strikers at the Beggs & Cobb shop returned to work on Monday, following a series of meetings held at Woburn over the week-end. The matter was left to be settled at a conference between the men and the officials of the company. The management of the company had prepared to close the factory for an indefinite period. It is reported that during the past few years no shop in the State has furnished the steady employment the Beggs & Cobb people have, they keeping their various departments open at a loss in order to provide work for their men.

FORTNIGHTLY NOTES

Mr. MacGregor Jenkins, treasurer and publisher of the Atlantic Monthly Magazine, is to be the speaker of the afternoon on Monday next. He will speak on the subject of "Fellow Travelers" making a plea for the application to social problems of the old-fashioned virtues of tolerance and good will. Mr. Jenkins' talks are full of genial humor and unanticipated wit. Judging from all one knows of the speaker this is an afternoon not to be missed.

Mrs. Harriet U. Goode, State Chairman of Conservation, will speak on conservation matters.

Immediately after the exercises on Monday, members of The Fortnightly are invited to go directly to the Winchester Common where The Fortnightly tree will be planted with brief and fitting ceremony.

April 22 to 29 is National Garden Week and the Conservation committee of the club has decided to observe the occasion in this way. On Wednesday, May 2, the last dressmaking class will be held and anyone who wishes to do so is invited to be present. The lesson will be on the making of a dress form.

Remember the lunch luncheon which comes on Monday, the fourteenth of May, at 2:30 o'clock.

The date for the rummage sale has been changed to Thursday, May 3. Please save all articles of clothing and household furnishings which are no longer wanted. They will be called for. Particulars later.

Sunday morning when Mrs. William MacOnie of Medford Hillside, who was learning to drive her brother's Buick car under the direction of Clifford R. Landers of Medford, attempted to turn from the Parkway into Main street she lost control of the car and struck a post. The front of the automobile was badly damaged and Mrs. MacOnie suffered from the shock and minor injuries. She was taken to Dr. Emery's office and after treatment, to her home. The wreck was towed away under the direction of Landers, who was not injured.

BOWLING NEARLY ENDED

Final Games Coming in Mixed
Tournament

With a final match to be rolled next Monday evening the mixed bowling tournament at the Calumet Club will close for this year. Just how the winners will stand depends upon the last match, although those teams which are leading will not change their positions materially. The matches on Monday night included three of the leading teams, and they all won straight points. Team 5 took three from 11, 2 three from 8 and 10 from 12. The scores were good and the competition was keen, the ladies especially rolling well. Mrs. Dickson led in individual work with a total of 198 and a single of 110. Other scores of interest were as follows: Mrs. Adriance 179 with 93, Mrs. Goldford 178 with 92, Mrs. Pitman 171 with 89, Mrs. Doying 92, Mrs. Tucker 90, Mrs. Johnston 88, Mrs. Taylor 87, Mrs. Kelley 84, Mrs. Berry 82, Mrs. Hurd 82, Miss Martin 82, Mrs. Rowe 80, Mrs. Pitman, with a total of 224 and a single of 124, led the gentlemen. ### DAILY PHILOSOPHY

Hundreds of men have been made poor by honesty but not one made rich by dishonesty.

A great many men make a great many excuses, but a great many excuses don't make a great many men.

Women may change their styles because other people tell them to, but it is very much different with their opinions.

We often hear men say that paying an income tax is hard luck, when really it is good luck, as compared with not having to pay one.

New non-stop, endurance dance records in New York and baby carriage races in London—both followed by new legislation. Strenuous times. Even the weather is out for a new mark.

For the past few days we have noticed the sudden and unexpected stops made by electric cars just before they cross the railroad tracks. Several times we have seen automobiles very nearly hit them. It is reported that this stopping of the cars on the edge of the crossing is in compliance with a new ruling on the road. Such stops are required by law, but on no crossings are they guarded and have a man especially present for that purpose. To enforce the ruling in our centre appears thus far to be a routine matter, for no automobile accidents that the car will make the sudden stop, and is very likely to make it.

It seems to the Star that years ago there was a rule on the star an railroad relative to locomotives crossing their engines at the crossing. When was the case, this rule has evidently been abandoned. During the past few weeks the clouds of soft coal smoke have been hanging about the centre from engines standing at the station and starting up through the centre. There have been stalling and blinding, evidently the fact that automobiles have been obliged to use soft coal has caused the railroad to lift its restrictions. Such should not be the case.

The new heating apparatus at the Town Hall estimated at a considerable unsuccessful winter last Saturday evening by dropping out of its radiators during the presentation of the opera. It waited until the occasion of a packed hall, with darkening lights. The finale was thoroughly in keeping with the experience of the winter. Freight delays and embargoes hindered the installation of the apparatus. Very early in the morning there had been in force several weeks. Something else, cause unknown, put one boiler out of commission. During the winter audiences in the hall sat with their outside wraps on and shivered through the entertainments. That there was no panic on Saturday night may be attributed to the common sense of our people and the quality of a Winchester audience, coupled with the fortunate fact that the janitor Calman was near the light switch and immediately turned the current on. The crash of the breaking radiator running nearly the length of the balcony, with the suddenly escaping steam, furnished a setting for serious consequences. Every man in the big audience is to be commended for his common sense and presence of mind in not "starting something." We learned at a recent town meeting that our Selectmen have a "comprehensive and progressive plan for renovating our town hall, starting with the new heating system." We hope this plan is thorough, and that we will have the heating system which has been "started," finished before we take up decorations.

EVEN IN OKLAHOMA

Editor, the Star,
Winchester, Mass.
Dear Sir:
May we congratulate you on the make-up and general merit of your paper?

It is a credit to your organization and to the city you represent.

Yours very truly,
E. R. Waite, Secretary Shawnee, Okla., Board of Commerce.

No Fun Then.

What, after all, would be more disagreeable than living in a world where everyone told the absolute truth all the time, not only about themselves, but about you?

Unsinkable Craft.

Three logs lashed together flush with the surface form the famous catamaran, used off the coast of India. The craft is unsinkable, and its navigators brave surf and storm on it.

Blessed Mirthfulness.

Blessedness is mirthfulness! It is one of the renovators of the world. Men will let you abuse them if only you will make them laugh.—Beecher

LAST WEEK a man who is a strong believer in Life Insurance, and for several years has added to his net worth until he has $50,000, told me he wanted more this year.

Less than one year before he passed a good examination. An examination this year showed an apparently slight trouble, which later may be serious. When told he was uninsurable at present he said, "Look at me! I never felt better in my life." He is to be pitied—not blamed.

Many men in his position would have much less insurance. Ought they not to be blamed?

STOP ROADSIDE ADVERTISING

To the Editor of the Star:

Dear Sir:
I think there must be many people to whom the defacing of our roadside scenery by glaring advertising boards is a great annoyance.

They have spoiled the Burlington road, one of the prettiest drives we had.

I was just glad to receive the following notice, as a summer resident of Cape Cod, showing that it is possible to have that damage stopped.

I hope there may be Winchester people interested to know what arguments are brought out at this public hearing.

April 12, 1923
Hyannis, Mass.

Stephen S. Langley, Winchester, Mass.

Dear Sir:
The Department of Public Works, Division of Highways, will give a public hearing at Room 427, State House, Boston, on Thursday, April 26, 1923, at 10:30 o'clock, a. m., to all persons interested in a petition of the selectmen of the town of Barnstable, County of Barnstable, requesting that said Department of Public Works, Division of Highways, designate as scenic highways certain roads in said county, and that billboards and advertising signs may be excluded therefrom. The following ways in said County of Barnstable:

The North road from Buzzards Bay to Provincetown.

The road from Bourne bridge, to Falmouth.

The South road from Falmouth to Chatham.

The road from Chatham to Orleans.

Will you please attend the above hearing and use your influence to abolish roadside advertising on Cape Cod?

Yours truly,
H. T. Dowden, Secretary,
Cape Cod Chamber of Commerce.

THE PHILOSOPHY OF THE "LIVING WAGE"

If, as is frequently asserted, wage workers in general are entitled to $2000 or more per year under existing conditions, as a living wage, some new source of national income must be found, which the required excess over the present wage earning capacity of the nation can be procured.

It must be obvious that we cannot distribute a greater sum in the form of individual incomes that is produced by the combined efforts of the country's population. Yet it has been repeatedly stated without challenge that the worker must be assured of an income which will secure for him and his family a reasonably comfortable existence, regardless of the earnings of industry.

The present total national income as determined by published and interested research bodies is entirely insufficient to permit any such average payment as that claimed. From what source then is the balance to be obtained?

The only available new sources of income are:

1. Increased production through added service contributed by the individual in the nature of more intensive work. The average of work indicated. If they see fit to adopt the first alternative they will be entitled to the full measure of their personal contribution. If they profit from the second or third method they must expect to divide a liberal share of the added benefit with those whose brains or muscles have made it possible for them to profit at all.

—Charles R. Gow.

Duty to Read Newspaper.

The newspaper is one of the foremost wonders of the modern world. The fault that does not take, and cannot be read by any newspaper, is not fit to be in the nineteenth century.

LETTER FROM MISS CAROLYN D. SMILEY

I told you I had charge of the Marathi school of 300 children in our big girls' school, near the Domestic Science in the high-school, have charge of the athletics and keep this bungalow going. Another task has just been given to me, the supervision of the three Hindu day-schools. I wish you could see these little high-caste girls. Each wears a little round, red mark in the middle of her forehead, her hair is parted in the middle and combed back tight with hair oil, her jacket (choli) will hardly pull together in front and her skirt is tied tightly around her body and trails in the dust. A calling woman collects these children every day, and if the girls are not at home when she calls she has to find them. Quite a task! Once in school, they sit on the floor and study out loud according to the custom of the country. An interesting old Mohammedan owns the school building. He is most friendly to us. Although he owns fifteen houses, he is feeling poor and has gone up to the court. Nothing to do but to pay it but he has made some repairs as a result. That was not very pleasing to him. However, he makes deep salaams whenever I appear. Another day school is owned by a wealthy Hindu in a different part of the city. This building is quite elaborate, has an upper story. That is our school. The outside of our school is painted blue while the inside is white plaster and boasts of carved pillars. Shops are underneath us, so we do not lack for noise. The children here came from the weaver caste, a very good caste. When we visit their homes we see the weaving of saris (women's clothes) going on in front of the houses. A member of the family has to sit up nights to watch his looms or they would be missing by morning.

The third school I will describe next time. This is the beggar caste school and if you ever wish to see humanity in its crudest form, it is here. Changing the subject, have you ever heard of the famous caves of India? The Ellora group is famous as any and these I saw in January as will tell you about them. Five of us went in Mr. Bur's car. The distance was 85 miles. We drove north-east towards the Nizam's territory. When we reached the boundary line, we found a wide river with water a foot deep and much mud on the banks. Friendly Indians ran to our rescue and rushed us across amid the greatest splashing and talking you ever heard. Of course they received a good reward. The river crossed, we were in the Nizam of Hyderabad's dominions. We could not go any further. British authority by the rules, not very good. Our first stop was Aurangabad, a large town, where we called on King Bhabha. On the way to the small village near the caves. On the outskirts of this village, the Nizam owns a choice spot on a hill overlooking miles of country. Here he has private guest houses for Indians and Europeans. We stayed in one of these for two days. Price, one rupee (20 cents) a day. The caves were found at the foot of the steepest hill I have seen for years. These caves vary, twelve are Buddhist, seventeen are Hindu and five are Jain. All of the caves are dug out of solid rock. The first of the caves is the Outermost, dating from 600 B. C. It is very plain and has eight small black cells opening off from the big room. Next is a hall for worship and this has a Buddha carved in high relief. You never could tell just what Buddha is supposed to be doing in many of the representations. Next is a monastery with pillars richly decorated and with more cells. In this cave we found a large Buddha seated on a lotus supported by snake hooded figures. Do the best work we saw reached the Hindu caves. The figures in these are entirely different. The walls are covered with figures of gods, deities, and the slaughter of animals. Representations of the gods playing chess, dancing and so on. Some of the things portrayed can not be mentioned. Two of the most interesting carvings were the goddess (B—) with a necklace of skulls, and the goddess (L—) with elephants pouring water over her. These Hindu caves date from the 8th century. They have two stories and elaborately carved pillars. The temple is a wonderful structure carved wholly out of rock in situ, the back wall being over 100 ft. high. Two gigantic stone elephants guard it. The Jain caves are very similar to the Hindu but not so interesting. We were weary, our pilgrimage over, so we hired a bullock cart and jogged up the hill. Bullocks driven by their tails are most interesting to watch. I am going to send some snapshots of this trip to the Mission Union later on.

As the days go by we find many an incident to laugh at. For instance a petition came to the station from a man pleading for help to carry on a law suit in regard to a mud house he bought for fifteen rupees ($5) several years ago. A mother of one of the girls came to see the doctor asking permission to take her girl home from the hospital. "Dr. Clark's medicine was of no use," she said, "I will try country medicine." The girl almost died here. Country medicine would have finished her. Another woman had to consult an astrologer before before she could come in to the hospital. Funny things, sad things go on every day. When we get discouraged we look backward and see what an improvement there has been in thirty years. And we look forward, too, knowing that God has a plan for these people. If it is not for the things are under fire. They are even afraid out here that if women lawyers are allowed to practice, they will charm the judges that they will not render justice.

I am going to Bombay tonight for dentistry so will continue in Chapter III. Knowing I belong to you gives me such joy.

Most cordially yours,
Carolyn D. Smiley.

Chats With YOUR Gas Man

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN, teacher of thrift and inventor of the first cold stove, was born 217 years ago this morning. He died in 1790, 26 years before the first gas company was established in America.

It was not until 1876, however, that the first gas stove on record was used. At that time the gasoline stove was in general use, so that the gas stove made little headway until 1900, when the quality of gasoline became better than that people eagerly turned to the more efficient fuel. Thereafter the gas stove grew rapidly in favor.

Today there are some 7,000, 000 gas cooking appliances in use, and nearly three million gas water and room heaters, while more than half of the 225 billion cubic feet of gas consumed in the United States in 1921 was used for cooking and heating.

The ELECTRIC HOME

Again Greater Boston takes a forward step—

THE first Electric Home in Boston is a reality, waiting for you to join the crowds that are visiting it.

It's at Wauwinet, on Commonwealth Avenue, West Newton—an easy trolley or motor ride. And it's open every week-day until May 5 from 2 to 10 p.m., free.

The Electric League of Boston, an association of one hundred electrical producers, contractors, and merchants in Greater Boston, in co-operation with Bonelli-Adams Co., has built a house in which every domestic duty can be performed by electricity. It is fully equipped, wired, and lighted, and stands today a perfect working model of all that electricity means to modern home life.

Every housewife in Greater Boston should inspect it. You'll never know how free from drudgery you can be until you do see it—how perfectly appointed, easily maintained, and cleanly-run your own home can be. It marks the dawn of a new era in the comfort of Greater Boston.

The minute you apply its practical hints to your own home, you take a step forward.

HOW ENGLISH RAILWAY TRAINS ARE DIFFERENT

When Sir Auckland Geddes, British Ambassador to the United States, in a recent after-dinner speech before the Pilgrims Society in London, urged Britons to travel more extensively in America, he pointed out that Americans have traveled in England for years. Despite the frequency of travel in the British Isles, Americans still find that our English country is many things which strike us as quaint or peculiar, according to a communication to the National Geographic Society by Ralph A. Graves.

If for example, the American is traveling first class (corresponding to our Pullmans and our chair cars) he finds that each compartment, as a rule, accommodates six travelers—three on each side, with arms allotting the proper space for each traveler. The third class compartments accommodate eight persons, and in the majority of cases on the trunk lines all the spaces are taken. There is seldom difficulty in obtaining a first-class seat, and this is the chief advantage, for which from 30 to 40 per cent higher fare is paid.

Whistle Means All Aboard
The traveler usually delegates to the porter with his luggage the task of finding a seat. A bag or coat may be placed on a seat to claim it for the traveler who may defer boarding the car until a shrill warning whistle blows.

If the traveler is going on a crowded train he would do well to obtain from the head-attendant of the dining car a "first sitting" card before the train starts. After the train is under way an assistant attendant comes through the corridors announcing that breakfast is ready for those holding first-sitting cards.

English Dining Cars Differ
Most of the English dining cars differ considerably from American diners. The passengers sit in high-back seats instead of chairs. The breakfasts are usually of the club variety, there being little choice for the traveler. First our assistant attendant appears with individual dishes of porridge (usually rather tasteless because it has been cooled without the suggestion of salt). This attendant is pursued by a second with hot milk, which he pours on the porridge if the traveler acquiesces. A third attendant follows with a huge pot of coffee in one hand and another of equal size filled with milk in the other. He fills your coffee cup with the coffee and milk poured simultaneously and in equal quantities. Then comes the broad-based attendant who allows you to take a roll or a "chunk" of bread (it is seldom cut in this size).

The porridge or oatmeal is eaten with milk (or cream) and sugar, the latter obtained from shakers with patent caps which seal the shaker when placed upright on the table, or in the wooden salt-box rack screwed on the window sill. The salt is poured from a shaker with a little funnel in the top, and strange to say, even though the climate of England is exceedingly damp, the salt does flow freely at all times and never cakes in the shaker.

Ice Water Missing
The porridge course completed, our hurrying attendant removes the plates while a second asks if you will have place or kippers. Perhaps you know what he says, perhaps you don't, but you are being given your choice of fresh fish or kippered herring. Meanwhile, your cup is refilled with milk and coffee of which you doubtless drink a good deal, not because you like English-made coffee but because there is nothing else to drink; the ubiquitous glass of ice water of the American dining car is conspicuous by its absence. After fish, the traveler is usually given a choice of egg and bacon (never boiled crisp but apparently only boiled) or grilled kidneys. Then comes the ever-present marmalade or jam and toast—an altogether satisfying meal for 3 shillings, sixpence (about 75 cents) at the present rate of exchange. And the standard tip, given to the head attendant is six pence (something less than 12 cents nowadays).

After the meal the traveler may remain seated in the diner indefinitely; the car becomes a sort of club smoker, women as well as men enjoying their cigarettes. Or if desired, the traveler may have the table cleared for writing. For example, this bulletin has been written in a dining car after breakfast, while en route from London to Chester.

NEW CHANDLER SIX

Darts Ahead
—in High Gear!

THAT sudden burst of speed which every driver wants and needs for pleasant traffic driving—you get it in a new Chandler.

Yet swift, silent acceleration for city driving is only one phase of the Chandler's performance superiority.

In its masterful attack of grades, the famous Pikes Peak Motor stands alone. Nearly all of the nation's most feared hills have yielded to its spectacular high-gear performance.

Powered far beyond the need of any driving situation, economical, quiet, long-wearing, and undeniably beautiful—the new Chandler is an exhilarating car to drive and a satisfying one to own.

The new low prices are an important reason.

AMENDMENTS TO BUILDING LAWS TOWN OF WINCHESTER, MASS.

Adopted at Town Meeting on March 19, 1923

VOTED: That Section 11 of the "Building Laws" be and it hereby is amended by striking out the phrase "bays, cornices, gutters, belts and similar projections of incombustible material" in the paragraph entitled "Second Class B Construction" on page 21, and in the paragraph entitled "Second Class E Construction" on page 22, and by substituting therefor in each of said paragraphs the following, "bays, cornices, gutters, belts, and similar projections shall be made of or covered on the upper side with incombustible material; bays in the first building district shall be made of or covered on all exterior surfaces with incombustible material."

That Section 11 of "Building Laws" be and it hereby is amended by striking out the phrase "shall have a layer of incombustible material between the under and upper floors" and the phrase "basement or cellar, ceiling and metal lath and cement plaster or approved equivalent as required in Section 166" in the paragraph entitled "Second Class E Construction" on page 22, and by substituting for the latter phrase the following: "if the first floor over any basement or cellar is of wooden construction, it shall be covered on the under side with a ceiling of metal lath and cement plaster as required in Section 166."

VOTED: That the "Building Laws" be and they hereby are amended by striking out all of the sections numbered 152 and 171 and by substituting for the former section the following: SECTION 152. In every duplex house, and in every double house of second class construction, hereafter erected, the apartments shall be separated by a division wall extending from the face of the front studs to the face of the rear studs built fire resistive at least the equal of 8 inches of brick, terra cotta or concrete, from the cellar bottom to the top of the first floor joists; and thence upward at least the equal of a 2x4 stud partition extending to the roof in a manner satisfactory to the Commissioner of the Building Department.

Every duplex house of third class C construction hereafter erected shall, in addition to the fire stops elsewhere required (see Section 11), be fire stopped at the second floor solidly with wood, brick, terra cotta, or other approved material.

I hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of amendments to Building Laws, being By-Laws and Regulations relating to Building, Plumbing, Wiring and Gas Fitting, adopted by the Town of Winchester, Mass. on March 19, 1923 and approved by the Attorney-General of Massachusetts on April 2, 1923.

Witness, GEORGE F. LAWTON, Esquire, First Judge of said Court, this tenth day of April, in the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three. F. M. ESTY, Register. ap13-3t

Statement of the ownership, management, control and circulation of the Winchester Star, published weekly in Winchester, Massachusetts, for the year 1922. State of Massachusetts, Middlesex, SS.

I, Robert E. Lawrence, in and for the State and County aforesaid, personally appeared T. Price Wilson, who being duly sworn, deposes and says that he is the publisher of the Winchester Star, published weekly, at the place aforesaid, for the year 1922, and that the ownership, management, control and circulation of the said paper for the year 1922, was as follows:

That the names and address of the publisher, managing editor and business managers are:

Editor: T. Price Wilson, Winchester, Mass.; Editor: T. Price Wilson, Winchester, Mass.; Editor: T. Price Wilson, Winchester, Mass.; Editor: T. Price Wilson, Winchester, Mass.

That the known bondholders, mortgagees, and other security holders owning or holding a first or other lien in said paper, or any part thereof, or any interest therein, are:

Said to be and subscribed before me this 11th day of April, 1923.

Barrett E. Barrett, Notary Public.

My commission expires January 31, 1921.

Three autos figured in a collision on Cambridge Street Sunday near the corner of Pond Street. According to reports a Ford coupe driven by Frank E. Morrissey of Woburn hit a Ford touring car driven by Jason E. Russell of West Somerville, and a Buick roadster driven by Edward F. Poole of Woburn. No one was hurt, but all three cars suffered damage, the Ford coupe striking a telegraph pole after colliding with the other two cars. The Buick had its front wheel smashed and its mudguard bent and twisted. The coupe lost both front wheels and suffered a bent axle, while the touring car had its front mudguards, running board and steering gear bent and broken.

The last winter storm thus far visited us on Sunday evening after a cold raw day. Opening with rain shortly before six o'clock, the storm turned to snow and sleet, continuing through most of the night. Monday morning saw the ground white with snow and the trees covered with ice. Unseasonably cold weather followed the storm during Monday with slight rising temperature on Tuesday, accompanied by fair weather.

A small gathering at the home of Mrs. G. H. Lockman last Thursday evening had the unique experience of listening to three different harpists, as solos and played by Mrs. Lockman, Miss Gertrude French of Bedford, and Miss Olive Potter. Vocal solos were rendered by Mrs. Morrison, Miss Potter, and Mr. Lockman. The harp solos were especially enjoyed, as it is decidedly unusual to have three players at our gathering.

Winchester friends will be grieved to learn of the death at Newton on Wednesday of Mrs. Roy H. Booth of Lexington. Mrs. Booth, who was 43 years of age, formerly made her home on Crescent road, this town. She was prominent socially, especially at the Calumet Club, and since her removal to Lexington had been grievously identified with the Old Belief.

A NEW PUBLICATION

The Massachusetts League of Women Voters has recently launched a monthly "Bulletin," sent to each member of all the local branches. It is an attractive, business-like paper and brings favorable comment. Miss Blackwell writes,

"It is a cause for congratulation that the Massachusetts League of Women Voters is now to have its own Bulletin. The leagues in many other states have established their own official organs, and they have found such a paper invaluable in keeping the different local leagues in touch with one another and with Headquarters. Henceforth each league will know what the others are doing, and a good idea started by any one of them can at once be passed all along the line."

A quotation from the League president's message in the first issue will be of interest to citizens at large, expressing, as it does, the practical aim of the League of Women Voters and its ultimate ideal. Mrs. Hatch says in part:

"It is perhaps difficult for us here in Massachusetts to realize that we are part of a great national organization that stretches from the Pacific to the Atlantic, a great band of women all with one common aim, though using every variety of method to reach the attainment of that aim. We are all working to educate the twenty millions of new voters who were enfranchised by the Suffrage Amendment. We are all so convinced that the only hope of a democracy lies in an intelligent citizenship. We all of us believe that in order to be intelligent citizens, women need to have standards of judgment—standards by which to measure the political parties, to require candidates, to influence legislation, to measure policies, and last, standards by which to judge whether or not we are having successful administration of our national, state and local governments. How can women know whether they are getting the right kind of government? If we have no knowledge of what we have a right to expect, we can form no intelligent judgment of what we have. Therefore, all over the United States, some large, some small, our League women are trying to learn to recognize wherein their local, state and national governments succeed and wherein they fail."

Nearly two million women with a common aim—and that aim, better standards of citizenship. No voter's program seems broad. At times it seems to include almost every subject under the sun, government efficiency, child welfare, social hygiene, uniform laws, living costs, women in industry, international cooperation and so on. All these questions come to the citizen of today in some form, at some time. We cannot be satisfied to help perfect our machinery of government unless, at the same time, we help build the standards of the democracy we hope to see created by that machinery. An efficient, soulless machine is not our goal. We want efficiency, but we want it in order to build a finer, higher form of civilization."

In these times of many disputing conditions it is heartening to realize that throughout our land thousands of women are bending careful and clear-headed attention toward a wise, constructive use of their new responsibilities. They should be a vast power for good in days to come.

GAVE DINNER TO EMPLOYEES

The Horn Pond Ice Company gave a dinner to their employees last evening at Woburn. About 100 sat down. The guest of the occasion was Mr. George H. Vetter, the secretary of the Massachusetts Ice Dealers' Association, who presented the conditions as they exist this season.

Mr. H. Denton White, the treasurer of the corporation, presided. His speech was interesting, with stories that kept his audience in good humor. Speaking of the Horn Pond Ice Co. he pointed out that in the 11 years since the birth thereof, he had with the assistance of their employees, built up a reputation for fair dealing, honesty and service that was second to none in the ice business.

Speaking of the housewife he said: "I doubt if many men go to their place of business with as much on their mind as she. Can you wonder if once in a while she forgets to put her card in the window? If she does, we owe it to her to tell her that she gets the ice she needs as soon after she calls our office up. That is service. But if we do it with pleasure, it is 100 per cent service. She is entitled to it."

"Every business is composed of given parts," according to his statement. Those of the company consisting of capital, ice, integrity, service. The taking of any one of these away would wreck the machine. The necessity of pure ice was stressed, its importance in the ice chest, in the home, both for cooling purposes as well as for drinking water. Mr. White's ambition was he said to have his men respectable, self-respecting, respected and always courteous to every one.

The evening was enjoyed by all present. It was the first of what the corporation hope to continue—the coming together of all the component parts to exchange their ideas."

NEWSY PARAGRAPHS

Purchase your tickets early for the O. E. S. entertainment and dance at the Town Hall, April 28th. It was in the morning, about 1 o'clock, Roland Campbell, 7 years of age, a State ward living with Mrs. Clara Blunt at 692 Main street, was struck by an automobile driven by Julius Champa of North Woburn. The accident occurred near Salem street, one of the most dangerous sections in town. It is reported that the boy, who had been at the store there, ran across the street in front of the auto. Champa took him to Dr. Emery's office, where it was found that he had a bad cut on his head, requiring several stitches, a bruised right hand and knee. The car was on the road in an instant, but was broken when the car hit the boy. Campbell was taken to his home after receiving attention from the doctor.

SEVERAL FIRES

The summer heat over the week-end produced an unusual number of fires, the department being kept on the jump Friday, Saturday and Sunday. A bad fire was just averted on the first named day when the department stopped a brush and grass fire on the estate of Town Engineer James Hind on Forest street just as it reached one of the out-houses attached to the stable. There was no damage to speak of, but the high wind would have carried the flames through the stable had the blaze continued for a few minutes longer.

Saturday's fires opened at 8:30 a. m., when burning grass at the estate of Mr. George B. Hayward, corner of Cambridge street and Everett avenue, required attention. This call was followed at 11:43 by another still alarm for burning grass and at 3:15 for a burning dump on Forest road. At 4:53 box 35 was rung in for a fire on the roof of a barn on Swanton street owned by Mr. John Lynch. Considerable damage was done, the roof being badly burned and the inside damaged. This fire is thought to have been caused by sparks alighting on the roof. At 6:29 p. m. burning brush on Lake street at the rear of the stables of Thomas Quigley, Jr., also required the attention of the firemen. Saturday morning went by without an alarm, but at 1 o'clock box 521 was sounded for a stable on the Hayward estate. This caught from burning grass and was stopped just in time, the damage being slight. Just as the firemen were preparing to leave this fire, box 541 was sounded, two alarms coming in. This fire was for a blaze at the residence of Mr. Nathaniel G. Hill on Wildwood street, where an oil stove caught fire. The first alarm was sounded from the central fire station on a telephone call and the second was the box, which was pulled before the first sound had faded. There was little damage, but much excitement. At 3:15 p. m. a brush fire on High street required the attention of the firemen for a period of over two hours.

Sunday was very quiet, everybody abandoning the burning of their grass and leaves to take an auto ride, and not until Monday forenoon was the department called upon again. The weather at that time being too cold for outdoor sports, the call was not in the line of extinguishing fires but to rescue a horse which had fallen into the Mystic Lake near Sandy Beach. The animal was hoisted up by Metropolitan employees who were working on the walk on the Parkway, and it appeared too near the bank of the lake, the cart slipping over and pulling the horse into the water with it. A line was run from the chemical and horse and cart were hauled out safely and without injury.

INTER-CHURCH COMMUNITY
FOUR, SUNDAY EVENING
UNITARIAN CHURCH AT 7, Rev. James E. Shepard, D. D., of North Carolina, Speaker—"The Race Problem in the South"

Dr. Shepard is helping the colored race solve its problems. He is president of the Teachers' Association of North Carolina, which at present, is the largest and most influential organization of colored people in the State, directing and controlling the educational matters of the race. Five years ago, when he was elected president of the association, they had a membership of only 62. They were in debt and had no standing whatever in the educational world. Today the membership totals around 600 and they are expecting an enrollment of 1000 this year. The association has a standard which is unquestioned and has done more to increase teachers' salaries among the teachers of the race and to improve general conditions than all other agencies combined. Dr. Shepard directs the work of this organization.

He is also Grand Master of the Negro Masons of North Carolina, which is the largest jurisdiction of Negro Masons in the world today. In this position he has had some signal honors, showing the relationship between the races and their regard for him. At Lumberton, N. C., when he spoke last July, a white quartet furnished the music. Composing the quartet was the clerk of the court, the largest wholesale merchant in the city of Lumberton and two Past Masters of the white lodges. The address of welcome was delivered by the Master of the white Masonic Lodge, who in his address did not at any time refer to Negro Masons or white Masons. This was unusual, as there is no connection officially between white and black Masons. When Dr. Shepard spoke at Weymouth, beyond the mountains, the address of welcome was delivered there by the Mayor of the city.

Dr. Shepard is also a member of the State Inter-Racial Committee which is seeking to bring together the races along lines of mutual sympathy and help.

Dr. Shepard is a speaker of persuasive eloquence, clear insight and judicial mind. He will give the people of Winchester an unbiased and illuminating address on "The Relation of the White and Colored Races in the South."

SPECIAL COMMUNITY SERVICE
The Girl Scouts are to help rid your community of the pest known as the European corn borer. This season's fight is on for the saving of crops as the surviving borers resume their activities with the beginning of warm weather in April or May and in a few weeks the first of the present year's two generations will be ready to attack the early crop.

The borer threatens to become a nation wide scourge unless it can be brought under control.

Cooperate with the commissioner of agriculture and his inspectors in checking the devastating progress of the borer.

All property owners in our community to burn or otherwise destroy all cornstalks, corn cobs, corn stubble, vegetable field and flowers from remnants weeds and large stem grasses as soon as they are cut.

Let us as Scouts stir up a wide interest in this pest with subsequent activity for its control.

What Cooperation Can Do

To be successful, every business must have pleasant relations with the public.

Particularly true is this of your gas company, which is essentially a public service company, existing not for itself alone but to meet a great public need.

Because of this ideal partnership, it is evident that the measure of our service is the amount of good-will we secure from the public.

And the public, in the last analysis, means you.

We need your cooperation. And you need ours.

By working together to correct misunderstandings, to avoid waste of gas and to get full efficiency from the use of appliances, we can make our service a good service today, a better service tomorrow and the best service anywhere a year from now.

Will Not Increase Prices on Solid and Pneumatic Truck Tires
Until May 1st

Never has Firestone been so well situated to give operators the greatest measure of Cushion, Traction and Mileage at the lowest cost.

Today, economical manufacturing and distribution are showing the fullest results. Our far-rable purchases of rubber, in advance of the 150% increase brought about by the British Crude Rubber Restriction Act, aid further in maintaining the old price levels.

Whatever the Truck Service—the Firestone Dealer Has the Right Tire

Firestone developments of the past two years have made pace for the industry and set new records in sure, economical performance. Five tires—the Heavy Duty Cushion, the Truck Type Cord, the Maxi-Cushion, the Giant Solid and the High Type—cover the needs of motor haulage in all its forms. Each has a distinct work which it does best. Each possesses a definite and special value for the operator.

Truck owners, using pneumatic tires, will find the answer to every demand of rapid, economical transportation in the Firestone Truck Type Cords with the tread that increases carrying capacity and improves traction, and the powerful gum-dipped carcass construction.

Let the Firestone Service Dealers Keep Your Trucks Moving

There are 800 Firestone Service Dealers, located in the principal trucking centers, fitted by natural ability and a thorough knowledge of trucking, to help you choose the right tire for your roads, loads and service.

Price Protection as Long as Stocks Last

Additional tires will be supplied to Service Dealers only so far as our present output will permit. Consult the nearest Firestone Service Dealer at once regarding your truck tire needs. He is in an advantageous position to give you an unusual tire—a specialized service—and prices which may not be duplicated in months.

MEETING OF THE GIRL SCOUTS
IN MIDDLESEX FELLS

The Winchester Girl Scouts are planning a large meeting in Middlesex Fells Saturday afternoon May 5. Mr. Charles Kendall of the Winchester Water Board will give them a very interesting and instructive talk on Reformation. Through his kindness each Scout will be allowed to plant either a pine or a Norway spruce making in the future a beautiful grove of trees. A site overlooking the water has been selected by Mr. Kendall.

dress the Scouts.

Members of the Winchester Council of Girl Scouts and friends will attend. It is felt that this is one of the finest opportunities that could be given to girls to learn the value of our trees and the care which should be exercised in order to preserve and protect them.

NEWSY PARAGRAPHS

B. F. Mathews, W. E. McLaughlin, funeral directors and embalmers, Tel. Winchester 1236-578-4.

Mr. Charles A. Woolley of Fells road suffered the death of his father, Mr. James Woolley, one of the best known figures on the Boston waterfront. Monday, Mr. Woolley died at his home, 372 Meridian street, following an illness of two weeks. He was 85 years of age and had been at the head of the Commercial Towboat Company since 1877, being of old Boston stock and born on Copp's Hill. The funeral services were held on Wednesday and were private.

HONEYMOON FLATS

The annual play produced by Court Santa Maria, C. D. of A. was presented on Thursday evening, April 19th, and a packed house gave evidence of its appreciation of the good work of the entire cast, as was evidenced by the continued applause. The play, "The Honey Moon Flats," is a comedy in three acts, and is a very clever and original production. The play is a comedy in three acts, and is a very clever and original production. The play is a comedy in three acts, and is a very clever and original production.

It would be hard to select those members of the cast who did special well as all seemed so well fitted for their parts and put so much enthusiasm into their work.

Mrs. Mollie Maguire as the janitor's wife and Miss Mary J. Kelley as the janitor, made a couple "from the Auld Sod" that would be pretty hard to beat, and left nothing to be desired in the way of comedy. Miss Elizabeth Kelly was a very lovely leading lady, her appearance and voice were both very lovely, and her characterization of her part perfect. Miss Ethel Kean, as her sweetheart, was splendid, and she was "swooned" from start to finish. Miss Margaret M. Carron, the "little girl" of the piece, was as charming as any could wish for, and for her acting contributed in a large measure to the success of the program. Mr. Dick Stedley, always wonderfully true in the portrayal of his roles, and who carried off the line of acting with a very clever impersonation of the landlord, Mr. Montford, and the part of Mrs. Montford was finely carried out. Mr. Montford Huerfano was very sweet in her role of "Sally Bonifant". The part of the "Boston American Reporter" was taken by Miss Evelyn Brown, and her snappy acting would do justice even to the "sneaky methods" of the paper she was supposed to represent. The acceptance of "Honey Moon Flats," which the children were allowed to see in the basement room, was a very successful one. Misses Mary, Mattie, Mollie, Margaret, and Elizabeth, who were the "natural talents" of the piece, were very earnest about their work, and their acting was very good. They were very earnest about their work, and their acting was very good. They were very earnest about their work, and their acting was very good.

Mrs. Mollie Maguire and Mrs. Katherine Lynch served as hosts during the dance and Mrs. Daniel Lynch acted as chief of the show. Mrs. Alice Martin, G. R. was in charge of the reception committee and guests were present from many surrounding towns. At the most regular meeting on May 1st, the Court will tender a complimentary dance to the members of the cast of the recent "Honey Moon Flats" and also to the young ladies who took part in the show on April 19th. During the month of May, the Boston College Whist will be conducted by the Court so that it may be able to fulfill the pledge made two years ago to that institution. Mrs. Elizabeth C. McDonald, P. G. R., will be the speaker of the evening at the concert in aid of the building fund, which will be held in K. of C. Hall, Stoneham, on April 30th. Also, Mrs. Mollie Maguire, both of the local Court, will take part in the concert.

BUILDING PERMITS

Building permits issued by Inspector of Buildings for week ending April 25, were as follows:

John Nelson, 7 Water street, wood frame dwelling on 101-103 Sheridan Circle, 26x42.

Mrs. Rogers, 44 Glen road, wood frame garage at 44 Glen road, 20x22.

Mary F. Lynch, 247 Swanton street, wood frame garage at 247 Swanton street, 10x14.

Mr. Smith, 920 Main street, wood frame garage at 920 Main street, 18x20.

H. Wray Robbman, 20 Wedgemore avenue, wood frame garage at 20 Wedgemore avenue, 12x20.

James Donahue, 11 Kendall street, addition to dwelling at 11 Kendall street.

Mrs. Frank B. Welch of Main street, was pleasantly surprised last Friday evening by a large kitchen shower from her many friends. An evening of singing and dancing was enjoyed until a late hour. Mr. and Mrs. Welch will move into their new home on Main street shortly.

Witness, GEORGE F. LAWTON, Esquire, First Judge of said Court, this twentieth day of April in the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three.

Many Winchester residents saw the illustration from the burning barn at the Winning Home on Woburn street Tuesday night. The barn caught fire shortly before 10 o'clock, and for nearly an hour illuminated the heavens with its glow. Nine cows and a bull were burned. Allen A. McKinnon, who lives in a barn on Woburn street, saw the fire and was unable to state how the blaze started. An ice house, situated in the rear of the barn, was also destroyed. The Winning Home, used as an outdoor headquarters for poor Boston children, is well known to many Winchester people.

The Star would fail in its duty should it omit to record this spring, that on the opening of the season our local Nimrod, Charles A. Lane, took a five minute (5) walk from his home and returned with four fine brook trout. Our readers will notice the question over the five minutes, but several residents are thoroughly able to verify the trout part of this spring fishing tale.

WINCHESTER WINS CLOSE GAME

FROM ARLINGTON 5-4

On last Saturday afternoon Winchester High met and defeated her greatest rival, Arlington High, 5 to 4, in a very well played baseball game at Manchester Field. Despite the cloudy and damp weather well over 300 attended and enjoyed the game.

Arlington seemed to have much confidence as the game opened and went to bat with a decided air of assurance. Their fond hopes were thwarted, however, when the three lead-off men found that they were unsuccessful in their attempts to hit

Francis Tansey's well pitched balls.

His control was at its best and his speed was, as usual, exceptional. Winchester, on the other hand, started off in fine style the very first inning, and scored two runs. Realizing that they had lost the opportunity of a first score Arlington showed much determination. But try as they would they did not score until the sixth inning. Winchester had added another in the third.

In the sixth, pandemonium broke loose. Sullivan of Arlington made a clean hit in back of second and Crosby followed with another to left. Long scored these men with a third and

O. E. S. ENTERTAINMENT

AND DANCE

Notwithstanding the heavy rain storm, there was an attendance of over 250 at the Winchester Town Hall

Saturday evening at the entertainment given by the Winchester

Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star.

A very pleasing and entertaining program was given during the hour and a half preceding the dancing by Craford Adams, violinist; Miss Jeanette

Hersey, the "Sunshine Girl," readings and monologues; Miss June Moody,

DAILY PHILOSOPHY

There is a saying, "Laugh and the world laughs with you."

A good way to save the wear on the children's shoes is to have a puddle in the yard.

Where there's a will there's a way, and where there isn't a will there is usually a lawsuit.

Experience is a great teacher—but the pupil is not always nearly always think they are smaller than their teacher.

There isn't much pleasure in staying home from church if the reason is work.

"TIMOTHY AND THE TOWN"

Extracts From a Sermon Preached by Mr. Chubb, Last Sunday Morning

1 Corinthians 16:10 "If Timotheus come, let him be among you without fear."

I have had in mind for some time to preach a sermon on this text, but the occasion never seemed ripe. There has been some excitement among the people, whereby such a sermon might be construed as a political document. There is nothing in it, however, so what I am going to say cannot be considered as propaganda.

I am led, all the more, to speak at this time for three reasons. First, because of an article in a recent issue of the Atlantic by Dr. Crookes of Cambridge in which he shows that while much-making used to be confined to public character is among the things it is now being extended to. Second, because of an address by Prof. Ernest R. Groves of Boston University last Sunday at which he said: "The present tendency to extend the power of government, and at the same time to drive men of ability and mind out of the service, is bound to increase political discontent and bring us further to the verge of social practice." And third, because what I am about to say always reads saying in a democracy.

What I shall say is a few of the wayside philosophy of a man who has been in a position of leadership. The town naturally and justly wanted to get the best out of its public servants. I hope something I may say will contribute to that end.

The Leader and Publicity

In the first place, leaders cannot do their best work under an excess of publicity. We hear about "that fierce light which beats upon a throne, and blackens every life that is a fact, and a tireless fact, no matter how small the throne, to the one who has to occupy it. No one wants a spot light constantly shining on his back. But he knows he cannot do his best work while distracted by this. He wishes to be left alone to do his work. I suspect David must have hurried in to his part to provide him when he wrote that plaintive verse: "Oh, that I had wings like a dove! That I would fly away and be at rest!" He wanted to get somewhere where "the wicked cease from troubling, and the weary are at rest!"

Every public man is reasonably sure of coming in for his share of criticism sooner or later. It makes no difference whether he be newspaper editor, clergyman, teacher, superintendent of streets, school committee man, or what not. Having been brought up in Canada, I never can get quite used to the amount of criticism heaped upon public servants in this country. But times may have changed, even up there, since I was a boy. But such is the case of Washington, in which public men in Washington are held up to ridicule, strikes me not only as unfair, but dangerous, and detrimental to public welfare.

Has it ever occurred to us that the community has certain obligations to fulfill, as a particular man, when it engages a public servant? He comes into the community justly expecting its cooperation and relying upon it to do its part to provide him conditions in which to make his work effective. It was said of Christ that He could do no mighty works there unless He had the "certainty of their belief." And Saint Paul, when he was sending a young man as minister to a certain church, wrote to the members saying: "If Timotheus come, let him minister among thee without fear." Paul had dealt with the public long enough to know that if he could not do his best work unless the atmos-

"EVERY MAN starting out in business will find to go over a road and have to turn back for himself. But he need not go over his road in the dark if he can take with him the light of other men's experience."—John Wanamaker.

It was said of Christ that He could do no mighty works there unless He had the "certainty of their belief." And Saint Paul, when he was sending a young man as minister to a certain church, wrote to the members saying: "If Timotheus come, let him minister among thee without fear." Paul had dealt with the public long enough to know that if he could not do his best work unless the atmos-lition, or a long look up through astronomy. If this does not bring a sense of proportion I know it's time to pack my bag and make for New York, or the Maine woods, or some big town where I can regain my sanity and laugh at myself as well as at Winchester.

The leader must not get bitter. If he can hold his breath long enough the disturbance will blow over. Why this old Church even survived "The Cameo Girl" a year ago last winter! Human beings in the mass are funny things. If one can only cultivate a sufficient sense of detachment to stand off and observe them. They are so excitable, so soon forgetful, so fickle, and yet so lovable. With all their human nature is tough-skinned and tough-souled; it takes a lot to kill it. The town isn't going to the bows because of one mistake, or a dozen of them.

The town has a right to ask of its leader in any field, is he honest, is he clean, has he a policy, is he working seriously toward it, is it a good policy, is he open to suggestion? If it can answer these questions in the affirmative, it should leave him alone, and give him time.

The small town is apt to take itself too seriously. I am reminded of a young woman I knew years ago who used to grow quite rigid on very slight provocation of her temper. What her maid would do to her mother would invariably shout at her "Relax, Maury, Relax!"

Every small community needs someone to say to it from time to time, "Relax!"

And now I hear some good soul say, "Will you listen to that? And after all he said about the movies, too!"

A LESSON IN CIVICS

At the Wadleigh School this week in an eighth grade class the pupils were asked by their teacher to write a paper on the subject "Follow Your Leader," enlarging upon the statement: "The good citizen co-operates with worthy leaders in word, deed, and spirit." The following paper was among those handed in:

"Follow Your Leader"
In the game, "Follow the leader," all the people in the game do exactly as the leader does. But follow the leader can be played in real life, as well as in a game. Before you can do this, in real life or in play, a leader must be selected. In the game, the leader is chosen by the group. In real life, however, it is a great difference. If you follow a bad leader, you may be sure to get into all sorts of trouble. Therefore, select your leader with great care. If someone interested in a five, you should select a leader who is of religious enough to act wisely; someone you can trust; someone who can advise in fact as well as in theory. If you select a leader who is not a slack, careless person, who will try to help and to sense, and who, like as not, would blame everybody.

Right here in school, you have the opportunity to show whether you are what kind of a leader. If you select a leader who is not a slack, careless person, who will try to help and to sense, and who, like as not, would blame everybody.

If you're a good citizen, show it in the way you follow your leaders, co-operate with them in word, deed and spirit. Stand up for them; they are the ones who are going to stand against them on no cause, speak up and tell him he doesn't know what he's talking about.

Co-operate in spirit. Don't get a grudge against a leader because he did his duty by reporting you. If you were out of order, it's your own fault.

"Good Citizens I Know"
The "Good Citizens" are good citizens. When a certain boy persisted in placing his bicycle in a place where it was supposed to be, he was formed him of the fact. Fair warning was given him—still he would not change it. Finally they were compelled to remove it. The boy was taken to the Student Council, and for disobeying the rules, was not allowed to leave his bicycle on the school grounds. It was his own fault. He did not follow his leader. The tenders did their duty in every way by reporting him. If he is a good citizen, he should know it is his duty to follow the rules. Why? Well, I was the "certain" boy.

MRS. MABEL BOYER

Mrs. Mabel Boyer, widow of the late Henry D. Boyer, formerly of Cambridge, passed away on Wednesday afternoon of pneumonia. She was 63 years of age. She had been ill for a period of five weeks, being first taken with pneumonia and then undergoing an operation at the Wadsworth Hospital. She was apparently on the road to recovery when pneumonia set in a second time, causing her death. She was 56 years of age.

Mrs. Boyer was a native of Cambridge, the daughter of John and Abby (Lothrop) Conant. Her husband died in 1914. She was a member of the Unitarian Church, of which Mrs. Boyer was about to become a member, officiating. The burial will be in the family lot beside her husband at Marshfield Hills.

WINCHESTER WATER WORKS

The following data and information concerning our water system, as applying to our reservoirs should prove of interest to all Winchester people. Few of our residents are aware of the cost, the value or the wonderful situation of our water supply. What is being done for the future is also of interest.

The financial status is as follows: The approximate cost of our water system is $308,000, of which $25,000 was expended in the construction of the reservoirs. There has been paid into the Town treasury in round numbers, 1,020,000. This is the gross revenue.

The water receipts for the past year amounted to $37,818. There is still outstanding $61,000 of what is known as Winchester Water Bonds, payable between Jan. 1, 1923 and Jan. 1, 1930, and it would seem safe to estimate that the income during the next few years of the life of these bonds would equal $35,000 per year, which would make $245,000, that would be paid into the treasury by the time those bonds are due, providing we issue no more water bonds. By this time, 1930, there would have been paid into the Town treasury something over $520,000 more than the cost of the whole system. There has been a decided appreciation in the value of these reservoirs during the past five years.

An eminent water engineer is of the opinion that the Winchester reservoirs are worth at least $2,000,000.

In the year 1872 the Town began its construction of the North Reservoir and about 12 years later the construction of the South Reservoir was undertaken, and as the Town at that time was short of funds, instead of completing the cleansing of water was intended to be the South Reservoir, it was decided by the construction of what is known as the Middle Reservoir, thereby creating the Middle Reservoir. The bottom of the Middle Reservoir never has been cleansed and properly treated as the North and South Reservoirs. It may not be amiss to state that the North Reservoir covers 67 acres of water surface and is said to contain 250 million gallons of water. The Middle Reservoir is said to cover 56 acres of water surface, and to contain 184 million gallons of water. The South Reservoir is said to cover 82 acres of water surface, containing 553 million gallons of water, making a total of 605 acres of water surface, and said to contain 983 millions of gallons of water.

When the reservoirs were constructed, the engineer in charge stated that it would not be safe to draw more than 10 feet of water off of the surface of the North, 6 feet off of the Middle Reservoir, and 10 feet in depth off of the South Reservoir.

Our system is one of the few gravity systems in the State, and of the 2314 water communities with the water system, practically speaking, 1900 families get their water from the gravity system, and about 400 families take their water from what is known as the East and West Side high pressure systems.

The most eminent water engineer in our State has stated that, practically speaking, we have the only water shed of its size which amounts to 405 acres of land surrounding these reservoirs upon which there is not a better still never can be located a human habitation.

Adjacent to and surrounding all of the land of the Winchester water shed is something more than 100 acres of land belonging to the Middlesex Fells Reservation, over which the Town of Winchester has a sanitary control by the order of the State Department of Health, making a total of 1000 acres of water and land surface, constituting the water shed. The sanitary conditions of this water shed are of a very high order, and as there has been in the past more or less difficulty with organic matter falling into the water it was advised by the State Board of Health that some of the deciduous trees near the water should be removed and in place of them there should be a substitution of the white pine, and as this matter has been considered by the Winchester Water and Sewer Board with the advice of some of the best authorities in the State, it has seemed wise to continue the reforestation of this water shed.

There has been in the last four years 85,000 of the coniferous trees placed upon this water shed, and this year there are 125,000 in process of transplanting, which will make 120,000 trees. This will practically cover three-eighths of the total water shed of 405 acres.

The State authorities are firm believers in the fact that a water shed covered with the evergreen trees is preferable to that of the hardwood growth in the sense that the falling of the foliage of the coniferous trees is not wafted hither and thither by the wind and forms a splendid coating on the ground protecting it from evaporation.

After these little trees have attained a height of ten or fifteen feet, the ground will practically be covered with a shade so as to protect the snow and ice which may accumulate under these trees through the winter sun, melting by the direct rays of the sun as is now the case with the hardwood growth. And again, wherever the ground is covered with the needles of the pine there is very little liability of vegetation of any kind growing under the trees.

The Water and Sewer Board feels that within the next three or four years this work of reforestation can be comparatively completed, thereby giving the Town a splendid pine forest, located in one of the most beautiful spots in New England. Winchester Water and Sewer Board, By C. E. Kendall.

BARN DANCE

There will be a Barn Dance in the Town Hall on the evening of Friday, May 18, under the auspices of the High School Parent-Teacher Association.

Dancing will be from 7:45 until 11 p. m. and the program will consist of songs, dances, and musical numbers by "Paul Jones" and Virginia Reels (for the old folks). The music will be furnished by Phil Boone's Orchestra.

The outstanding feature of the evening will be dancing by Ormsby Court, a Winchester boy who has won a wide reputation as an eccentric dancer.

Members of the High School Association, pupils of the High School and all others interested in school activities are cordially invited to attend and participate.

Tickets are 50 cents each. They may be purchased at the door and elsewhere. Just where we cannot now announce, but the sources of supply will make themselves known in due time. The proceeds will be used to further the objects of the Association.

The committee of arrangements consists of Clinton E. Farnham, chairman, Mrs. H. W. Ash, Mrs. Philip Bourne, Mrs. D. W. Conins, Miss Eleanor P. Gould, H. S. Chapman and W. S. Packer.

Remember the date, Friday the 18th. Come and trip the light fantastic.

HIGH SCHOOL PLAYS TWO GAMES DURING WEEK

Winchester High plays two games away from home during the week. Tomorrow the team goes to Woburn to play a league game with the High School of that city and on next Wednesday the boys play Stoughton High at Stoughton. Tomorrow's game at Woburn will be the most interesting of the two. Winchester won from Arlington last Saturday and if Woburn is also defeated the championship is practically decided. Exciting Arlington, Woburn has the only team in the league that Winchester has not yet beaten. Although the Woburn pitchers are not as strong as in former years the infield is reported to be the best in the league. With four of last year's starters on the infield lineup the Woburn aggregation seems to have plenty of cause for its confidence.

The game with Stoughton will probably be but a repetition of the first game which was played with that team, which Winchester won by an overwhelming score. When they visit the local team some weeks ago, Stoughton had very little to offer in the way of good baseball and if reports are true they have improved but slightly.

Coach Bond has had the local boys slugging hard all this week and there has been no letup in the practice. Tansy looks to be at his best for the game tomorrow and the outfield has improved a good deal. The hitting has been about the same as usual.

STONEHAM'S 1923 MUSIC WEEK

A number of communities, like Bethlehem, Pa., and Peterboro, N. H., have been famous for years for their music festivals. Stoneham bids fair to gain a similar fame. Last year she attempted a Community Music Week that was a remarkable success and that attracted wide attention. This enterprise is to be repeated in the days from April 29, to May 6. Two things have made this musical celebration possible: a comparatively small community; the large number of skilled professional and amateur musicians residing in the town, and a strong community pride and public spirit. Every element of the population has entered enthusiastically into the movement, while a few individuals—genuine music-lovers—have been willing self-sacrificing to devote hours and days of their time to it.

The week will be ushered in with special and elaborate musical services in the churches of the town. The public schools will use one of the wooden halls in the town, in charge of their Director of Music. One evening will be devoted to a big Community Sing. Every music teacher of the town will hold a recital on one of the afternoons or evenings. On Friday evening the Committee will bring to Stoneham a group of the best artists of the Boston Symphony Society for a concert in the large Armory Hall, seating 1300 people and which last year was crowded to the floors at a similar concert.

HIGH SCHOOL OR PRIVATE SCHOOL

Should graduates of the Wadleigh School attend the Winchester High School or a private school? This will be the topic discussed at the next meeting of the Wadleigh-Parent-Teacher Association to be held in the Wadleigh School on May 14th, at eight o'clock in the evening. Information will be furnished for the assistance of parents in deciding this important question. All interested are invited to be present.

THE SAHARA: WHAT WE DO AND DON'T KNOW ABOUT IT

Passage recently of a fleet of specially constructed automobiles across the Sahara Desert, from the Mediterranean to the once mysterious city of Timbuktu, in less than a month—one-third the time required by camel caravans—deserves to emphasize how little is known of this vast region, whose name is familiar to every school child. In a bulletin from its Washington D. C. headquarters, the National Geographic Society points out some of the "Sahara fallacies."

The trouble with popular knowledge about the Sahara, says the bulletin, is, to paraphrase, that we know so much that isn't so.

Not a "Sea of Sand" "Everyone knows that it is a 'sea of sand,' for example, when as a matter of fact it is predominantly a land of rocky plateaus and mountains, with sand plentiful enough, but playing a minor role.

We know that it is tremendously hot; but we often forget that it is also tremendously cold after the sun goes down. We know that the whole region is bone dry, when in reality the mountains of the interior receive considerable rain and are even said by some travelers to be capped with snow during a part of the year; and area after area is being shown to have water available from artesian reservoirs in the earth below. When the soil is given water it yields most satisfactorily as the oases with their springs, which are natural artesian wells, have proved for ages.

There are good enough reasons for the prevalent misconceptions and the general lack of knowledge about the Sahara. It was known first from its northeastern corner, where it stretches westward from the Nile; and there it is in truth a "sea of sand." The vast billowy, shifting dunes of the Libyan Desert, then, inspired a striking water picture, which came to be applied by the world to the whole Sahara. The fact that a band of sand dunes also extends pretty much along the entire northern edge of the great desert for a hundred or more miles in land from the Mediterranean coast, furnished further circumstantial evidence to convict the Sahara of being a "sea of sand."

Penalties Discouraged Exploration The desolate sand dunes were enough in themselves to discourage most would-be travelers who might have found the truth to the south. Add to this the people who came out of the sands were fierce, fanatical warriors who early established reputations for massacring strangers first and sometimes their own errands afterward, and it is small wonder that the European world went on century after century without knowing anything about the Sahara.

Behind the bulwarks of sand that stretch in a semi-circle from the Nile south of the Mediterranean, below the Atlas Mountains and to the Atlantic, lies the real, and until recently the unknown Sahara. Recent estimates are that loose sands make up between only one-tenth and one-ninth the area of the Sahara. South of Algeria the 10,000 Foot Mountains This roof-peak of the Sahara is almost exactly midway between the Mediterranean and the Gulf of Guinea and not far from the half-way point between the Nile and the Atlantic.

"Christian Science, The Interpretation of Truth," is the subject of the free public lecture to be given at the Town Hall, on Monday evening, May 7, at 8 o'clock. The lecturer is Mr. Frank H. Leonard, of Chicago, Ill., who is duly authorized to speak on this important subject.

Mrs. Margaret Tyner, mother of Mrs. Charles E. Morcy of Oxford street, died at her daughter's home on Sunday. She was 84 years of age, and besides her daughter residing here, leaves one son, Mr. George W. Tyner of Oxford, Maine. The funeral services were held at the residence on Monday afternoon at two o'clock, the Rev. Howard J. Chidley officiating and solos were rendered by Ida Belle Childs, soprano soloist at the First Congregational Church. The burial was in Forest Hills cemetery.

An extremely heavy rain and Sunday night's rain was accompanied by a high wind, the downpour being driven into every nook and cranny who were obliged to be out. Autos suffered in many instances from the water and a large sign over the Shaw & Campbell store on Main street was blown down. Sunday night's storm, while less severe, was very heavy, and Monday saw the brooks and ponds at high level mark.

REAL ESTATE NEWS

The Edward T. Harrington Co. reports the following sales made during the past few weeks:

Sold for Francis M. Davis, her property at 37 Fletcher street, consisting of a two-room dwelling, garage and over 10,000 sq. ft. of land. The purchaser, Mr. Anderson E. H. of Arlington, will occupy about July 1st.

Sold for Charles K. Jones her property at 141 Franklin street, consisting of a two-room house, garage and about 10,000 sq. ft. of land. The purchaser, Mr. William H. Bennett of Chicago, will occupy this house.

Sold for Mildred K. Gleason her property at 100 Wood street and a two-story dwelling, garage and 10,000 sq. ft. of land. The purchaser was a member of Hingham, Mass. Mr. Leland will occupy this month.

Sold for Frank O. Hall, his property at 6 Mystic Valley Parkway. This is the old Bacon estate and is one of the oldest houses in town. The house which is an excellent example of preservation contains 10 rooms and two baths and has every modern convenience. The lot contains three-fourths of an acre and is beautifully laid out with formal gardens, shrubs and shade trees. There is also a 2-car garage. The purchaser is Mr. James F. Jackson of Brooklyn, chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Boston Elevated. He expects occupancy in the fall.

The above sales were consummated through the office of Edward T. Harrington Co., 32 Church street.

DANCING PARTY

One of the coming events which is looked forward to with much anticipation, is the May dancing party to be given by St. Mary's Catholic Society, in Waterfield Hall, next Tuesday evening. The committee in charge is working enthusiastically to make this a success. There will be entertainment for both young and old, as many novel and interesting features are being planned. The music will be furnished by the well-known Creighton's orchestra and a good time is assured for all. The committee in charge is as follows: The Misses Alice Boyle, Mildred Barrett, Violet Carroll, Loreta Donnelly, Anna Drohan, Christina Haggerty, Frances Kean, Mildred Kennedy, Alice Lawlor, Ruth Matthews, Evelyn O'Connell and Anna Oliver.

BOY SCOUT NOTES

The Winchester Boy Scouts have been invited to attend the Boy Scout demonstration to be held in the Harvard Stadium on the afternoon of May 26, in charge of the Boston Council.

Only Scouts in uniform can go. The Winchester Scouts are to meet on Manchester Field at 11:30 that morning, march through Winchester, taking the car which leaves the center at 12:10.

The Winchester Scouts have been requested to give two exhibitions in the Stadium, as per request of the Boston Council, and may give more. Those Scouts who desire to be in the Scout Band or Drum Corps that day or on May 30, are requested to communicate with Mr. Howard L. Bennett, phone 0622-J, or Francis E. Smith, 0586-M.

FAILED TO REMOVE TREE

Truck Damaged Saturday at Winchester Trust Co.

A big five-ton truck of the P. H. White Company of Boston, unloading white into the bin for the Church street at the Winchester Trust Company, failed to remove the tree, although the frame of the truck was bent and twisted. Martin P. Hegarty, driver of the truck, went through the windshield, and his helper, Aaron M. Kelly of South Boston, received a bad head cut.

According to the driver's story after the accident, which occurred at 10:30 a. m., he was driving down Church street when he saw a man step into the street from behind one of the trucks parked on the right side near the door of the building. In reaching for the man he failed to note the truck and so late to avoid it.

The truck was not traveling fast, but the driver went through the glass windshield up to his waist. Fortunately for him the windshield was not of the fixed type but was hinged in a canvas frame. He was dazed and bewildered but not hurt. He struck his head against the top frame of the car and was knocked out for a while. Both men remained with the car after they were taken to the hospital.

The accident was seen by many persons, and the truck was removed with an object of curiosity to the many motorists passing.

MAY MEETING

The May meeting of the Wadleigh Parent-Teacher Association will be held at the Wadleigh School May 14, at 8 o'clock in the evening. There will be a discussion of the following questions:

"Should graduates of the Wadleigh School attend the Winchester High School or a private school?"

Mr. Farnham, principal of the High School, will be present and lead in the discussion.

The nominating committee will report. Officers for the next year will be elected.

This will be the last meeting of the school year. All parents of pupils of school age are invited to be present.

MEETING OF WINCHESTER MOTHERS' ASSOCIATION

The Winchester Mothers' Association will meet in High School Assembly Hall on Wednesday, May 16 at 3 p. m. Mrs. H. V. Neal will speak on "Nature Experiences in the Home."

Members are urged to patronize the food sale in the corridor.

Small children will be cared for by kindergarten teacher. Refreshments and social hour at 4:30.

Baseball starts in less than three weeks, give the Legion Team a boost. Cities and towns throughout the state are backing their Legion teams to the limit. Will not Winchester do the same?

WATER SYSTEM SHOULD BE APPRECIATED

To the Editor of the Star:

In scrutinizing the columns of the last issue of the Star I was delighted when I learned through the courtesy of the members of the Water Board and the Editor of the Star the financial condition of our water system from its infancy up to the present time. Prior to 1873 the inhabitants of Winchester received water for domestic purposes from the then huge unimproved Abington river, that passed only a mile north of Winchester and emptied into Mystic Lake, not far from the town.

It is a pleasure to me, Mr. Editor, that this generation of our future generations will have a debt of gratitude to those men of great vision and high ideas, namely our first Water Board: David N. Stillings, James W. Duggan and Moses R. Herick. They were the men who foresaw the desirability of the Town constructing our present water system that cost $85,000 and is at the present time worth $200,000.

Some folks, I believe, would call that municipal finance.

In connection with the visitation day at the Winchester Hospital, to be held this Saturday, May 12, from 2:30 to 4:30 p. m., there has been placed in the window of William Hevey's drug store a dainty and interesting picture of the training of a hospital nurse from school to graduate. The three stages of the nurse's training are interestingly shown by three dolls, dressed in appropriate costume.

THE FORTNIGHTLY

On Monday morning May 7, a president's conference for the Eighth District was held in the club committee room with an attendance of twenty presidents, Mrs. Clinton E. Ferguson, district director, presiding. Box luncheons were enjoyed at the noon intermission when Mrs. Sargeant and Mrs. Chamberlin of the social committee served ice cream and coffee. The afternoon session was with the presidents and the chairmen of Civics and Home Economics. The speakers were Mrs. McDaniel, Mrs. Brackett, Mrs. Crockett and Mrs. Hood, the third vice-president of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs.

The Club luncheon which comes on Monday, May 14, at twelve thirty o'clock promises to be an enjoyable affair. After the business meeting at 2:30 there is to be an entertainment unique in character which has been arranged by the newly appointed dramatic committee under the leadership of Mrs. J. W. McGaragle, chairman. Mrs. Electa Sherman, a well known teacher of Parliamentary Law and a former president of The Fortnightly will conduct the Course in Parliamentary Law which the Legislative Committee is planning for next year. Delegates to the annual meeting at Swampscott in May have been chosen as follows: Mrs. J. P. Heaton, Mrs. L. W. Crowell, Mrs. A. W. Tupper, Mrs. E. D. Chase, Mrs. E. L. Mudge, Mrs. A. B. Corbitt.

The Dramatic Committee this fall will conduct a class in dramatic personality, taught by Miss Evangeline Weed of the Personality Institute. As the class is limited, applications should be made early to the chairman.

ELKS TO HOLD ANNIVERSARY NIGHT

Next Tuesday, May 15th, is to be "Anniversary Night" at Winchester Lodge of Elks, the affair falling upon the regular meeting night of the Lodge. In connection with the affair there is to be a special entertainment, for which special talent of exceptional ability has been engaged. This celebration is in recognition of the first anniversary of the institution of the Lodge.

The Elks are also meeting with much success in their plans for the May Party to be held on Wednesday evening, May 23rd, which will take place in Waterfield Hall. There will be dancing and refreshments, with a special good time.

There will be entertainment at the meeting of the Lodge on the fifth of June.

MRS. JOHN KING

Mrs. John King died on Thursday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John House of Bond street. She leaves seven children: John King of Peabody, Edward King of Salem, Mrs. Frank Polan of Beverly, Mrs. Daniel House of Holliston, Mrs. Edward House of Lynn, Mrs. John Joyce of Woburn and Mrs. John House of this town. Twenty-four grand-children and 10 great-grandchildren also survive her. Solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated at St. Mary's Church on Saturday morning.

On May Day, at the Winchester Country Club, more than a hundred friends of Mrs. Lewis Wadsworth and Mrs. Frank Merrill were entertained with a bridge, the two ladies giving the party jointly. The decorations were in the affair by Mrs. Roy L. Palmer, Mrs. Charles F. LeRoy, Mrs. Harold Farnsworth, Mrs. Herbert Mead of Arlington, Mrs. William Clewley of Woburn, Mrs. Kenneth Young, Mrs. Oscar E. Wagsatt and Miss Elizabeth Downs.

DAILY PHILOSOPHY

We often lose the happiness of today by brooding over the sorrows of yesterday, or fearing the troubles of tomorrow.
Good deeds and kind impulses are not acquired in the inner world in deserts and lives on when perhaps we can see them no more.
Not only does a clear conscience give power, but it gives light.

It seems to be the desire of most men to begin their reforms too far away from home. The man who wishes improvement strongly enough to set to work on himself is the man who will obtain results.

When we start that clean-up campaign, let us not forget the two mosques, the north end of Wedge Pond.

A new fire alarm box has been installed at 223, at the corner of Glen road and Cambridge street. Autoists should note that it is a bad box to go to with the car as well as all others.

The water of the Aborigines has appeared after its winter disappearance as dry as dirt as ever, the deep brown color extending over to the dam at Myrtle Lake. If this spring's indication is a foreboding of what it will be during the coming summer, our Board of Health should get busy.

The new Bacon street bridge has been closed to travel for the part of the day. The Highway Department needs to work there building the new road. Granite curbing has been set on one side of the bridge, for a considerable distance, and the river banks have been cordoned again and shrubs set out on the slope beside the bridge.

Winchester is not so bad after all. We recently had a car sent from Cambridge to Boston which took one week in transit. We were warned that the mail between those two cities was slow, but thought three days sufficient. After waiting a week for the arrival of the letter we did our errand personally, and were in the Boston office when the letter was delivered. How long would our present Post Office conditions continue with a private firm running the business? Probably there would be no business.

Monday evening's meeting of the Wadsworth-Pringle Parent-Teacher Association, to be held at the Wadsworth School, promises considerable interest to Winchester residents at large, as well as to parents directly concerned. The meat of the meeting is to be a discussion on: "Should graduates of the Wadsworth School attend the Winchester High School or a private school?" The subject is one which is agitating the minds of many people today. Whether the discussion will be balanced or not cannot at this time be confirmed, but either way, everyone interested should attend. The meeting opens at 8 o'clock and the townpeople are invited to attend.

The tree in Church street again figured in an accident Saturday. This time in broad daylight and with the street clear except for the cars parked at the side of Waterfield Building. Whether the tree should be removed or not, rests with the Town. One vote on the matter resulted in an overwhelming expression of public sentiment to remove it. Possibly another vote will be taken. At any rate, these cars which stand all day long in the street in front of Waterfield Building should be moved. They leave little or no space to pass the tree on the right when coming down Church street and very often people are working about them. A sign should also be placed on the tree notifying drivers that they may "pass either side" of the tree. This is a congested place. Cars stop at the Winchester Trust Company, at the Edward T. Harrington office and in front of Waterfield Building. Either the cars should be kept off the street or the tree removed. Perhaps a nice new elm might be set out at the corner of the grounds of the Winchester Trust Company.

SELECTMEN'S MEETING MAY 7

The Board met at 7:30 p. m. Present: Messrs. Byrne, Bateman, Berry and Dotson.
The records of the meeting of April 30 and May 1 were read and approved. Schools (Wadsworth School): A letter was received from the Chief of Police acknowledging the receipt of a copy of a letter received by the Board from the Superintendent of Schools in regard to placing an officer at the Wadsworth School during dismissal period. The Chief states in his letter that he will try to arrange to have an officer there as desired by the School Committee.
Signs: The Superintendent of Streets authorized the town to erect signs on the tree in Church street opposite the Winchester Trust Company.
Board of Survey: (Ralph P. Sylvester's Petition): Mr. Sylvester appeared before the Board in regard to his petition to have a proposed street from Wickford road to Middlesex street laid out by the Board of Survey. Mr. Sylvester was told that the Board is looking into this matter with the Planning Board and that they can tell him nothing definite at the present time.
Highway Dept (Unclassified): Further consideration of the Superintendent of Streets' request to be allowed to purchase a concrete mixer was put over for one month.
Board of Survey: (Daniel C. Lincolnton's Petition): Mr. Howe and Mr. Dean of the Planning Board, and Mr. Parker Holbrook, Engineer, were present on the Board. Mr. Lincolnton presented a petition for a certain street location in Rangely. Mr. Howe and Mr. Dean stated that two other members of the Board had expressed a desire that this street be laid out as wide as possible and that it was the desire of the Planning Board that at least a 20-foot street should be laid out. The Clerk was instructed to write all the answers on this proposed street and ask them to be laid out by the Board whether or not the road would favor a 20-foot street lay-out. Street Lights 1923 (Chisholm road): Mr. Dotson reported the Street Light Committee recommended that a street light be installed at the head of Chisholm road, which will necessitate a pole being placed there. The Board voted to order the electric company to install one 60 c. p. light at the head of this street, and to place a pole in this location to take care of the light. Driveways: Mr. Allen Hubbard, representing the Colonial Filling Station, appeared before the Board in regard to his petition for a driveway from Park and Main streets abutting their property upon which they are building a gasoline filling station. Mr. Hubbard explained at length the need of having wide driveways at this location from the standpoint of his concern. The Board, however, felt that the driveway petitioned for by this company was too wide. The Board then voted to grant the gasoline filling station permission for an opening for a driveway not more than 17 feet wide on Main street and permission for an opening for a driveway not to exceed 10 feet on Park street, the locations of which were shown on a plan drawn on the Board.

Class in Good Judgment will please come forward.
What part of the world life does it form?
Answer. One-half.
What part of our actual lives is dominated by "ifs"?
Answer. Over one-half.
What will meet and overcome many of the foreboding "ifs" in the lives of our dear ones and ourselves?
The class almost shouts the answer.
What is it?
Answer. Good Judgment.

MONTHLY MEETING OF THE WESTERN MISSIONARY SOCIETY

On Thursday of last week occurred the May meeting of the Western Missionary Society. A bright, genial, spring morning and a large number of members in attendance made a happy combination for a pleasant and profitable day's work. Several new members were reported and guests at the noon hour swelled the number present to over one hundred.
Mrs. William LeFavour and Mrs. George Henry had the luncheon in charge.
During the afternoon session, the ladies voted to hold the Annual Sale of the Society on November 1st, and planned tentative arrangements for the same. Such was the enthusiasm of some of the workers present that it is proposed to have porch or parlor gatherings for sewing for the months of June and July.
After the devotional exercises Mrs. Adams read a letter from Mrs. Adams, a letter written after her return to Cotton Valley School, of which she is principal, telling of the pleasure and interest she had received in her stay there. She is in the States of N. Y., Mass., Massachusetts and Rhode Island, and also of some of the difficulties she had found awaiting her return to the school.

Interest in the missionary work at this meeting centered around the Santee Normal Training School for Indians. Interesting items concerning its growth and present-day conditions were read by Miss Felt. The article given was itself a product of the school, being a six-page illustrated folder compiled and printed almost entirely by the students at the normal school. The school at Santee was founded over fifty years ago by Dr. Stephen Riggs, a pioneer missionary to the Sioux, about eight years after the outbreak of the Sioux outbreak. Discouraging must have seemed the outlook viewed from the first primitive buildings in a barren wilderness, and truly different from the beautiful situation of the Mission today it certainly was. Now instead of the barrenness, trees add attractiveness to the grounds and a grateful shade in the summer time. The long log-buildings have given place to a chapel house for the principal, a classroom, a school house, four dormitories, a building containing dining-hall, kitchen and laundry, also farm buildings, as well as small cottages for mission workers. The early days of the work, Dr. Riggs published a leaflet in which he explained the object of the school saying: "It was established for the purpose of raising up teachers, preachers, interpreters and business men for the Dakota, or Sioux nation," in other words to educate the Indians.
As its name indicates the school aims to be a normal training school, but the scholars range all the way from babies to young men and women. Consequently it is difficult to compare it in grade with a school for white children. The teachers try to strike a balance best suited to Indian temperament and capabilities, endeavoring to combine so-called classical subjects with industrial ones, believing the education of the Indian does not mean merely teaching him "how to make a living," but rather, "how to really enter into life." So they train the mind as well as the hand in the printing office, the blacksmith shop, in all farm work, and in the sewing and laundry and cooking classes.
There is a manual training department in the basement of one building with power machinery operated by electric motor, or oil burning engines, including belt saw, plane, lathe, grindstone and band saw.
On the farm, cattle raising is one of the principle occupations, and when improved stock can be obtained, a milk and meat supply will greatly reduce the cost of dining-room fare, as well as teach the pupil the value and management of good animals.
The Indian is thoroughly controlled in ideas and customs by his religion. He does not have that control in his new education, he needs the only true religion which can keep him in the right way. This need is not wholly met in even the W. C. C. A. branches established in some Government Schools for Indians, while most of the education in these Government Schools has introduced the Indian pupil to a world without God in it. He, having lost the faith of his father, is thus left without restraint, or moral law, in a world of manifold temptations. At Santee the Christian religion is the foundation for all school life and school work.
Two new buildings have recently been completed and dedicated to the mission work, but an appeal is sent out for still more help which is needed for the real Americans to whom this country manifestly owes a debt.
The Society voted to send its annual collection of "Anniversary Gifts" to Santee.

ANNUAL COMMUNION OF C. D. OF A.
Next Sunday morning at the 8 o'clock service in St. Mary's Church, Santa Maria Court, C. D. of A., presided by Mrs. Alice Martin, G. R. R. Frances T. Conlon, V. R. P. G. R. Mrs. Martha Moore, very its guest of honor; the past Grand Regent, past Vice Regent and its present officers, will receive communion in a body to signify their unity in the founding of the organization here in Winchester.

Following the mass there will be a breakfast in Lyceum Hall, with Miss Mary J. Kelley in charge of the catering and Fitzpatrick of Malden, caterer. Mrs. Martha Moore Avery will be the speaker at the breakfast, and the heads of the various Catholic organizations in town will be special guests.
The ushers at mass will be Miss Margaret Keely, Mrs. Agnes Lynch and Miss Mary Martin and the committee in charge of arrangements includes Mrs. Alice Martin, G. R. R. Frances T. Conlon, V. R. P. G. R. Mrs. Martha Moore, Elizabeth C. McDonald, V. R. P. G. R. Mrs. Frances T. Conlon, V. R. P. G. R. Mrs. Katherine Lynch and Mrs. Margaret Haley.

THE GEOGRAPHY OF CABINET GOVERNMENTS

Geography necessarily deals with kings and presidents and emperors, who change the face of political maps, and influence economic conditions; not so frequently does it reckon with cabinets which are a growing factor in world affairs.
Before the world war broke up the autocracies of Europe, France was the only Republic on the continent employing a cabinet system of government. Now the list includes, besides France, Finland, Estonia, Latvia, Lithuania, Poland, Germany, Czechoslovakia, and Austria, states a bulletin from the Washington, D.C., headquarters of the National Geographic Society.
Recent agitation to permit members of the United States cabinet to be present on the floor of the Senate and House and to take part in debate on matters concerning their departments serves to bring out the differences between the privileges and duties of the cabinet members of various countries.
To begin with, the "Cabinet" of the United States is a cabinet in name only, for the government of the United States is in no sense a "cabinet government" as the governments of Great Britain and France, and those of a large number of the other leading countries of the world. There is not even formal sanction for the existence of our cabinet as an advisory council to the President. The members have no undoubted legal status as heads of the various administrative departments, but the President need never call them together. President Washington held no cabinet meetings at first, and President Wilson did not call his department heads together for a period of many months. While the President does not receive the advice of his cabinet, he is under no obligation to follow it.
Britain "Mother of Cabinets"
Great Britain is "the mother of cabinets" as well as the mother of parliaments." Her cabinet is not of a fixed size and while most members are heads of departments, there may be members without portfolios who have no special duties. In direct contrast to the situation in the United States, every member must be a member of either the lower or upper house of Parliament. All have seats in both houses and therefore not only have the privilege of debate but also of voting.
An important vote in the House of Commons goes against the cabinet's members' resignation, as well as the cabinet's resignation, to be formed.
The cabinet, under the British system, is really a committee of the House of Commons which the party in power permits to manage all executive affairs and to shape and lead all legislative action. The Cabinet in action is the real government; while it functions the Prime Minister is the real ruler, and Parliament is his instrument.
Chile Has Real Cabinet
But there are checks and balances. The House of Commons can force the resignation of the Cabinet, and the Cabinet can force the dissolution of the House. The matter is thus put squarely up to the people, who elect another House, from the majority of which a new cabinet is chosen.
Practically all of the older part of the Western World is under cabinet government. This includes all of Europe except Russia and Switzerland, South Africa, and the French portions of North Africa. Canada brings a large part of North America into the cabinet column. In the East, Australia and New Zealand have true cabinet governments. Japan has a slightly modified form, and China a nominal one.
The constitutions of most of the countries of the Western Hemisphere have been modeled after that of the United States with an absence of responsible cabinets. Chile is the only republic in the New World with a cabinet whose members both sit in Congress and must resign when there is a formal vote of "lack of confidence."

THE FORTNIGHTLY

With a most attractive and excellent luncheon in the Town Hall under the management of Mrs. Seales attended by three hundred and fifty members and guests, the club ended its activities for the year. Long tables, prettily decorated with calenda and marquerites by Mrs. Chase and Mrs. Cummings of the art committee, were arranged throughout the hall, the speakers table being directly in front of the stage. Mrs. Emerson proved a clever and charming hostess, mistress. The toasts to which the various speakers gave two minute replies spelled the word "Fortnightly."

Mrs. Ripley, in speaking of former friends paid tribute to the founders of the club. Old associates were fondly remembered by Mrs. Manning. Rules and regulations Mrs. Sherman noted humorous instances of the lack of parliamentary law in the early days of the club. "Tadpole" was requested to tip Mrs. Ely in quantity come vein. Early notions of the club were recalled by Mrs. Nichols who said that because of the fortnightly nature in 1882 that a superintendent of schools was needed in Winchester, one was finally secured on part time.

Wellington cited instances of inspirations for good deeds done by the club. "Girls," Mrs. Bonis subject, Fortnightly girls, of course, were compared with New York girls, were compared of the latter and illustrated by a funny story. Hints to club members given by Mrs. Apple in natural form were decidedly funny. Telegrams next received and were read by Mrs. Woodside. President Harding in a telegram to Mrs. Seales regretted his inability to be present. Chief Justice Taft offered his judicial advice free to Mrs. Mason during the coming year. Mrs. Barnard of the membership committee was assured of the loyal support of Governor Cox. Mrs. Heaton was ordered to suppress all items in the Fortnightly News by chief of police McIntosh. Dr. Elliott sent offers of aid to Mrs. Powers of the education committee. Mrs. Hildreth telegraphed Mrs. Emerson that she would be glad to tell her how to run a club. Mr. Symmes of the forestry board wired Mrs. Sanderson for a few strong women to plant trees.

Miss Maude Folts spoke upon "Setters." Mrs. Hildreth's toast in verse entitled "You" completed the spelling of Fortnightly and the speakers displayed cards bearing the letters The Fortnightly, recited:

The Fortnightly, The Fortnightly;
It is composed of you and me.
Our motto, "Progress."
We give our best,
Good deeds accomplished,
That's the rest.

Mrs. Hildreth, speaking briefly on decoration presented the pin of Massachusetts State Federation of Women clubs to Mrs. Mason. Miss Quimby spoke on question, presenting Mrs. Jordan a former member of the club, now of Portland, and active on many committees and a loyal worker, with a platinum bar pin set with sapphires as a token of the esteem of her fellow committee members. Dr. Mary Maynard told of the interest of the education committee in Americanization work in Winchester.

The program which followed was under the direction of Mrs. Garagole of the dramatic committee.

Violin solo—Miss Felber.

"The Two Lunatics" a short skit with the parts taken by Mrs. Daniel Kelley and Mrs. Pearl Bates Morton was very amusing and Mrs. Morton's singing was much enjoyed.

Mrs. Lillian Clark, a youthful harpist, played several selections with remarkable power and technique for a child.

Mechanical Jane, the last but not least of the occasions, a one act farce brought down the house with laughter. The parts of the two spinners in search of a maid were wonderfully well taken by Mrs. Fessenden (whose masculine voice we shall not soon forget) and Mrs. Una Bird, Mechanical Jane, herself, wound up and apparently never going to stop, was the hit of the piece. Her identity is a state secret.

Those who attended voted it a unique and entertaining afternoon.

WINCHESTER 'LAUNDRIES' ORCHESTRA PLAYS AT WAYLAND, LEXINGTON, AND AMHARD

The month of May is proving to be a very busy month for the Winchester Laundries Orchestra. On May 2 they played at Wayland, on May 15 at Lexington, and on Tuesday evening, May 22, they are to play for the fourth time at Amhard. Broadcasting Station, Melford Hillside, from 8:30 until 10 p. m.

The concert at Amhard will be listened to with interest not only in New England, but in other states as well by those who have radio sets in their homes. Since the last concert, many complimentary letters have been received from "listeners in" as far west as Ohio and south as Virginia, speaking particularly of the excellent program rendered.

Unusual interest is being taken radio fans throughout the country to determine just how many stations they can hear distinctly and well. On Monday evening, May 21, at ten o'clock Massachusetts time, the station WOC at Davenport, Iowa, will broadcast a talk on laundry work which should prove interesting and instructive not only to housewives, but to those interested in the advance which the laundry industry has made in recent years.

W. C. T. U. NOTES

The people of this state owe gratitude to Governor Cox for the splendid stand he took on vetoing the proposed referendum, which in effect asked the people of this state to express their opinion as to whether the constitution of the United States when lawfully amended should remain the supreme law of the land. We know that in the majority of the states the prohibition law is giving satisfaction and is being generally observed, but the liquor forces are combining their efforts and using all their power along the Atlantic coast in their effort to prevent such a result. Therefore let us thank the Governor for placing himself emphatically on the side of right in his effort to place our old Bay State where she belongs, on the side of law and order, and in harmony with our federal law.

The Winchester Laundries*REPUBLICAN CONFERENCE IN WINCHESTER MONDAY

The Women's Republican Club of Winchester, which has just completed its organization, is to be congratulated upon being chosen to entertain so important a gathering as the Regional Conference of Republican Women to be held in Winchester, Monday, May 21, when members of the State Republican Committee, chairmen of departments and of city and town committees, and visiting delegates from seven Senatorial Districts will gather in the Town Hall to consider various phases of the new responsibilities and political activities of women voters.

Among the many out of town guests at the luncheon in the Congregational Church Vestry, to which everyone is invited, will be Mrs. Charles Sumner Bird, who will bring a message to the local club from the Women's Republican Club of Massachusetts, of which she is the president.

At the afternoon session, to which anyone and everyone, both men and women, are invited, the speakers will be as follows:

Congressman Frederick W. Dallinger on "The Tariff."
Congressman Robert Luce on "The Harding Administration."
Dr. Toshi Hish, the Teddy Roosevelt of China, on "The World Court."

SELECTMEN'S MEETING, MAY 14

The Board met at 7:30 p. m., all present.

Memorial Day: A letter was received from J. Ervine Johnson, Adjutant, Sons of Veterans, stating that he has been directed by the commander of the A. D. Weld Post, G. A. R., to extend to the Board an invitation to attend the exercises on Memorial Day, and to assist them in honoring the men in Winchester who served in the Civil War. The Clerk was instructed to write Mr. Johnson that the Board will be pleased to accept the courteous invitation of the A. D. Weld Post, G. A. R.

Burial Agent of Deceased Soldiers and Sailors: A letter was received from the Commissioner of State Aid and Pensions stating that the appointment of Walter B. Lord of 16 Hancock street, Winchester, meets with the Commissioner's approval. The Board appointed Mr. Lord to serve in this capacity, he having been designated for the position at a previous meeting.

Independence Day: The chairman is to act as a committee of one to arrange for the proper observance of Independence Day.

Cottage Avenue: Mr. Frank B. Reynolds of Cottage avenue appeared before the Board to find out when work will be started on Cottage avenue. The Board stated that they would do the work on this street as soon as possible.

Gins Maine: The petition of the Arlington Gas Light Company for extension of its gas main on Nelson street was laid over another week.

Driveways: A letter was received from J. Albert Horn of 100 Main street, Winchester, asking the Board to remove a section of the curb stone at the corner of Main and Clark streets for the purpose of constructing a driveway. He asked that he be allowed to remove more of the curb stone than the Board has granted him permission to have removed. After considering the matter the clerk was instructed to notify Mr. Horn that the Board is unable to grant his request, for the removal of more curb.

Board of Survey (Lewis Parkhurst's Petition): The Board approved the plan (drawn) by Mr. Parkhurst according to the request of the Board dated January 20, 1923, drawn by D. W. Pratt, engineer, and designated "Relocation of the public street between the Mass." This plan was approved by the Board acting as a Board of Survey under the provisions of Chapter 194, Acts of 1917 and acts in amendment thereof or in addition thereto. The plan was ordered set in the Town Clerk for filing. At a previous meeting Mr. Parkhurst, petitioner, appeared and stated that the plan of land showing the entire layout of Brooks street was on file at Cambridge before the Board of Survey act became effective, and that the layout of Brooks street is permanent and cannot be changed.

Licenses 1923 (Garage): An application was received from W. O. Blaisdell for a garage license at Wedge road. The Board voted to set a hearing to consider this petition in the Selectmen's room, Town Hall Building, on June 4, 1923 at 8 o'clock p. m.

Licenses 1923 (Explosives and Inflammables): A petition was received from Rosa Fighelli for a gasoline license at corner of Harvard and Washington streets. The Board set a hearing to consider this petition for June 4, 1923 in the Selectmen's room at 8:15 p. m.

Licenses 1923 (Explosives and Inflammables): A letter addressed to Mr. James Hinds was turned over to the Board by Mr. Hinds relative to the Standard Oil Company's offer to loan and install free of charge one five-gallon outside gasoline pump and one ten-barrel tank with 500 gallons for the exclusive use of Socony products. Enclosed with this letter was a form of contract to be signed should the Board decide to have the tank installed. The Board decided to set a hearing in regard to this matter for June 4, 1923 at 8:30 p. m. in the Selectmen's room. Mr. Hinds is to furnish the Board with more information in regard to this matter.

Trees: A petition was received signed by A. Miles Holbrook, Mrs. C. T. Knapp, E. H. Butterworth, George F. Arnold and M. A. Shirreff, all tenants on Common street, asking that four trees on the southwest side of Common street be removed, as they are so near the stores on this street that they make the stores in question very dark in the summer time. This matter was referred to the Tree Warden for report.

Hydrants: A petition was received signed by Stanley B. Puffer and a number of others, all residents of Harrison street, asking that a fire hydrant be established on Harrison street. The natural location, the petition states, would appear to be on the westerly side of the street, near the center of its length. This matter was referred to the Water and Sewer Board.

Building Lines: A petition was received signed by Stanley B. Puffer and a number of others, all residents of Harrison street, asking that building lines be established on each side of this street with a set back from the inner line of the sidewalk of 26 feet. This matter was referred to the Superintendent of Streets for report and the matter is to be placed on the docket when all other street acceptances and building line matters now on file will be considered.

Woodside Road: The Board voted to authorize the Town Engineer to have both ends of Woodside road permanently constructed as requested by him in a memorandum to the Board. The meeting adjourned at 11:10 p. m.

George S. F. Bartlett, Clerk of Selectmen.

Mr. Alonzo P. Weeks was elected trustee at the 9th annual meeting of the Boston Bank Officers Association Wednesday evening. The membership of this association now numbers 1908.

SINGING SHOULD COME FIRST

Famous English Musician Gives Advice as to Musical Education of the Child.

Italized in an article by Sir Dan Godfrey is this sentence: "No child should be given piano lessons until he has sung for some years in order to develop his musical sense." He points out that perfection in singing is attained very early in life, and this power brings contact with beauty before drawing is developed or color appreciated. Singing is a personal art that it lends itself to the development of the individual as nothing else does. The joy which a child gets in reproducing beautiful melodies is like no other experience in life. Piano playing requires so much attention that the little performer often forgets very little of the music. The capacity of children for memorizing and performing suitable music is very great, and few, in proportion, have no ear for music. Generally speaking, they are better performers than listeners, except when listening to music they know. School without music would be a barren place, for apart from its educational value, good music provides a bond of sympathy between teacher and pupil. In this short article Sir Dan Godfrey has given a lead to parents on the right lines. He wants children's ears to be trained, their taste awakened, their listening powers developed, and their love of the beautiful cultivated through musical study.—Montreal Family Herald.

CREDIT GIVEN CASTE SYSTEM

Long Freedom of India From Plague Was Indirectly Caused by Its Prevalence.

Although Europe had suffered from many visitations of plague before and during the Middle Ages, it was not until the nineteenth century that plague came to India.

This was due to the prevalence in India of the ancient caste system of the Brahmins, which resulted in separation and segregation. The higher castes, who lived in towns, were free from the pest, and between each of such segregations open spaces were left, which allowed the circulation of fresh air, and provided for expansion without congestion. Thus, unwittingly, the caste system adopted one of the most effective measures for preventing the spreading of disease.

Under the British administration, caste rules were less strictly observed, and the different castes tended to converge, while congestion increased, resulting in the first appearance of plague in the city of Mangalore, capital of the native state of Mysore, South India. It broke out in the most congested quarter, where sunlight and air were excluded or polluted.

Plants That Select Homes.

One of the chief popular distinctions between vegetable and animal life is that the animals have power of choice and of voluntary motion, while vegetables and plants grow only mechanically. But the microscope seems to show that many vegetable forms can move as easily as can animals. There is a plant called the volvox globator, so minute that millions of it could be put in a drinking glass, which is seen to whirl like a top across the field of the microscope. Some plants found in ponds, which are some minute, move habitually, as with an apparent purpose. Naturalists who have given closer study than others to clinging plants state that these seem to exercise the liberty of choice. Their tendrils, in climbing over places of wood with holes, will try one hole after another until they find one that pleases them. One investigator after having pushed itself in a hole for 36 hours.

Fall of the Roman Empire.

The fall of the Roman empire was in A. D. 476, when the western empire was finally extinguished by the deposition of Romulus Augustus as emperor of the West, and the proclaiming of Odoacer as king of Italy. The later Roman or Eastern empire, with its capital at Byzantium (Constantinople), continued to exist for a thousand years longer. Its history may be divided into four periods: (1) That covering the struggle with Persia, ending in favor of the empire about 630 A. D.; (2) the struggle with the Saracens, who were practically crushed in the eleventh century; (3) the wars with the Seljuk Turks in the eleventh and twelfth centuries; and (4) those with the Ottoman Turks in which the Roman power at last went down in 1453, when Mohammed captured Constantinople, and the last emperor, Constantine XI, was killed.—Literary Digest.

No Oil in Cat's Fur.

Many animals are protected by nature with a sort of oilskin coat. By excreting oil from their skin they are able literally to turn off water. With the cat, however, it is different, her fur behaving exactly as a dressed fur overcoat belonging to any human—that is, the fur clots at its tips and becomes waterlogged. The only advantage is that the unfortunate cat, being unable to take off its soiled coat, gets "wet through," and, coming of ancestors from a dry climate—our domestic cat originated in Egypt and on the shores of the Mediterranean—is peculiarly liable to "catch cold."

ODD IDEAS CONCERNING RATS

Belief That the Rodents Could Not Live in Certain Parts of Scotland—Witchcraft Symbols.

Many curious beliefs formerly prevailed in Scotland concerning the rat. One of the most common of these was that there were certain districts where rats could not live, and could not even be introduced. The old Scottish historian Henry Boece states that there were no rats to be found in his day in Buchan, while a later author, Sir Robert Gordon, made a similar statement regarding Sutherlandshire. He says, "If they come thither in ships from other parts, they die presently, how soon they do smell the air of that country." At the same time, according to a correspondent of the Spectator, he asserts that rats abounded in the neighboring county of Caithness. Even so late as 1754 the belief prevailed. The writer of the article on Morven and Rosebank in "The Statistical Account of Scotland," states that attempts were made to introduce the rat into these parishes, but without success. With regard to Rosebank, he says: "From a prevailing opinion that the soil of this parish is hostile to that animal, some years ago a West Indian planter actually carried out to Jamaica several casks of Rosebank earth, with a view to kill the rats that were destroying his sugar-cane. It is said this had not the desired effect, so we lost a valuable export." During the period of the witch mania rats were looked upon as the symbols of witchcraft. That they could be exterminated by a series of rhyming was a belief common to both Scotland and Ireland, though more popular in the latter country than the former.

AIDED THE DEPUTY SHERIFF

Humorous Incident in Which "Gunman" Figured Prominently in Early Days of the West.

In his "When the West Was Young," Frederick R. Bechold tells of the meeting in Cochise county, Arizona, between young Brockbridge, a sheriff's deputy, and Orry Bill, a gunman who had just arrived from the East. The deputy had been sent out to collect taxes in a rough region and he would admire to have Bill ride along to help him take care of the roll. We read:

"Orry Bill was a great deal stouter at thinking than he was at drawing his gun, and there was much food for thought in that bold proposition. "He gazed at young Brockbridge for some moments in silence. Gradually his lips relaxed. Smiling, he turned and addressed the occupants of the room. "Boys," he cried, "line up." "And when the line was formed he turned to the deputy and said: "This here's the deputy sheriff, come to collect the taxes in our end of the county; and I aim to help him do the job up right."

Here seems to be one of the reasons why they speak of "bare old days" in the American occident.

Perfect Platonic Friendship.

The friendship between the great artist, Michelangelo, and the Roman noblewoman Vittoria Colonna, is one of the world's most illustrious examples of platonic friendship, says Oliver Barton in the Mentor Magazine. When she first met, Vittoria Colonna was forty-six and Michelangelo sixty. She became the greatest influence in the life of the very genius. They were accustomed to meet outside of the church of San Silvestro, and discuss painting and life. The gist of these dialogues was set down by another artist and later polished as Michelangelo's "Dialogues on Painting." After withdrawing to the cloister the Marchessa Colonna continued to communicate with the master. A book of her sonnets was always with him. She died in 1547, but until his death he remained as devoted to her memory as he had been to her in life.

Indian Legend of Rattlesnake.

A Texan reports killing a rattlesnake in west Texas that measured eight feet and had 24 rattles and a button. But in the winter of 1898-99, when the Kansas volunteer regiment joined General Sheridan's command, the roving soldiers discovered, in Wichita mountains, a den of rattlesnakes which tops the record. After the soldiers had taken their souvenirs and had thrown a number of the reptiles into the creek and brush, 128 were counted. Several, without their heads and tails, measured eight feet and were six inches in diameter. The sun total was estimated at 200.

As usual, the Indians claimed that the den was a "medicine" den. An aged Arapahoe chief had entered it, to die, and had turned into a monster diamond-back, the father of all the snakes in that country.

English Clay Pits.

Golders Green in London derives its name, it is said, from the fact that "gaulters," or clayworkers, could obtain good material for wattle dubbing. There are numerous instances where the word "gaulters" or "gaulters" is used in connection with clay working. A "golden Way" in Suffolk led to some clay deposits of excellent quality for building purposes. The name is akin, therefore, to the "clay pits" between Ealing and Uxbridge where the medieval builders in Middlesex obtained building material. These pits were subsequently used for burial pits in the Great plague.

"Growth" of Rocks.

Growth is usually looked upon as something that occurs internally and not by external process. The growth that is due to external additions, such as the building up of sandstone, granite, etc., in process of time, is more correctly spoken of as "accretion." The formation of crystals by the cooling of a hot saturated solution of a salt resembles animal growth in appearance, but it is not a true growth, as it is not accompanied by increased weight.

True Criticism.

It has indeed been advanced by Addison, as one of the characteristics of a true critic, that he points out beauties rather than faults. But it is rather natural to a man of learning and genius to apply himself chiefly to the study of writers who have more beauties than faults to be displayed; for the duty of criticism is neither to depreciate, nor dignify by partial representations, but to hold out the light of reason, whatever it may discover.—Samuel Johnson.

Seating the World.

At a chair factory in a North Carolina town an old negro had been loading chairs all day on a huge truck, to be taken to the depot for shipment. The shades of night were falling and the old man was very tired. He thought his day's work was over, when the truck backed up to be loaded once more, whereupon the old man exclaimed: "It do look like dis here world would get set down after a while."—Atlanta Constitution.

Self Deception Foolish.

The worst of all deception is self-deception. The most grievous error is that of thinking that one's inner self, the better self, can be fooled. It simply can't be done. And he who tries it, and thinks that he can lay his moral wreath upon free-lion's altar, some day awakes to find it in a sepulcher of corruption. He cannot entirely atone for those misdeeds. What we owe ourselves we owe others. What we owe others we owe ourselves.—Grit.

"OUR CHRISTMAS TREE AGAIN"

The above cartoon by "Bartlett" was published in the Star of Dec. 10, 1915. It has been reproduced by request, the action for the removal of the big elm tree in Church street again coming up as a point for argument since the accident a fortnight ago.

An attempt was made to remove the tree in 1915 and upon a vote by the Town the advocates of allowing it to remain in the middle of the roadway won out. The cartoon depicts the joy of the winners. Several former residents will be recognized in the picture, including the late Samuel J. Elder, Charles S. Tenney, former resident of the Calumet Club; Frank A. Cutting, A. Miles Holbrook, Freeland E. Hovey, Dr. Ralph Putnam and others.

Times have changed considerably since 1915, and some of the old supporters may not rally so strongly to keep the tree in the street. It has been suggested that the Town take another vote on the question.

Conference of Directors of U. S. Government Savings System, Washington, D. C., April 16 to 19, 1923

This photograph, taken at the conclusion of the recent Conference of Directors of the U. S. Government Savings System held in Washington, is proof of the interest which the Administration is taking in this unique method of interesting the people of small means as partners in the Government of our country.

Since January 1st, 1922, the Government has provided for cash or loaned in exchange for insured War Savings Stamps, Treasury Savings Certificates to the amount of $292,000,000, and thousands of small investors have thus safeguarded their money where loss from monetary depression or from burglary or fire is impossible.

These All the Difference. Some girls don't write home for college for several weeks and some run out of spending money in a few days.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Not Easy to Assimilate. Much of the food for thought that is offered gratuitously is indigestible.— Toledo Blade.

By No Means. Men of strong character make many enemies, but that doesn't necessarily imply that men who have many enemies are men of weak character.

Not Good to Be Alone. Many a man when alone with his thoughts finds that they are rather disagreeable company.—New Orleans States.

O. Henry. "If not in coin, you must pay in humiliation of spirit for every benefit received at the hands of charity."—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

Yale Yelled, "Going, Gone." Nihil Yale, the founder of Yale college, is said to have been the first man in England to conduct a sale by investment than Treasury Savings Certificates, which pay interest at the rate of 4% compounded semi-annually and are free from every possible danger of loss. The individual loans thus made to the Government give valuable assistance in financing these World War obligations which are now becoming due. They also guarantee safety and a good interest rate to the investor. The limit of individual subscription is restricted to $2000 maturity value which costs $400, but each member of a family may hold that amount if he so elects.

Full information regarding these securities may be obtained from our Postmaster who will give applications prompt and careful attention. Our Director for this District, Mr. F. C. Atree, 252 Federal Building Boston, will give personal attention to applications for adjustments of Victory Notes or advice as to investment in Treasury Savings Certificates.

With Many an Unexpected Turn. Woman is like a vaudeville theater program—subject to change without notice.—Boston Evening Transcript.

In Hard Luck. "Now, sub, I jes' couldn't get no results with them dices. It's only got one shirt between an an' starvation."—Nashville Tennessean.

To Stop the Squeak. You will find that if you vaseline is heated a little and rubbed on doors, chairs, beds or hinges that squeak, they will at once become noiseless.

REFORESTATION OF THE WATER SHED OF THE WINCHESTER RESERVOIRS

The act of reforestation upon the Water Shed of the Winchester Reservoirs may be considered from several angles. One of the first is that of sanitation. By the planting of the coniferous trees we escape the disadvantage of contamination by the leaves of the hardwood trees. In the fall of the year the leaves of the hardwood trees are blown about by the wind and cover the ground in a layer of leaves. This layer of leaves is a breeding place for the growth of bacteria and is a source of contamination. The coniferous trees, on the other hand, have a smooth, waxy surface which does not collect leaves. The ground beneath them is covered with a layer of needles which decay rapidly and do not become a breeding place for bacteria. The coniferous trees also have a deep root system which draws water from the ground and keeps it from becoming stagnant. This is a great advantage in a water shed. Another advantage is that whenever the shade is dense and the ground is covered with the foliage, it prohibits the growth of bushes of all kinds, thereby saving quite a large amount of moisture that would be consumed by this growth of vegetation. This conservation of the water falling upon this water shed is quite an advantage in giving us an extended water supply. It may be generally known that of the average rainfall of 45 inches upon this water shed there is an evaporation of 39 inches upon the surface of the reservoirs through a twelve-month period.

This fact has been established by the State authorities during a ten-year period of study in this matter of evaporation of fresh water in and around Boston. The Water and Sewer Board, after consulting with State forestry authorities, have been setting very largely trees of the white pine, spruce, fir and several hundred of the Douglas fir and of the arbutus. After studying the reforestation work we find that there are several points with which we have to contend. The hardwood growth is liable to be seriously affected by the spruce moth and the brown tail. The white pines are liable to be afflicted with what is known as the pine blister rust and also the white pine weevil. The blister rust is of the most serious nature.

Pine Blister Rust Can Be Controlled
It has already been made clear that the blister rust cannot go directly from one pine to another. It must first grow as a rust on currant and gooseberry leaves. The spores which transmit the disease from currant and gooseberry leaves to white pine are very delicate and live only a few minutes, hence the spores die before they reach the pine in any great distance. Therefore, the remedy against the blister rust is to pull up all wild and cultivated currant and gooseberry bushes within 900 feet of white pines.

What To Do
Find and uproot every wild currant and gooseberry bush within 900 feet of the white pine you desire to protect. Be sure to examine all of the ground for the wild bushes. Remember there are many kinds of these bushes, such as currant, gooseberry, skunk currant, and wild red and black currants.

Blister rust cannot spread from pine to pine. It is transmitted only after developing on currant or gooseberry leaves. It lives in the pine bark from year to year until the tree is finally killed.

Pines under 20 years old are especially in need of immediate protection. It is earnestly desired by the Water and Sewer Board that all of the inhabitants of Winchester take as much interest as possible in this splendid work of creating a fine forest for the benefit of our water system as well as other beneficial reasons.

G. A. R. WILL OBSERVE MEMORIAL DAY

A. D. Weld Post 148, G. A. R., will hold its customary observance of Memorial Day this year, assisted by the Sons of Veterans, Spanish War Veterans and Winchester Post, American Legion. The veterans of all wars are invited to turn out with the Post and join in the observance of the day. At 10 a. m. the members will meet to decorate the graves at Calvary Cemetery, with the drum corps of the Girl Scouts of Malden furnishing the music. The Sons of Veterans have kindly volunteered to assist the Post in the decoration of the graves. The music will be by the Mal-Con Band.

The general orders which this week, are signed by Henry Smalley, Commander, and Henry Richburg, Senior Vice-Commander.

On Sunday evening May 27th, the Post will attend divine worship at the Church of the Holy Trinity, the sermon being preached by the Rev. Allan Evans, Jr. This service will be at 7 o'clock.

WINCHESTER BOY HEADS COMPANY

The U. S. Machinery Mfg. Company, makers of the Ford Household Dishwasher, is opening new territory in this vicinity. T. E. Clifton, a former resident of Winchester, heads the distributing company, Eastern Massachusetts and has made arrangements with a local shop to handle the machines in this town.

The dishwasher is a real find of a meal and closes a pleasant hour of family life. When the meal is finished there comes the rest hour, which holds an important place in all of our household duties. The dishes are all that remains in the household work, but that hangs as a dark cloud over the person, or persons concerned.

Dish-washing machines have been on the market for several years, but so complicated, so large, and so expensive that there has been no appreciable demand for them. Our modern kitchens have no use for a large and complicated machine in every home, no matter how large or how small.

The Ford dishwasher is a new machine on the market, but it is an old machine in that years of exhaustive study of dishwashing problems have been made in order to produce a machine that outlasts, outworks, but under-sells any machine on the market today.

Eggs or grease stains are removed in an instant, while glasses and cups are washed, sterilized, and dried in less time than can be imagined. Dishes are washed not as the careless kitchen girl washes them, but as one who is a housewife delights to wash. Two and one-half minutes per wash, at a cost of five cents per week, solves your dishwashing problem. The Ford dishwashers are now on distribution at Parsons' Electric Shop, 539 Main Street, Winchester where any request for additional information will meet with prompt attention.

COMMITTEE OF SAFETY CHAPTER D. A. R.

The Committee of Safety Chapter, D. A. R. of Winchester, was founded in Boston, Mass., in the year 1901, by Miss Marie Ware Laughton. In 1919, by a unanimous vote of the members, it became a Winchester chapter. Unfortunately, through the death of a Past Regent, Mrs. Eva O. J. Allen, wife of the late Dr. Clarence E. Allen, and removal to distant states of other members, an active chapter of Winchester has never taken place as was anticipated at the time.

This spring, the present Regent has been in communication with several residents of Winchester who are desirous of having a very active D. A. R. chapter and therefore plans are under way for a meeting to be held at the home of the chapter treasurer, Mrs. Charles E. Corey, Myrtle Valley Parkway of this town, to meet any who may be eligible, also to extend an invitation to members-at-large to join the Chapter, and to residents of Winchester who are members of other Chapters to become associate members.

The Regent would be very glad to hear either by letter or telephone from any who may be interested. By letter, please address Mrs. Charles S. Baudry, Regent, 5 Raymond Street, Lexington 0448-M. By telephone, Lexington 0448-M.

WADLEIGH-PRINCE PARENT-TEACHER MEETING

The last regular meeting of the Wadleigh-Prince Parent-Teacher Association for the current school year was held on Monday evening in the Wadleigh School. Mr. William L. Parsons, president, presiding. The topic for discussion was "Shall I Send My Child to Public School or Private School?" Mr. Farnham, principal of the High School, gave a very concise resume of reasons which prompted parents to send their children to such schools and a very interesting discussion followed. Mr. Pinkham, principal of the Wadleigh School, gave a very earnest talk on the attitude of parents to the school, and pleaded for co-operation with the school authorities in their endeavors to overcome the obstacles which our present social conditions put in the way of an education. Mrs. Deacon gave a very interesting report of the curriculum of parent-teacher associations which has recently been held in Louisville, Ky., which she was a delegate. The attendance was 32 at the meeting Monday evening, and was distributed as follows to the different rooms:

The following officers for the coming year were elected: President—Mrs. W. K. Denison. Vice President—Mrs. H. W. Wadleigh. Treasurer—Mrs. M. J. Perkins. Secretary—Miss Frances Dalry.

An enjoyable social hour followed the meeting.

Homogeneous People.
Although their country presents a great variety of climate, nature, and general conditions of life, according to its different degrees of latitude, the Swedes are a singularly homogeneous people. With the sole exception of the Lapps, the nomadic reindeer herdsman of the extreme North, they are all descended from the same old Scandinavian stock, unmixt with any foreign element. Thanks to their isolation, both geographical and linguistic, they have not been subjected to any foreign domination and have been but little influenced by foreign culture. They have possessed and inhabited their country in the Scandinavian peninsula for more than 5,000 years. Their language, with its sister tongues, Norwegian and Danish, is an outcome of the old Norse, which a thousand years ago was common to the whole Scandinavian world.

THE GULF STREAM

Just what is the Gulf Stream? Discussions about its effects upon climate in the temperate zone and its excessive heat recall that the "grandest and most mighty terrestrial phenomenon" was made by the late Admiral John Elliott Pillsbury, U. S. N., a former president of the National Geographic Society, and summarized by him in the pages of the National Geographic Magazine.

In all the oceans there are movements of water, some of which are caused by the tides which may be said to be due primarily to the prevalent wind, Admiral Pillsbury wrote.

The Ocean's "Circulation"
In the two great oceans, the Atlantic and the Pacific, there is to be found both north and south of the equator, and also in the Indian Ocean, a similar movement of water, a slow, steady movement in the tropics, a flow toward the poles along the eastern shores of the continents, an easterly set in the temperate zone, and a current toward the equator along the western shores. It thus becomes a grand circular movement, some parts being swift, others slow, and sometimes there may be a temporary interruption in the slower portions, or perhaps even a reversal, but taken as a whole the movement is continuous.

In the North Atlantic Ocean the currents are probably more pronounced than in either the Pacific or the Indian Oceans.

The equatorial current is usually described as being a broad band of water moving across the Atlantic in the tropics. The portion of this current situated south of the equator is divided into two parts upon meeting the eastern salient of South America, Cape St. Roque. One branch turns south toward the Antarctic, while the other is forced to the westward along the shores of Northern Brazil and the Guianas, and is called the Guyana coast current. The equatorial current north of the equator has an almost uninterrupted progress until it reaches the Windward Islands, but a portion of it also impinges against the Guyana Coast and this augments the volume of that current.

How Gulf Stream is Formed
At the Windward Islands both are united, and a portion of the flow enters the Caribbean through the various passages, crosses it to the Yucatan and Honduras coasts, and thence into the Gulf of Mexico, from which it issues through the Straits of Florida as the Gulf Stream. Passing onward toward Europe it is augmented in volume by a part of the north equatorial current of the English Channel, and outside the West Indian Islands and the Bahamas, and while this current is slow in movement in comparison to the Gulf Stream itself, it continually carries a much greater number of heat units to help warm up northern Europe.

The Gulf Stream, or rather the combined flow mentioned above, divides as it meets the resistance of the Eastern Continent, one branch flowing south along the African coast, and the other proceeds northward into the Arctic toward Spitzbergen and Franz Joseph Land.

It is difficult for the mind to grasp the immensity of this great ocean river. The straits of Florida at its narrowest point is about 40 miles wide and observations here numbered between three and four thousand, surface and subsurface. A calculation of the average volume of water passing in one hour gives the enormous sum of 90 billion tons. If this one single hour's flow of water could be evaporated, the remaining salt would require many times more than all the ships in the world to carry it.

Magnitude of Ocean River

When one is on board a vessel, floating upon its waters, one is not as much impressed at the power and grandeur of this wonder of nature as he is when he stands before a towering mountain, an immense iceberg, or a fall of water such as Niagara, for when one remembers that the mighty torrent, speeding on hour by hour and day by day in a volume equal to all the largest rivers in the world combined, carrying its beneficent heat to temper the climate of continents, one begins to realize that of all the forces of the physical world none can equal this one river of the ocean.

It is interesting to note in the history of the Gulf Stream how great its influence has been on the fortunes of the New World. Before the discovery of America, strange woods and fruits were frequently found on the shores of Europe and off-lying islands. Some of these were seen and examined by Columbus, and to his thoughtful mind they were convincing evidence of the fact that strange lands were somewhere to the westward. These woods were carried by the Gulf Stream and by the prevailing winds from the American continent, so that in part, the stream is responsible for the discovery of the New World.

Influence in Colonizing America

The influence of the Gulf Stream in the colonization of America was very great. The division of the English colonies into New England and Virginia was probably in part due to the routes by which they were reached.

Vessels bound from England to New England crossed the North Atlantic outside the limit of the Gulf Stream, or in a feeble adverse current. They had the advantage, too, of crossing the Newfoundland Banks and of being able to surely replenish their provisions by fishing.

This voyage, however, much as the advantage might be either by the shorter distance or the gaining of food was not thought to be practicable with a vessel bound to the Southern Colonies. They sailed south to the trade-wind region, through the Caribbean and around Cuba, thence following the Gulf Stream to their port.

The Dutch adopted this passage to the Hudson, so that really Nantucket Island became the dividing line between the two voyages; a difference of 100 or 200 miles in destination caused a difference in the length of the passage of about 300 miles.

The name of "Gulf Stream" was first suggested by Benjamin Franklin because it issues from the Gulf of Mexico. While it is only a part of the grand scheme of ocean circulation, and the Gulf of Mexico is in reality only a stopping place, as it were, for its waters, this name is generally applied to the current now as it was given by Franklin—that is, the current.

ent coming from the Gulf of Mexico and spreading abroad over the North Atlantic.

Lectures Were Not Heard.
There was one sphere, it is said, in which Matthew Arnold was very unfortunate, and that was in public speaking. "Matthew Arnold," says Major Pond in "Eccentricities of Genius," "came to America and gave 100 lectures. Nobody ever heard of them, not even those sitting in the front row. In a letter to his sister Fanny, Arnold describes how General Grant called at the office of the Tribune to thank the paper for its full account of one of his lectures because he had 'heard imperfectly.' What Arnold did not know was that Grant, after a few minutes of attentive listening, was overheard to say to his wife, 'Well, wife, we have paid to see the British Lion. We can't hear him roar, so we had better go home.'"

Gaining New Fame for Service
194% Sales Increase in Last Six Months
Shows Trend Toward Firestone

The public has emphatically spoken. The popular preference in all territories is unmistakably the Firestone Gum-Dipped Cord.

A standard of service has been set by these famous tires without parallel in the past. It has brought a sales increase of 194% for the past six months over the same period of a year ago—the greatest gain in all Firestone history.

The Firestone Gum-Dipped Cord is the mighty achievement which has enabled Firestone to break the tremendous record of past Firestone success.

The tire buying public has been aroused to the results in economical mileage of the Firestone process of double gum-dipping. The buying swing toward Firestone shows how it has advanced the public's standard of tire value.

Ask owners about Firestone performance on their cars. Note the big taskable feet Firestone-equipped. Watch the new cars you see—just from the factories: Firestone Gum-Dipped Cords are seen everywhere in fast increasing numbers.

Get the maximum extra mileage that only the Firestone name assures you. Only by insisting on this name can you be sure of getting the genuine gum-dipped construction.

Chats With YOUR Gas Man

Two things are necessary for good public service—efficient production and efficient use. It's our job to produce gas and to deliver it to your door. But when it comes to using the gas—efficiently or otherwise—that is up to our customers.

It is only through mutual co-operation that both company and customers can benefit. And mutual co-operation means good public relations—the foundation of which is a genuine spirit of helpful friendliness.

Some persons refuse to report complaints because they fear we will think of them as "squealers." Nothing could be further from the truth. We welcome complaints. And when they come to us promptly and directly, they are doubly welcome.

Let us work together to make the gas service in this town the best gas service rendered anywhere.

LUNCHEON OF WOMEN'S GUILD

The Women's Guild of the Congregational Church gave a very successful luncheon on last Monday afternoon in the church vestry. The luncheon was given by Group seven of the guild. Despite the unpleasant, rainy weather which prevailed throughout the day the affair was attended by about 100 guests.

The committee in charge was under the direction of Mrs. Merriman S. Price and Mrs. Charles Mitchell and consisted of Miss Florence Plummer, Mrs. Walter Rice, Mrs. Fred Robinson, Mrs. A. Howard Rane, Mrs. Lucy Randall, Mrs. Denton W. Randall, Mrs. A. E. Rouse, Miss Catherine Ford and Mrs. Gardner Pond. Mrs. Lovene Woodside was in charge of the sale of tickets.

The tables were very attractively decorated with fresh colored leaves and flowers and made a most pleasant atmosphere for the luncheon. Mrs. Elsie Palmer directed the work of decoration.

At the close of the luncheon the committee was highly complimented upon the fine manner in which it was served, it being declared by many to be the finest that has been given in some time. The proceeds will be added to the general fund of the Women's Guild which in turn will be added to the fund for the erection of the new parish house.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

A surprise party was tendered Warren Saunders on his 21st birthday at his home, 60 Cross street on Friday evening. An interesting entertainment was a feature of the evening. Saunders was given a signed ring by his many friends. The entertainment was furnished by Miss Lillian Flight of Chelsea. #### THE FORTNIGHTLY

Under the auspices of the legislative committee a class in parliamentary law will be conducted by Mrs. Elsie Shorman, instructor, beginning Tuesday, Oct. 30, held every two weeks in the Fortnightly room. A superficial knowledge of parliamentary law can be easily gained in 10 lessons and it is invaluable for better understanding of meetings, and the reading of political news. For further information telephone Mrs. Joseph Fessenden, chairman, 0484-W, or any member of the legislative committee.

Mr. and Mrs. James W. Russell, Jr., returned Tuesday from a trip through the western part of the State. They witnessed the inter-state meeting at Yale and paid a visit to Mr. D. Nelson Skilling, Mrs. Russell's brothers at Amherst.

LAMPLIGHTER'S TEAM CAUGHT FIRE

Tuesday afternoon an alarm of fire was rung in from box 42 for a unique blaze when the team used by the man lighting the gasoline lamps on the Parkway caught fire. According to report, the lighter, Frank Daley, was filling a lamp and holding his torch under it at the same time to heat it. He over-filled the lamp and the surplus gasoline ignited, the fire spreading to the wagon. Gasoline fumes around the seat and front of the wagon caught and it looked as though the rear end of the horse was doomed. Fortunately the fire burned itself out without damage to the animal other than a few hairs on his tail. The accident occurred at the corner of the Parkway and Highland avenue, and the firemen had nothing to do upon their arrival. The alarm was called by Michael Quigley, who was passing at the time. The horse, it is reported, did not run away.

THE THIRD ANNUAL WINCHESTER SHOW

The social event of the season, will be held Saturday, June 9, 1923, at Acremont the estate of Mrs. Owen Cheney Sanborn.

There is much interest manifest by the horse lovers of the state, in the show this year. The day will bring forth a varied and interesting assortment of hunters, saddle horses, ponies, work horses, and polo-ponies. Over 200 entries will participate from all parts of the state. Because of the large number of classes the show will start at 10 a. m.

The proceeds will go to the Operating Department of the Winchester Hospital.

Parking spaces and tickets may be obtained from Mrs. O. C. Sanborn, tel. 0120; Mrs. W. A. Lefavour, tel. 0603; W. Mrs. C. O. Mason, tel. 1273-W; Miss M. Alice Mason, tel. 1172.

SPRAYING FOR MOSQUITOES

Through the courtesy of the selectmen of the town of Brookline, J. A. C. Nyden, head of the bacteriological department of Brookline and secretary of the Harvard commission on exterminating mosquitoes, is spraying all the surrounding pools and bogs adjacent to the location where the Pageant of the Holy Grail is to be presented June 2nd at 9 p. m. on the Bowler Ground in the Middlesex Fells. This is a large undertaking, and Dr. Ralph Putnam is also assisting in the work. Boy Scouts are raking over the wet leaves, so that the spraying will be fully effective.

ADJOURNED TO MAY 29

The special meeting of the Corporation of the Home for Aged people, which was called for May 21st at 8 o'clock at the Home, was adjourned from that date to Tuesday, May 29, at the same time and place, and a meeting of the directors will be held on the same evening after the adjournment of the Corporation meeting. ## RAIN INSURANCE

The success of almost any event or undertaking—business or other—depends largely upon weather conditions. Some events may be only slightly affected by rain, while others are practically a total pecuniary loss. The only sure thing is insurance to indemnify for financial loss caused by rain. NOW is not too early to place orders for rain insurance for Memorial Day, June 17, Fourth of July, Labor Day, etc.

WINCHESTER AGAIN DEFEATED MELROSE

Winchester High defeated Melrose High for the second time this season on Manchester Field, Saturday afternoon, by the score of 4 to 2. About 300 attended.

Francis Tansey pitched wonderful ball, allowing but six hits, and was well supported by the rest of the team. Melrose managed to hold the locals during the first three innings. Fitzgerald hit in the fourth and reached third on O'Donnell's wallop to center. Fitzgerald then scored on an error by Dwyer of Melrose.

Kelly and Prime both hit in the fifth and Kelly scored on McKee's single to right. In the sixth Fitzgerald and O'Donnell hit, Sawyer walked. Melly sacrificed scoring Fitzgerald and O'Donnell.

Melrose got both of their runs in the seventh. Dwyer singled, Murphy was passed and Lane singled. Sampson followed with a short hit to center and scored Dwyer and Murphy.

The game was fairly well played by both teams. Winchester still being somewhat weak in hitting. Tansey and Melly made an unusual first class battery. Tansey adding seven strikeouts to his record. Prime and Kelly looked better in the field and their hitting is improving. Fitzgerald played well at first, while O'Donnell Kendrick handled them well at third. Dwyer and Lane played best for Melrose.

Winchester plays at Watertown on next Tuesday and Woburn comes home Saturday. The local boys won from Watertown at their last meeting and lost to Woburn. The Saturday game is of much importance in winning the league championship and the boys will be playing on their home field. A large crowd is expected to see the Woburn game and much rivalry will be shown.

WINCHESTER WON FROM WATERTOWN

Winchester High won from Watertown 9 to 1 at Watertown on last Tuesday. About 200 attended the game. Francis Tansey had one of his best days in the box, holding the Watertown team to only four hits and getting six strikeouts for himself. Winchester got 11 hits.

In the third inning Kelly was passed and Prime got on an error. McKee scored when Winchester rolled up the runs. Kelly was passed by Prime singled. McKee singled scoring Kelly. Tansey reached base on an error. With the bases full Tansey socked a home run over center field fence and cleared up everything. This is the first home run that the Winchester team has to its credit this season.

In the seventh inning Kendrick got on an error and Fitzgerald got smashed out a long hit, this time for a two socked and scored him. In the ninth Tansey doubled and was followed by Fitzgerald doubling, thus scoring the ninth run. Watertown scored their single run in the eighth. Parker reached third on errors and managed to make home on another.

Winchester outclassed their opponents in every inning of the game. The local boys certainly played first class ball. Tansey was pitching in fine style. He was usually well supported by both infield and outfield. He also made two good hits. Captain Kendrick was going well at third and handling everything that came his way. Kelly and Prime looked better than ever in the field and both added hits that counted. Fitzgerald was, of course, the star of the game. His homer in the fifth was one of the best ever seen on the field. The centerfield fence seems a long way off but he had little difficulty in lifting his clout over it. He also got two two-baggers, besides handling first in his usual way. Parker was Watertown's best player.

COMMONWEALTH, THE BEST

Winchester Country Club lost to Commonwealth in the Four-Ball League Monday, the score being 4½-7½.

John Ordway, son of Dr. and Mrs. Clarence E. Ordway, won the mile run in 4:35 from a field of 20 runners at the inter-school meet at Yale field Saturday. Ordway is one of Yale's promising runners and has received much favorable comment. His speed on the cinder track is not a surprise to those who recall the marks made by his father when attending the same college.

To The Public

We are literally your servants.

Our business is not merely to sell you gas but to give you good gas service.

Do us the favor of selecting our office as the proper place to register complaints.

We invite your help and co-operation at all times. We are always ready to make investigation, and any errors will be promptly rectified.

It is our constant endeavor to give you a service which is complete and satisfactory in every detail. Any employee who fails to recognize this fact and who does not do his utmost to serve you is not rightly representing our company and its policy toward the public.

Our policy: The public is entitled to courteous treatment and to the best possible service.

To Our Employees

YOU are the company.

Treat our customers as you yourself like to be treated. In other words, be courteous.

Courtesy avails much and costs little. It is the most valuable asset you can possess.

By making courtesy a daily habit, you will not only win friends for the company but you will make yourself a better — and better paid — employee.

Disputing with customers is bad business. Assume, always, that the customer is right in his or her complaint until the facts are looked up. If investigation shows no ground for just complaint, make the facts so clear that you will preserve his or her friendship.

Remember that the company's reputation is in your hands. Guard it as you would your own.

TANNERS IN BIG GAME SUNDAY

Soccer fans will be treated to another great football battle on the South End Grounds, Woburn, Sunday afternoon when Joe Jackson's All Stars the pick of Boston is coming here to give the Tanners the hardest battle of their career. The Tanners haven't been defeated as yet and are in the pink of condition after last Sunday's game when they emerged from the hardest game of the season when they succeeded in downing one of the best eleven in the country, the Swedish-Americans by the score of 2-1.

Winchester is well represented on the Tanners' eleven having four great stars ranking with the best in the country in Captain "Scotty" Culross, Quigley, Mitchell, and Murphy. Captain Culross scored one of the goals made against the fast travelling Swedish-Americans.

For a new team started this season, the Tanners have surprised the Soccer fans by their great all round exhibitions and their remarkable team work, and the defensive playing which is a treat to watch. Fans are expected from neighboring cities and towns to watch this great team in action Sunday afternoon against the pick of Boston.

LEGION BANQUET

Next Monday evening the local post will have their annual "Get Together" banquet at the post club house. The committee has arranged with a well known caterer for a wonderful lay-out, and it is promised that there will be more frozen pudding and ices than the boys can eat. The correctness of that statement remains to be seen.

Harry Bigelow of the entertainment committee is going around with a mysterious air, refusing to commit himself as to exactly what kind of entertainment will be provided, only going so far as to say there will be ladies present who can sing, dance, read, play the piano, and other accomplishments. The fun and food will commence at 6 o'clock and those who don't want to miss anything should be there.

H. J. Erskine Jr. reports the loss of his dog "Major" on Monday last. The dog, which was a cross-breed of terrier and shepherd was suffering from Dumb, Rabies and had been informed, "Major" was a perfect pet, kind, faithful and intelligent. His many friends deeply regret his passing.

DAILY PHILOSOPHY

Misfortunes overtake us, difficulties confront us, but these things should not induce us to give up.

"An artist's career" begins tomorrow they say—so does the career of any man of courage and imagination.

Work well done does more than lead to material success. It gives an outlet for sorrow, restrains wild desires, ripens and refines character.

No honor can be too great for the man who has steadily and uncomplainingly done his best—and has failed.

Residents in the vicinity of Wedgemere and the northern end of Wedge Pond will view with envy that spot in Middlesex Fells which has received attention and treatment by the Harvard mosquito expert.

The Star learns that the recent increase in salary, granted Principal Farham of the High School, has been made simply in line with the carrying out of its obligations by the School Committee. When Principal Farham came to Winchester last year to fill the position at the High School he was granted his moving expenses and given a guarantee on rental. The appropriation for his moving expenses was voted by the Auditor and the Selectmen would not approve the bill; and it was not found possible to pursue him under the guarantee. His recent increase in salary is, therefore, a compensation for this expense.

The Star published last week a statement concerning the raising of salaries in the High School, in which it was reported that the salary of the school nurse had not been raised, this not being among the Finance Committee's recommendations. Several readers construed the paragraph, therefore, to infer that the Finance Committee had recommended the other salaries made by the School Committee. Such is not the case. The Finance Committee recommended that no increase in salaries be made by the committee.

Many of the vast throng who saw the 1300 school children go through their drill on Manchester Friday afternoon at the field day of the public schools, must have wondered who was responsible for the spectacle. No wonder! It was the most impressive sight they had ever witnessed in connection with a school event in Winchester. Covering the whole field, they carried out their drill in perfect unison, from the smallest tot to the biggest boy. To Miss Elsie Nelson, physical director, all credit should be given. She needed no better recommendation to prove the excellence of her work.

Mrs. Joseph C. Adams returned this week from Burbank, Cal., where she had been with her son since last October. Mr. Adams is still in California, and she expects to return to that State within a short time.

25TH ANNIVERSARY

The 25th anniversary celebration of the Medford Boat Club, to be held on June 16, 17 and 18, will be one of the biggest events Mystic Lake has witnessed during its long life as the center of canoeing activity in this vicinity. The big day will be Saturday, June 16th, when an open canoe meet will be held. All kinds of racing will be shown, from the big war canoes to the frail one-man cedar canoes, and every active club in this vicinity will take part. This club, founded in 1898, has had three club houses since its organization and is planning to make this the banner year of its existence.

Under suspension of its rule 1 the Board met at 7 o'clock. Present Messrs. Bateman, Berry, Doten and Main. In the absence of the Chairman, Mr. Bateman was chosen Chairman pro tempore.

The records of the meeting of May 14 were read and approved. Jurors 1923: The Chief of Police appeared with a venire calling for one traverse juror to serve at the Superior Criminal Court to be held at Cambridge with and for our county of Middlesex on the first Monday of June, (June 4, 1923). Mr. Augustus J. Boylen, 2 Ridgeway was drawn.

Independence Day: A contract to be signed in duplicate was received from the Malson Band relative to their being hired by the Board to give two concerts on Independence Day. One concert is to be conducted in the afternoon from 3 to 5 P. M. and one in the evening from 7:30 to 9:30 P. M. or until the final display of fireworks.

Trees: Mr. Samuel S. Symmes, Town Warden, appeared before the Board in answer to the Board's letter relative to a request which had come to the Board for the removal of four trees on the southwest side of Common street. Mr. Symmes stated that these trees were in bad condition and really should come down. No action was taken, however, pending an investigation by all members of the Board. The matter was therefore put over one week.

Pond Street: A letter was received from Alfred L. Cutting, Chairman of the County Commissioners calling the Board's attention to the condition of Pond street and stating that the street was beginning to show deterioration, and needed some patching and probably a coat of tar or "B". Pond street is a county road and was built a number of years ago with county funds.

The Clerk was instructed to write Mr. Cutting and thank him for calling the Board's attention and to state that this street will have the Board's attention at a later date.

The meeting adjourned at 9:55 P. M. George S. P. Bartlett, Clerk of Selectmen.

The Poinsettia Girls Club held its fourth annual dance on Wednesday evening at Waterfield hall, there being a large attendance. The affair was a huge success. During the evening vocal selections were rendered by William Lamson and John Condard of Lexington. Many of those who attended came from surrounding towns and cities, Lowell, Arlington, Woburn, Medford and Stoughton being well represented, together with Winchester.

LEGION NOTES

The Town honor roll in front of the Town Hall is going to be put in good shape for Memorial Day. Many of the names have started to peel off, and require replacing, which work is being done by the concern who manufactured that part of the structure.

The re-decorating of the eagle and other parts is being done by George M. Smith, who says he will try and make the bird look as lifelike as possible. It will be more of a bronze effect than before, and should improve the appearance of the honor roll.

Two or three new names, which have belonged on it, and were not there, are to be added, and as is consistent with Legion democratic ideals, all ranks are to be removed. The names alone, all on an equal basis, are more common in other town honor rolls.

The "Get-together" banquet, to be held in the Post Headquarters next Monday evening at 6 o'clock, is going to be one of the events of the season in the annals of the Winchester Post. It is hoped there will be a large attendance as there is to be a fine banquet by a well-known caterer, and the entertainment will be unusually good.

FINE EXHIBITION

Several thousand persons witnessed the field day program of the public school children on Manchester Field yesterday. All grades from three to eight, including the kindergarten children, participated, there being 1200 children in the exhibition.

The spectacle was a revelation to the spectators. The children were directed by Miss Elsie Nelson, physical instructor, and to her work much praise was given. The program included the following numbers:

- 1. Mass rhythmic drill, grades 3 to 8.
- 2. Folk dances, grades 1 and 2.
- 3. Landmark.
- 4. Marching by Wadleigh boys.
- 5. Dances, grades 4 and 5.
- 6. Hand and Girdle.
- 7. Norwegian mountain march.
- 8. Relay races.

Without doubt the exhibition was the best of its kind ever given on the field. The rhythmic drill especially called forth great applause, and the pupil leadership and marching by the Wadleigh boys were two other numbers which were well received. The dances were reported by those who were fortunate enough to see them to have been very fine, but the crowding in of the spectators shut out this number to many.

WHIST

A very successful whist and cake sale was held Thursday evening in aid of the West Side District of St. Mary's parish. The party was in charge of Mrs. Patrick Martin, Mrs. David Reagan, Mrs. Francis Dolan and Mrs. J. Yetter.

The electric lamp was awarded Mrs. James Noonan and Mrs. Alice Martin won the beaded bag. The winners at whist included Mrs. M. Foley, Suzanne Murray, Anne Higgins, Mrs. Coleman, Margaret Monroe, Mrs. Mary Walsh, Mrs. W. Horowitz, John Dolan, Mrs. K. Lynch, Teresa Sullivan, Mrs. R. O'Connor, Mrs. Nade, Mrs. Flaherty, Mr. Donahue, Charles Harold, Mr. Joseph King, Mrs. George Poland, Mrs. Waters.

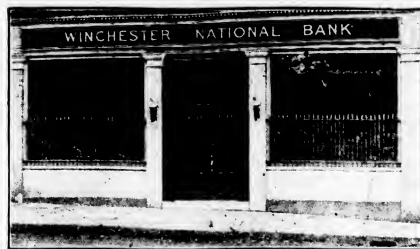

Officer Hogan was treated to unusual honors in the square last evening, and for a time he had more on his hands than just directing traffic. From appearances it looked as though some of our attractive young ladies were carrying out initiation ceremonies, and the officer appeared to be a lucky man when a dozen or so of them joined hands and danced about him. Presumably he was "King of the May." Fortunately Mrs. Hogan was not about. Even so, the officer sternly suppressed the riotous damsels, who left him at his lonely post with apparent regret.

Miss May Keating, arrested in Belmont Saturday night by the Reading Chief of Police, was confined in the Winchester jail until her appearance in the Woburn Court Monday morning. Her case attracted much attention through her prepossessing appearance and apparent refinement. She is said to have been posing as a nurse for over a year, gaining entrance to various places which she looted and left. The Reading police were anxious to arrest her for charges preferred by the New England Sanatorium, and was through a note left at that place that they were able to capture her at Belmont. She was brought to Winchester for keeping until court opened, as Reading had no woman's cell. Winchester has a fine cell for women and is within the district for trial. She was held in $1000 bonds Monday.

Fancy briskeet corned beef, 25c; thick end corned beef, 22c; bottom round pot roast, 32c; ham, steak, 20c; beef liver, 12c. At Blaisdell's Market, tel. 271.

Mrs. J. W. Bowman is spending the summer at Marblehead Neck.

Miss Grace G. Yeaton is at South Berwick, Me. for the summer.

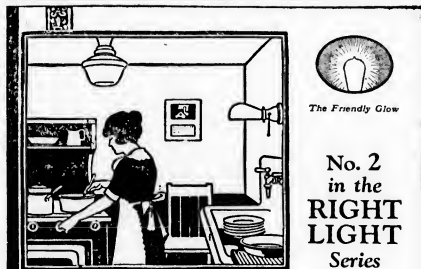

Saturday evening a young son of Mr. Theodore A. Dissel of Fairview terrace, riding a bicycle on south Main street near the gas company's office, was struck a glancing blow by an automobile and thrown from his wheel. The car was driven by Benjamin Fiske of Dorchester, who was taken to the police station by officer Hogan, charged with operating a car while under the influence of liquor. Fiske had two other men with him, who were not arrested. In court Monday he was fined $50. The Dissel boy was not injured.

Permanent boarders may be accommodated at the Webster Dining Rooms, 3 Webster street. Phone Win. 0409.

Mr. Thomas F. Fallon of Highland avenue had 50 chickens stolen Sunday night from his farm.

Marriage intentions were filed with the Town Clerk this week by Mr. Ralph Christie Ackerman of Lawson road and Miss Katherine Athalia Howard of Lakeview road.

Edward E. Lessen of Winchester, for operating a car while under the influence of liquor, was fined $50. Mr. John Kenerson is ill with the measles.

Your Kitchen

IT'S no news to you how many things electricity I can do for you in the kitchen—for you have your toaster and percolator, your dishwasher, and perhaps even your range.

But did you know that in order to make all the kitchen work easier, all you need do is to lighten it, with the right light?

- 1. Use a 100-watt or 150-watt Mazda lamp (bulb) in an enclosing glass globe, as a center light, as near the ceiling as possible.
- 2. Have a light right above the sink, from 6 to 12 inches from the wall, in a deep white glass shade open at the bottom. An ordinary 50-watt Mazda lamp will supply all the light you need, directly down on the dishes.

These two improvements can be done today by your electrical contractor, at a reasonable cost, and without any messy carpentry. Call him up, and see how it takes one problem out of your servant problem.

Broken arms appear to be the style. The present list of famous plates includes "Phil" LeDue, who fell and fractured his wrist; John Cullen, who failed to pay proper respect to a "pigeon" and Joseph Durand, who fell from a tree on the estate of Jere Downs.

Mr. Frank Boyle had his Ford touring car stolen at Revere Sunday.

A Studebaker sedan driven by William W. Wade of Woburn and a Ford touring car driven by Charles W. Parkhurst of Billerica were in collision yesterday morning. Both cars were somewhat damaged.

Long Span of Three Lives.

William Penn, founder of Pennsylvania, was born October 14, 1644. His youngest son, Thomas, was born March 9, 1702. Thomas Penn had a son, Granville Penn, who was born September 9, 1761, and died September 28, 1841. The lives of these three men in direct descent thus covered—even allowing for the reform of the calendar in 1752—two centuries, lacking less than one month. Comment on this, historians of the Penn family have expressed the opinion that the incident is probably unique.

Causes Blocking Progress In Soft Coal Industry Revealed Before Fact-Finding Commission

Speakers for mine owners who are cooperating with the United States Coal Commission. Left to right: Col. Henry L. Stimson and Goldthwaite H. Dorr, New York, counsel for the operators; A. M. Ogle, Terre Haute, President, National Coal Association; P. H. Penna, Terre Haute, President, Indiana Coal Operators Association; J. G. Bradley, Dandridge, West Virginia, President, West Virginia Coal Association; John C. Brydon, Somerset, Pa., Chairman, Bituminous Operators' Special Committee; Tracy W. Guthrie, Pittsburgh, member Special Committee; H. W. Little, Evansville, Ind., Secretary, Special Committee; F. W. Lukins, Kinross City, member of committee, and Allan H. Willett, Washington, statistician.

of the industry, which is highly competitive and comprises 9,000 independent operators. John C. Brydon, of Somerset, Pa., Chairman of the Special Committee described in his committee's first report the following four major obstacles to the development of the coal industry from the standpoint of the public and the industry:

1. Instability of labor conditions due to the monopolistic power and methods of the United Mine Workers of America, with the following consequent handicaps to the industry:

- (a) Inability of mine owners to lay plans even a year ahead with any certainty of regular operation.
- (b) Inability on the part of the industry to make maximum use through steady shipments of the transportation facilities of the country.
- (c) High costs of mining, resulting in high prices, due to constantly interrupted and therefore inefficient operations and to property losses through violence.
- (d) Exorbitant labor costs, causing prices which force other working people in effect to exchange from two to four days' labor for one day of mining labor when they buy coal.

- (e) Continual threats of even higher wage demands, to be enforced by bargeing and violence.

2. Transportation difficulties. These constitute an obvious and fundamental deterrent to satisfactory supply and price of coal. Problems of car shortage and suggestions for improving the present system of car distribution are being studied.
3. Seasonal demand. A determined and thorough effort by the industry to encourage and teach the public is certain to be one of the committee's recommendations.
4. Speculation. Out of the evils listed above grows destructive opportunity for the industry's barons, the speculators who, and those which, lie idle when supply is normal and strive for "killings" when demand is hot and prices high. The great body of constructive business citizens who constitute the bulk of the bituminous mining industry are as desirous as the public itself to stabilize the industry as to stamp out the speculation.

GREECE HAS SURVIVED MANY REVERSES

If anyone feels inclined to fear that Greece is in a way to pass wholly from the world stage because of the tremendous reverses which she has suffered recently, says a bulletin from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic Society, "he has only to glance back into history to change his mind."

There are few parallels, continues the bulletin quoting a communication to the Society, to the striking racial phenomenon of Hellenic continuity throughout the centuries of 2000 years. Modern research has penetrated the dark byways of medieval Greek history, and we now know that the Greeks, whoever they may have been, have preserved unbroken the thread of their national existence.

Language Bond With Classic Past

The firmest bond which unites the Greek of today with his illustrious forebears of the golden age is the Greek language, the essential elements of which remain as they were in the days when the tongue served as the medium of the noblest poetry and the sublimest philosophy which the race has yet produced. This tongue, traces unbroken lineage back through medieval and New Testament Greek to the classic speech of Plato and of his contemporaries.

And yet, with all this continuity of language, there has existed in Greece for some years a linguistic condition of affairs around which centers a controversy as one comic or tragic; for there are in Greece two languages, or, rather, the one language in two forms—one written by the newspapers, spoken by the educated classes and used in parliamentary debates and in public documents, including the Scriptures, the circulation of which is regulated by law; and the other a vernacular used by the masses of the people, containing many words of foreign origin, especially Turkish and Italian, arising from long periods of foreign occupation, with a much simplified grammar and rarely reduced to writing, except for private communications. The former is the cultured tongue; the latter the popular idiom; and between the two there rages a merciless warfare, in which faustical students of the university have lost their lives ministers their portfolios, and a Metropolitan of Athens his mitre.

Greek Scholar at Disadvantage

The controversy is too intricate to be briefly summarized, and like most questions which divide the Levantine mind, it is probably not to be settled wholly in favor of either extreme party.

The use of these two tongues is a source of much confusion to the visitor in Greece, especially if he has reckoned upon his knowledge of classic Greek to assist him in his travels. He will be able indeed to read the newspapers without much difficulty, but he will be utterly lost in conversation, not only because of the pronunciation, which is vastly different from the Erasmus method in which Westerners are schooled, but because the spoken tongue, being demotic, will have a vastly different vocabulary from that which he has taken from the dictionary.

Greece of today looks back only three generations to the places of origin in the War for Independence, which was concluded by the Protocol of London in 1830; and, witnessing the progress which in that brief span has been made in and of such sparse resources, one cannot see how praise can be withheld from a people who have accomplished so much.

Race Pure Only in Islands

It is only in the islands or deep in the country, where the Albanian folk which swept across the Attic plain has never reached, that one finds the facial lineaments and the bodily grace which the ancient sculpture has taught the modern world as being common to all Greeks of classic time. And this survival persists chiefly among the children, because incessant toil and scanty nourishment soon deprive both boys and girls of their native grace and stamp them with the ineradicable marks of a life of labor.

Greece is essentially a land of agriculture, preeminently intended to be such; but, owing to the tremendous drain by emigration from the rural districts, the progress of agriculture has been hopelessly deficient.

In many places the land is tilled only by women and girls. Many of the men have gone to America, and indeed throughout the entire Balkan region—English is much heard, because of the great numbers of Greeks who have returned home from America; and few travelers in the Peloponnese will fail to recall at almost every railroad station the eager face thrust in at the carriage window and quivering with the demand, "You fellows from America?"

Retain Democracy of Ancient Athens

The ancient Athenian democracy may be said to have perished with the well-nigh into the life of Greece as it is today. Class distinctions are unknown. Titles of nobility are forbidden by the constitution, even though every native of Corfu claims to be a Venetian count, and the Crown Prince is known only as the Diadochos, or Successor. Neither wealth nor education hinders the association of all upon both the politics and the commerce of the nation.

Long years of Turkish oppression have, however, left their mark on the Greeks; not in externals but in certain customs and habits of mind. Thus the position of women in modern Greek life is semi-oriental, to say the least.

Attractive Men.

The truth is that women find strange charms in unlikely people. It is so obvious to fall in love with Adonis Voice, gesture, appealingness, the strength that masks itself in gentleness, a whimsical way, that "something" which a woman novelist once perfectly expressed as "tenderness and absurdity"—these things have a more subtle attraction than broad shoulders and flashing eyes. And a more lasting attraction, too, since they are not always the same, yesterday, tomorrow, and for ever! Yet the masculine fallacy that women prefer Adonis still persists! How lucky for his jealous admirers that it is a fallacy!

All Married in One Day.

At Ploem, a small town in Brittany, all the weddings of the year are celebrated on one day. Sometimes as many as 40 bridal couples go to the altar simultaneously.

INTERESTING DEBATE AT HIGH SCHOOL

A very interesting and indicative debate was held in the High School assembly hall on Friday, between the two divisions of the Junior College English classes. The subject of the debate was, "Resolved: That an amendment nullifying the present Eighteenth Amendment be added to the Constitution of the United States."

James Cullen opened the debate for the affirmative with a well-constructed and well-delivered argument. Lars Sandberg spoke first for the negative and made an equally good impression. Arthur French, affirmative; John Salter, negative; Richard Clarke, affirmative; and Dana Kelly, negative, then spoke in that order very creditably. Richard Clarke then gave the refutation and although it was delivered in good style his argument had few strong points. The judges, Mr. Mosses, Mr. Butters, and Mr. Bond awarded the decision to the negative. Mr. Farnham acted as president and James Fitzgerald and Rupert Ferguson as time keepers. The speakers were allowed five minutes each.

This is the first inter-class debate that has been held in the local High School in a number of years and certainly denotes the opening of a new and important field in the school's activities. The speakers were all interested in their subject and seemed to have devoted much time in collecting their material. The arguments advanced by both sides were typical of the direction in which current thought of the day is turning. It is pleasing to note that the students of our High School are interested enough in the thought of the times to prepare such a comprehensive debate.

Use for Old Newspapers.

The housewife who can rely on a constant supply of clean newspapers is a fortunate woman. Should she be obliged to do the greater part of her own housework, she will find that not only labor, but expense will be saved by their intelligent use. A whole copy of a long paper folded carefully lengthwise, and placed on the tread and over the edge of each stair before the carpet is laid will prove equal to an expensive felt pad for saving the "wear," and equally efficacious for deadening sound. The idea holds good for use beneath the carpets of rooms, but naturally the large newspapers would not be folded.

Origin of "Ball."

This word, like many other terms used in dance, came to the language through the French. The French words "ball" (a dance), and "ballet" (to dance), from which our word "ballet" is derived, were in turn derived from the Latin and Greek. There is a Greek word meaning "to throw," from which the above words are believed to have come, the inference being that dancing was at first considered a jangling around or throwing the limbs about. At the present time the word "ball" is limited to the more formal social gatherings for the purpose of ### Giving and Receiving.

We are as answerable for what we give as for what we receive; say, the misplacing of a benefit is worse than the not receiving of it; for the one is another person's fault, but the other is mine.—Seneca.

Forecasts From Coffee Cups.

When having breakfast you can try a very simple experiment with a cup of coffee and a lump or two of loaf sugar. Having dropped the lumps of sugar into the cup of coffee carefully, watch the air bubbles that rise to the surface. If they suddenly rush from the center to the side of the cup you can be sure that it is going to rain very hard. If the air bubbles assemble in the center and then pass to the side of the cup in a deliberate way, you must still be prepared for what the weather forecasts would call "some showers." But if the bubbles refuse to stir from the center of the cup you may go forth to your labor assured of a fine day.

Reason for Refusal.

Her father (to the benefit of her daughter. I don't want a son-in-law who's such a fool that he can't marry a young woman who's just got more sense than he has, and with hopes of getting her to get on"—Christiana Karlsson.

Twilight.

Twilight is daylight which continues after sunset. Light is reflected from the upper air till the sun is about 18 degrees below the horizon, but the duration of twilight is manifestly much influenced by the state of the atmosphere. In low latitudes, both on account of the quickness with which the sun traverses the 18 degrees below the horizon and because of the transparency of the atmosphere, there is little twilight. On the other hand, in latitudes higher than 42 degrees twilight at certain times of the year lasts from sunset to sunrise.

Too Much for the Judge.

A man stopped a strange dandy on the street and told her she was the prettiest girl he had ever seen in his life. She was, indeed, beautiful. However, she hated him into court. There he indignantly repeated his remark and challenged the Judge to say if she wasn't the prettiest girl his honor had ever seen. The Judge contemplated her for a while and then said with a sigh: "I don't know what to do with this man. A police magistrate at $200 per annum is no Solomon."

The Doctor Was Right

When the good old family doctor was asked about baking powders, he said:

"Use Royal. It is made from Cream of Tartar and is absolutely pure. You could dissolve a couple of teaspoons of Royal in water and drink it with benefit. That's a health test mightily few baking powders can meet."

The doctor was right.

TRAIN THE EARS TO LISTEN

Only in That Way, it is Asserted, Are They Enabled to Do Their Work Thoroughly.

It may seem strange to emphasize the fact that we have to learn to listen; yet it is certainly true that our ears must be trained if we desire them to do their work thoroughly.

Especially does this apply where music is concerned. A love of music is an instinctive possession of most people, but a complete understanding of it is quite another matter, and it is knowledge that can only be acquired as a result of definite study.

"It must be remembered that our eyes, ears and other organs are but the means by which impressions are conveyed to the brain, and unless those organs function efficiently the impressions are not true and complete." So states a writer.

"Just as mankind tends to appreciate time in a painting, a flow of sonorous words in a poem and beautiful lines in a piece of architecture, so can the ear be trained to carry to the brain, vividly and exactly, choice passages of music," the writer continues, and he insists on that half the beauty in music is missed when the ear does not "realize" the tones which comprise the complete harmony.

As evidence of untrained listening, the fact is quoted that when listening to a vocal record most people pay so much attention to the words and the "tune" that when the record is finished they are quite unable to name any instrument used in the accompaniment!

AUTHOR DREW ON POSTERITY

Oliver Goldsmith's Humorous Idea of Leaving His Claim to Fame to Future Generations.

However, whatever right I have to complain of the public, they can, as yet, have to just reason to complain of me. If I have written dull essays, they have hitherto treated them as dull essays. Thus far we are at least upon par, and until they think it to make me their humble debtor by praise, I am resolved not to lose a single inch of my self-importance. Instead, therefore, of attempting to establish a credit amongst them, it will perhaps be wiser to apply to some more distant correspondent; and as my drafts are in some danger of being protested at home, it may not be imprudent, upon this occasion, to draw my bills upon Posterity.

Mr. Posterity:
Sir—Nine hundred and ninety-nine years after slight leave my best services, or order, a thousand pounds worth of praise, free from all deductions whatsoever, it being a commodity that will then be very serviceable to him, and place it to the account of, his-Deputy to Posterity.

SUPERIOR COURT IN EQUITY

To S. S. Symmes, Chester W. Butterworth, Albert E. Ayer and Charles F. Dutch, of Winchester, in the County of Middlesex and said Commonwealth; Cora J. Marsh, of Dedham, in the State of California; and to all whom it may concern:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court by Martin S. Mah, of said Winchester, to register and confirm her title in the following described land:

A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situate in said Winchester, bounded and described as follows:

Northerly by Grove Street, 23.94 feet; Easterly by land now or formerly of one E. J. Marsh, 16.45 feet; Southerly by land now or formerly of S. S. Symmes, A. E. Ayer and Charles F. Dutch, 20.50 feet; and Westerly by Brooks Street, 15.04 feet.

The above described land is shown on a plan filed with said petition and all boundary lines are claimed to be located on the ground as shown on said plan.

You are hereby cited to appear at the Land Court to be held at Boston, in the County of Suffolk, on the nineteenth day of June A. D. 1923, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the prayer of said petition should be granted. And unless you appear at said Court at the time and place aforesaid and such will be recorded, and the said petition will be taken as confessed, and you will be forever barred from contesting said title or any decree entered thereon.

Witness, CHARLES THORNTON DAVIS, Judge of said Court, this third day of May in the year nineteen hundred and twenty-three.

Attest with Seal of said Court.

PETITION FOR DISSOLUTION

Respectfully represents Samuel Ginsberg who is a stockholder and treasurer of the Winchester Shirt Company:

Your complainant says that the Winchester Shirt Company is a corporation duly organized under the laws of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, on the 7th day of November, 1912; and that it had heretofore carried on the business of manufacturing men's shirts in Winchester, Massachusetts.

Your complainant says that it has paid, and has adequately provided for payment of all its outstanding debts and whereof it has no further intention to maintain its corporate organization and existence.

That it was voted that the corporation be dissolved and a petition for dissolution be filed in the Superior Court setting forth the grounds for dissolution, and that its treasurer be authorized to execute, swear, and file a petition, and to do all acts necessary for the purpose of dissolving said corporation.

That it is prepared to dispose of all the assets of the corporation, and to pay to the creditors of the corporation any taxes to which it may be liable.

WHEREFORE, your complainant prays that the Winchester Shirt Company be dissolved, and that the General Laws of this Commonwealth be so amended.

SAMUEL GINSBERG.

Boston, April 25, 1923.

I personally appeared before me, Samuel Ginsberg, and made oath to the above allegations to be true to the best of his knowledge and belief.

The fire department was called out for burning grass Saturday afternoon on the Niles property on Main street, opposite the Symmes grain mill. There was no damage.

Friday night, shortly after 9 o'clock, Mr. F. M. Yves of Highland avenue telephoned the fire department that it appeared that the Murphy house, now occupied by Mr. J. Waldo Bond, was on fire. An alarm from box 60 was sounded and the fire apparatus responded. It looked as though a bad fire was in progress, Highland avenue at the corner of Mason street being filled with smoke so thick one could hardly keep his eyes open, and the heavy smoke covering the whole neighborhood. The fire was found to be burning rubbish at the rear of the house, the wet, damp air holding the smoke close to the ground until it completely filled the vicinity. A chemical line was run out and the fire extinguished. There was much excitement and Highland avenue and the approaches were filled with a tangle of fire apparatus and autos for some time.

DAILY PHILOSOPHY

There is only one thing worse than being criticized, and that is being overlooked.

When you hear a man bragging about his car, he isn't so much bragging of his car as he is of his good judgment.

We often hear a man say that his word is as good as his bond we wonder if his word is as good about his name of gold.

A man never becomes a shine-ing light in the community by getting it up.

There is a way through every difficulty, but sometimes the way through is around.

WEALTH, SAVING, AND PROSPERITY

If the inhabitants of the world concluded all that they produced, there would be no such thing as wealth.
Wealth consists of the products of labor which remain after the requirements of the consumers have been met. In a word, wealth is merely the aggregate result of the people's savings.

Workmen, while employed upon the construction of a new mill, a railroad or a steamship, are fed, clothed and moused by the use of money which some one has saved from income and which has been devoted to this purpose. Without such savings, there could be no extension of existing facilities. Growth which adds to the labor may be employed and further wealth may be created.

The present wealth of the United States is estimated to be approximately $300,000,000,000, which sum represents the total of all savings from its beginning. It exists today primarily in the form of physical property and surplus stores of commodities as yet unsummed. As our wealth increases the country prospers, and as the wealth is reduced the people are adversely affected by unemployment and privation.

During the last five years, the total increase of savings banks deposits in Massachusetts was only $9,000,000, or the equivalent of less than 50 cents per capita per year.

It appears probable that there will be a total registration of more than 200,000 pleasure automobiles in this state during the present year, which,
at the conservative allowance of a little over $300 each for upkeep, will represent a total expenditure of $100,- 000,000, or more than $25 per capita.
When we compare this with the fifty times as much per year for maintaining pleasure vehicles as we invest in savings, we are manifesting a tendency which does not bode well for the future of our country.

Charles R. Gow.

C. D. OF A. NOTES

Grand Regent Alice Martin, Past Grand Regent Anne Poland and several of the Court members were the guests of Court Lexington last Sunday when several new members were initiated into the ranks of the latter Court. A splendid entertainment followed the initiation, during which two of the Winchester sisters, Past Grand Regent Frances T. Conlon and Organist Mabel M. Cory, delighted the large gathering. Mrs. Conlon with her bright readings and Miss Cory with vocal selections.

Memorial Day was observed in the manner which has been usual with the Court for many years. A requiem high Mass was sung in St. Mary's Church at 7 o'clock for the deceased members of the organization, after which a committee of eight members,
Miss Mabel M. Cory, Miss Katherine
F. O'Connor, Miss Mary O'Melia,
Miss Elizabeth Rossley, Mrs. Jane King, Mrs. Anne Poland, Mrs. Elizabeth McBurney, Mrs. Frances Conlon, and Miss Elizabeth Noonan, visited Calvary Cemetery and placed on the grave of each of the eight deceased members a rustic basket of forget-me-nots on the handle of which was tied the colors of the order, purple with a white cross in letters of gold.
Mrs. Mary Mavin, one of the most popular members of the Court, is at the Winchester Hospital recovering from a serious illness. Her friends will be pleased to hear that she will be able to be home in a few weeks.

Mrs. Anne Reynolds of Stoneham, Past District Deputy of the local Court is also at the Winchester Hospital where she is undergoing a course of week's treatment.

Owls Are Delicacy in China.

That at certain seasons of the year the Chinese people consider owls a delicacy was indicated in a case which came before the court at Shanghai. A hawk was charged with having no license. It was stated that he was hawking owls as food, whereupon the judge expressed his surprise, saying he had never heard of such a thing before. The court interpreter, however, enlightened his worship, saying at certain seasons the Chinese consider them fit for food and they are often sold in the markets.

ABRAHAM AND TUTANKHAMEN

With the civilized world still amazed at the tangible evidences of 3300 years ago found in Tutankhamen's tomb, came dispatches telling how the time line of recorded history even now is being pushed farther back in Mesopotamia, says a bulletin from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic Society.
Digging into the ruins at El-Muk-aiyar really means probing the remains of "Ur of the Chaldeans," home city of Abraham and latter capital of Nebuchadnezzar, Napoleon of Babylon.

Back to Genesis XI

News reports tell of a house, just uncovered, thought to be 6000 years old. The pick and the shovel already have carried secular history to the history to the period of the eleventh chapter of Genesis. Have found evidence to reconstruct the daily life of the times of Abraham, and have revealed the essential differences of customs in the Tigris-Euphrates delta from those of Tutankhamen's time along the Nile.

The Sanitarium story of the tower of Babel gives the clue to one such difference. You will recall how the children of Noah, in the Bible narrative, said to one another, "Let us build us a city, and a tower."

The temples of Egypt had a succession of chambers on the ground level, a characteristic of a Babylonian temple were its chambers arranged vertically, each successive story getting a little smaller than the one beneath.
In modern parlance, Egyptian temples tended toward bungalow architecture;
the Babylonians had the first skyscrapers.
One, then, may picture Babylonians of Abraham's time as a land dotted with busy towns, each walled around with brick, and having a tower as pre-tension as it could afford.

Rooms Like Pullman Cars

The writer of Genesis makes another significant statement he records that these early Semite peoples "had brick for stone, and slime they had for mortar." There being no stone in this region the use of brick was universal, and this absence of both stone and wood had a marked influence upon the dwellings. Roof-beams were scarce, hence the rooms were long and narrow, even in the palace of the city's priest-king, which usually adjoined the tower.

Politically, Babylon was not yet a nation. Ur, Umma and Lagash were city-states comparable in their pride and prowess to Florence, Venice, and Milan of medieval Europe.

How they came to clash is easily understood by tracing their history.
The center were towers and palace, around these were dwellings, and this cultivated land, irrigated by the cultivated belt was the pasture land, netted with irrigation canals, always in summer. As the towns grew and more grazing land was needed trouble arose. "And there was a strife between the herdmen of Abraham and the herdmen of Lot's cattle."

Contrast to Egyptian Life

The contrast between this town life period of Babylon and the Empire of Egypt was as great as that between our own New England communities of the mid-eighteenth century and the rural splendor of France
under Louis XIV.

This "small town" period of Babylonia disappeared, however, with the conquests of Sargon, King of Akkad
(the Assyrian) who ruled nearly 2500 years before Tutankhamen was interred.

Further explorations among the remains of the city of Abraham will be secondary to the greatest single find in this region—the code of Ham-murabi. This scholarly king ruled in Babylon about 2300 B. C., and the laws he codified are proof of a high civilization built up through many centuries before his time.

Wine Merchants Supervised

Raids on gay road-house parties were common in those days. Wine selling was regulated and the enforcement was put squarely up to the vender. One section of the penal code provided, "If a wine merchant has allowed riotous characters to assemble in her house, and those riotous characters (she) has not seized and driven to the palace, that wine merchant shall be put to death."

A maid might sue for breach of promise, a landholder had to pay a heavier tax if he did not cultivate his allotment, guardians were provided for estates of widows and orphans.

Mounds and occasional masses of brick were laid bare by winter rains, and ditches which hint at the canals of an elaborate irrigation system, are the only surface traces left in lower Mesopotamia today of this splendid civilization.

One puts to himself many questions as he gazes at these slight visible vestiges of a people of whom James Baikie wrote, "In Babylonia life in Abraham's time was more advanced and thoroughly organized and as carefully regulated as it is in our own."

Patronize Minus the Pay.

Except for the posters, no man in Alders leads a very strenuous existence, according to a writer in the World Traveler. The favorite gathering place for men is the coffee house, the original cafe. The ordinary recreation of the Almerian native are talking, smoking and coffee drinking.
As it is so long between drinks, we wonder what there is in it for the proprietor. Only the regularity of his clients' patronage makes it worth while. The life here never seems to be doing anything for the good of the house except to hire a water pipe for a farthing. He smokes, reads the Arabian Daily News, or whatever they call it to his illiterate audience, or plays a game of chess or dominoes with his customers. Occasionally he fills the queer little brass cups from the brass pot on the charcoal heater.
The coffee is black, sirupy and sweet,
and does no harm to our first taste, but after a few attempts we develop a faunt liking for it.

THURINGIA: WHICH MAY BECOME GERMANY'S "NEW SILEZIA"

International politics is bringing about the building of a new industrial district in Germany, according to dispatches, which state that Germany factory owners, left in Poland by the division of Upper Silesia, are moving their enterprises to Thuringia. The new factory region is the subject of the following bulletin from the Washington, D. C. headquarters of the National Geographic Society: The few Americans who can name the many former kingdoms, grand duchies, duchies and principalities that make up the crazy-quilt map of Germany may be stumped by Thuringia, for officially it does not exist. It is a familiar term to the German, however, and is most comparable perhaps to our "New England," which name though not a political unit, has its historic reason for existence, and its definite group of officially labelled divisions.

Germany's Bag of Odds and Ends
Thuringia is across the old kingdom of Saxony from Silesia and constitutes the very heart of Germany—a region safely away from frontiers, which in recent years in Europe have shown a disconcerting reluctance to "stay put." There, too, are large numbers of potential laborers, far from prosperous and anxious to work. More important still, large iron-ore deposits have recently been discovered in the region.

Thuringia might be described, in so far as its political divisions are concerned, as Germany's bag of odds and ends. Here is the greatest concentrated duchies and principalities that have been the despair of generation after generation of geography classes.

Saxe-Coburg-Gotha, Saxe-Weimar-Eisenach, Saxe-Altenburg, Saxe-Meiningen, Schwarzburg-Rudolstadt, Schwarzburg-Sondershausen, Reuss-Greiz and Reuss-Schleiz are the independent divisions in Thuringia; and in addition the term covers detached and lonely fragments of Prussia, Saxony and Bavaria, in the midst of which three former kingdoms Thuringia is set down. But despite its heavy baggage of nomenclature the entire Thuringian region is little, if any, larger than New Jersey, fourth smallest of our States.

Why Younger Sons Are Set Adrift
The Thuringian statelets, incidentally, are a shining negative example of why most monarchies long ago fixed on the principle of primogeniture, and turned the younger sons out to slake for themselves. Had that principle been adopted at an early date by the Saxons, Saxony and Prussia might have become the leading power in Germany, and led to a vastly different German Empire.

Thuringia and Saxony fell into one inheritance in 1826 but a division was made in 1855. While the present Saxony has remained practically at its strength at the time of the division, the Thuringian portion was divided and subdivided to afford patches of territory and titles to younger sons.

Until primogeniture was adopted the division went merely on until at times a dozen or more principalities existed. Through the dying out of some lines and the reuniting of properties, the number has been gradually reduced; but while one half of the old Saxony has retained its power, the other half is now a collection of German councils—a sort of exemplification in national fortunes of the American formula, "shirtsleeves to shirtsleeves in three generations."

Luther was born on the border of Thuringia at Eisenach, went to school in the most Thuringian of Thuringian towns, Eisenach, and took his degree at the University of Erfurt. When his declaration at Worms had placed his life in danger, Frederick the Wise of Saxony hid Luther near Eisenach in the famous Thuringian castle of Wartburg where he remained for about a year while his cause grew in popularity.

That Thuringian traditions still make the region important socially even when after the World War a convention was called to frame a new German constitution. Weimar, in the very heart of Thuringia, was the place from which to launch this epoch-making document.

Chats With YOUR Gas Man

If gas came in bags—
If telephone service was sold over the counter—
If electric energy was sold by the yard—

You might hear something like the following:
"Send your boy around with ten pounds of your best gas. Be sure the bags don't leak."
"I'd like about 300 words of snappy conversation. How much is it today?"
"Quote me a price on a bolt of that electricity you have on sale today."

Of course, public utility service is not measured or sold that way. As service, for example, is available on tap, regardless of time and weather. It's more than just "goods." It's goods plus SERVICE.

Bird Eats Only Oily Seeds

The remarkable oil-bird was discovered by the celebrated Humboldt a little over a century ago in a cave in Venezuela, but has since been found inhabiting caverns in Guinea, Colombia and Trinidad, as well as Ecuador and Peru. It is a bird of nocturnal habits, and its food, so far as known, consists entirely of oily seeds.

The young birds soon become a perfect mass of fat and are then secured in great numbers by the native Indians, who melt out the oil and run it into earthen pots, and retain it for further consumption as a substitute for butter. The oil is said to be colorless and odorless, and may be kept for a year or more without becoming rancid. The delicate young birds are also esteemed as food by some, but their rather strong cockroach-like odor is objectionable to most palates.

GOING ABROAD FOR DATA FOR BOOK DEALING WITH VAGRANCY

Ernest Bertram Willard, well known in Winchester through his occasional contributions to the Star, will sail for Great Britain Saturday, July 7, where he will spend several months in study and travel. Among the cities he will visit are Glasgow, Edinburgh, London, Liverpool, Birmingham, Manchester, Dublin, Cork, Belfast and Limerick.

Mr. Willard, who was also for about a dozen years editor of the Evening Herald and Republican, will while abroad gather additional data for his sociological work "Human Wastrels: a study of Psychopathic Vagrancy in the United States and Great Britain." A year ago Mr. Willard tramped with tramps in this country and the United Kingdom and the object of his book will be to show the majority of tramps and vagrants in this country and the United Kingdom cannot be expected to measure up to the ordinary standards of morality or productivity. Mr. Willard is convinced that these human wastrels conform to no type except that of degenerate subnormality, and vary widely in disposition and degree of disfigurement, as not at all remarkable phenomenon, according to Mr. Willard, as distinctions between abnormal units is greater, necessarily, than between those which are normal. The problem of psychopathic vagrancy is one of physical treatment as well as of medical diagnosis and classification for administrative economy.

UNION SUNDAY SCHOOL PICNIC

The annual S. S. picnic of the Baptist, Congregational, and Methodist churches will be held this year at Norumbega Park, Saturday, June 9, 1923. It is hoped that there will be a record crowd at this, the first inter-church S. S. picnic.

Everyone planning to go should bring their lunch and be at the Common by 10 o'clock in the morning. Transportation will be provided free for those who intend to go, and people taking their own cars who have an empty seat are requested to drive around by the Common to pick up additional passengers.

The sports will take place in the forenoon, there being first, second, and third prizes for each event. The Sunday School winning the trophy cup for a year. The cup is to be finally awarded to the School making the most points in three consecutive years. Lunch hour at one o'clock. The baseball game will be played in the afternoon. The trucks will leave Norumbega Park to return to Winchester at 6 o'clock, arriving here about 7 p. m.

If the picnic is called off on account of rain the church bells will be rung at 9:30 a. m., Saturday. The committee are planning to have one truck leave Winchester center at 12:30 to take those who may be unable to get away earlier.

Chief of police William R. McIntosh returned from Moose River, Maine, where he was a member of the Lane fishing party, Monday. The remainder of the party are expected home tomorrow.

100 R. R. CARS WILL BRING GIANT CIRCUS

Arriving at 10 and 100 double-length railroad cars forming trains more than one and one-third miles long, and made even greater than in 1922 by the addition of many big, new foreign acts, Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey Combined will exhibit at Boston June 18 to 23.

Those who read the daily papers or who keep in touch with the movie new-roads need not be reminded of the shipload of acts and animals recently imported by the greatest show on earth. The remarkable cargo including two companies of baby elephants are now joined with the forty adults of the mammoth herd. There were also 100 more performing horses accompanied by Europe's greatest trainer, and many wild animals, some of which have been added to the series of trained jungle beasts, while others have become part of the marvelous menagerie.

WINCHESTER TUBERCULOSIS FUND

The need of money for tuberculosis work in Winchester is the reason of our urgent appeal at this time to our friends not to forget "Tag Day" on Saturday, June 16th.

We have already received $25 from a friend before she leaves town for the summer and another friend sent in $10 the following day.

We feel the importance of this work should interest every citizen of the town. It is only by constant preventive work that tuberculosis can be successfully stamped out in this community.

It is possible for this disease to become as rare as smallpox. Winchester has been a pioneer in this work and we are anxious for her to keep up her good record.

This fall four children will be in our public schools practically cured of tuberculosis through the efforts of the "T. B." committee.

If results of this nature come from the work in our doing, we feel sure we shall have the hearty support of our townspeople. Do not forget us on June 16th.

Contributions may be sent to Winchester tuberculosis committee, Mrs. Mary W. Carpenter, chairman.

Mr. John W. Johnson of Wildwood street suffered the death of his father at Newton this week.

ELKS' INSTALLATION

There was a record attendance at the regular meeting of Winchester Lodge of Elks Tuesday evening, over 200 members of the order being present. Wisler, E. L. K. Charles W. Howard, Chaplain John H. Devine, Inner Guard Frank P. Joyce, Esquire Lewis G. H. Tucker.

E. R. Frederick H. Clark acted as Assistant Esquire and was accompanied by all the present chair officers of Winthrop Lodge. Among the guests, which included Elks from over 25 surrounding lodges, were John Thompson, honorary life member of and charter member of New York Lodge, and Henry Hayward, E. L. K. M. N. E. of Boston Lodge.

The following officers were installed: Exalted Ruler—Frederick D. Clement; Esteemed Leading Knight—Geo. T. Desautel; Esteemed Lord Knight—Maurice Dismen; Esteemed Leading Knight—Fred H. Schell; Secretary—Michael J. Denham; Treasurer—Michael J. Denham; Tithe—Michael J. Denham; Esquire—Frederick H. Clark; Inner Guard—Robert Boulton; Inner Guard—Joseph Blackman; Inner Guard—James J. ### BOAT CLUB IMPROVEMENTS

Of interest to the people of Winchester, more particularly so to the members of the Winchester Boat Club, are the alterations to the Clubhouse which are now rapidly nearing completion.

The first improvement made was in the Steward's quarters on the third floor. This room has been greatly enlarged and entirely refurnished so that now it is exceedingly attractive. The second floor bears now but small resemblance to its original plan. The piazza floor having been raised to the level of the floor of the main building. The partitions have been taken out and the entire space thrown into one large hall. The flooring is of maple wood and when finished will, without doubt, be one of the finest floors for dancing in this vicinity. The piazza is enclosed with sashed windows and before the expiration of the present work it will be completely screened. With these improvements it will be possible for the Club members, should they so elect, to extend the Club season for at least two months. At the end of the piazza, nearest Cambridge street, there is a recess about twelve feet square; this has been converted into a most attractive room, being separated from the main dance floor merely by two pillars which form an archedway. The Directors hope to have this room comfortably fitted up with wicker chairs and table for the use of the Club matrons and chaperones attending dances. Also, in this room the Board of Directors will hold their meetings.

Mr. Horatio C. Rohman, the new president of the Club, has been untiring in his efforts to improve the building so that the Club may take its place with the other fine Clubs of the city. The services of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Stevens have been engaged, Mr. Stevens being the new Steward. Afternoon work on the Clubhouse, and also at the request of members, it will be possible to make reservations for suppers, tables being located on the main floor overlooking the lake. The Club is ideally situated and no doubt many of the members will avail themselves of the privilege of dining at the Clubhouse.

On Saturday, June 16th, it is proposed to hold an open Club day which is to be followed by a frolic on the evening of Tuesday, June 19th. A Smoker, for Club members only, will be held at which time it is hoped that all persons who are members of the Winchester Boat Club will be present to inspect the new Clubhouse and judge of the changes which have been made.

A whist party and cake sale in aid of the Parish festival, will be held under the direction of Miss Helen B. Doherty on Wednesday evening, June 13, in K. of C. Hall.

RAIN INSURANCE

The success of almost any event or undertaking—business or other—depends largely upon weather conditions. Some events may be only slightly affected by rain, while others are practically a total pecuniary loss. The only sure thing is insurance to indemnify for financial loss caused by rain. NOW is not too early to place orders for rain insurance for Memorial Day, June 17. Fourth of July, Labor Day, etc.

WAKEFIELD 4, WINCHESTER LEGION 1.

A bad out on Durants, pitching hand and an elm tree in right field cost the Legion boys a well fought game at Wakefield last Friday evening. The Wakefield team a hard hitting aggregation could not touch Durant for the first four innings.

In the first inning Ryan, Connors and Lane all singled, but the Legion boys were held by some snappy work on the part of Wakefield. Wakefield got men on bases with three cheap hits the ball landing in the sand between third and home. However no runs were made. Loneragan being thrown out at first. Doherty got Kelly's high foul and Dow was caught out third when Doherty made a bullet like throw to Connors.

The second inning both sides went out quickly. The third inning was uneventful in Winchester's half. For an error and reached second while Loneragan was being thrown out. Walsh up next connected for what looked like a sure hit in short center but Fulton the new Winchester short stop turned and tore after it catching it over his shoulder, another turn and a snap to Ryan at second and Doherty was doubled by a clutch play. Quigley doubled in the fourth and was brought in by Fulton's hot drive which no one could touch. Wakefield went out one two three, Ryan making a wonderful stop and throw to first at Sullivan's expense.

Winchester got one man on in the fifth but could not score. Durant's hand seemed to be bad at this time and Wakefield got three on bases on a pass and two hot liners which Connors and Ryan stopped but could not get the ball to first. Loneragan up next put a high fly into the elm tree in right field and while Quigley waited for the ball to filter down through the branches two runs came in. Two more runs came in on two hits and then Sullivan stopped the rally with a wonderful peg from deep center tripping Walsh at the plate. Neither team could score after that both pitchers seeming to tighten up. It was a hard game to lose but nevertheless a good game. Wakefield has a bunch of real ball players but the Legion boys can take their number on Manchester Field when they come June 26.

The game throughout had many good plays and exciting points. During the first two innings no scoring was done by either team. In the third inning the home side scored twice. Rolinson reached first on an error. Donovan sacrificed and Druggan hit scoring Rolinson. Scaler fanned and Druggan hit to center scoring Rolinson. Rolinson hit to center scoring Druggan. In the fourth the visitors scored four

STONEHAM TOWN TEAM THE BEST

The Legion Team lost a game to Stoneham Town Team on Tuesday evening 7 to 5. Two wild heaves by the Legion boys cost them five runs and the game was sewed up by Stoneham. Stoneham scored two runs in the first inning on as many errors. In the second Winchester, with some very good work, brought its tally up to four. Quigley started this rally with a home run into the river. Stoneham scored one run in the fourth on a base on ball and a hit, and then ran wild in the sixth, gathering in four runs after the dust had cleared.

Winchester made a desperate attempt to even things up in the sixth but one run was all they could make. It was a hard game to lose, the local boys out-hitting Stoneham, but the erratic throwing did the trick, Stoneham making five runs on two of these wild pegs.

Notes
Fulton made a wonderful one-hand stop on a hard hit ball and just missed doubling a man at third. He came into the limelight again in the fifth when he made a pretty double play unassisted.

Durant pitched a good game, but did not get the backing in the pinches. Pullong, the umpire made a hit with the fans and the players, shaping up in big-league style.

Although the Winchester boys made six errors everyone will agree they have a good ball team. The best of players will focus at times.

The crowd was the largest twilight crowd seen on the field since the even-baseball was inaugurated.

Winchester people will see some good baseball this summer, both twilight and Saturday afternoon. If every one roots for the boys and wears a ticket in his hat we will have some good times together this summer.

There were many Tuesday night who did not have a ticket to show. Everyone dug down. Any game the boys put on is worth at least a quarter to the fans. Good baseball costs the Legion boys money and they want the crowd to have it. Everyone have a ticket at the next game.

Saturday afternoon is the big opening game. A strong opponent, a big band, parade, etc., all promise a grand entertainment.

Don't forget to buy a tag during the day. It will be a good opportunity to show your desire for good baseball this summer.

The team goes to Malden Monday night, June 11, to play the strange Malden City Club on Ferryway Green. Tuesday night the 12th we play them here on Manchester Field.

Everyone have a tag or a ticket Saturday. Give the team a boost.

LAST SATURDAY'S GAME AWARDED TO WAKEFIELD

Wakefield High won from Winchester High on last Saturday afternoon, 10-8 on Manchester Field. The winning of the game depended to a large extent on the umpire's decision on a catch made by the centerfielder of Wakefield and though his ruling may be accepted without question there is still room for controversy as to the regularity of the vents which followed his decision.

Winchester came to bat in the last half of the ninth with the score 10-8 in Wakefield favor. Kendrick got a clean hit to centre and Fitzgerald followed with another through second. O'Donnell repeated Kendrick's hit to centre and three men were on with no outs. Melly came next with a Texas leaguer to centre and Talbot started in for it. It was quite evident that he could not get it and Coach Bond signalled his men to come in. From the sidelines it looked as though Talbot scooped the ball up immediately after it struck the ground. This was probably the case for he held it up before throwing in to give the impression that he had caught it. At this point the umpire ruled that Kendrick had rounded Cossett and while the excitement was at its height the ball was thrown to second and third and a triple play was effected. This of course ended the game Winchester losing 10-8. Cossett was taken away by Officer Kelly to save him from molestation by the angry crowd.

Admitting that Cossett's decision was correct as to Talbot's catch, the question arises as to whether Kendrick and O'Donnell were out at second and third. When these bases were tagged there were at least 50 people on the mound and certainly there is ground for a protest when spectators are interfering with the game.

The game throughout had many good plays and exciting points. During the first two innings no scoring was done by either team. In the third inning the home side scored twice. Rolinson reached first on an error. Donovan sacrificed and Druggan hit scoring Rolinson. Scaler fanned and Druggan hit to center scoring Rolinson. Rolinson hit to center scoring Druggan. In the fourth the visitors scored four more. Talbot hit, Malonson fanned and Rolinson was passed. Donovan hit to left and scored Talbot. Druggan's liner to second got by O'Donnell and through a series of errors three runs were scored. At the beginning of the sixth the game looked lost for Winchester. The locals had scored twice in the fifth, but with a lead of four runs Wakefield seemed to have the game.

But the sixth proved to be Winchester's big inning for the boys ran up six runs. McKeeing led off with a two-bagger, Tansey walked, and Kendrick knew the score. Fitzgerald got on by an error by Pasquino and O'Donnell did the same. Swymmer fanned and Kelly sacrificed, scoring Fitzgerald and O'Donnell. Prime hit and scored Kelly. Thus the score stood 8 to 6 in favor of Winchester.

In the eighth Wakefield scored one more and in the ninth three, making the score 10 to 8 on their side. Thus when Winchester went to bat in the ninth the entire game and the championship of the league depended upon what they could do. This part of the ninth was wholly out of order and it is impossible to say which team was the real winner of the game.

Harrold's homer in the fifth was the finest sock that has been seen on Manchester Field in some years. Kelly was on and Harrold lifted the first one high and long over left center and into the river. Kendrick and Harrold were the big hitting factors in the game. Kendrick got four out of five times at bat and Harrold two out of three.

Francis Tansey's pitching was as usual very good and though the visitors hit him twelve times the hits were so scattered that they would have caused little trouble were not two or three serious errors mixed with them.

DAILY PHILOSOPHY

Be yourself unless you're a fool; in that case, of course, try to be something else.

Faith is not a passive thing—mere believing or waiting for—an active thing—a positive striving and achievement.

Many are the perils, the failures,
the miseries we have escaped,
yet life to us is still gracious and wholesome.

The dog that dropped his bone to snap at its reflection in the water went dinnerless—no do we often lose the substance
—the joy—of our work by longing for tasks we think better fitted to our capabilities.

Bathing has been underway at Sandy Beach for a fortnight. Up to the first of the week the bath houses there remained closed, the children undressing in the open or in the bushes.
Somebody ought to get a medal for the way Sandy is run.

It must have seemed natural to many of the big crowd at the baseball game Saturday afternoon who sat in the billows of soft coal smoke and tried to watch the playing. Only by the temperature could they imagine that last winter's fire was a thing of the past. We do not wonder that the umpire had difficulty in making his decision. The locomotive was parked at just the right spot to smother the field. Probably the umpire and first-man who watched the game felt thoroughly at home.

The pigment was the thing Saturday night. East side, west side and all the town was there. The night was perfect (even though the "fall mist" failed to come in the through-and the setting was ideal. It made an impressive picture from start to finish.
Not a little credit should be given to the police, who handled the auto and crowd efficiently and conveniently.
Not an accident or an incident marred the evening. The onslaught of professional and amateur exterminators, with an ample supply of citronella and joss sticks for the ladies, left the "birds" without any courage whatever. The only regret anyone had was the failure of any opportunity to see
the affair a second time.

Sportsmanship was in evidence at the High School baseball game on Manchester field, and not a little respected to "Jimmy" Fitzpatrick. Did you notice how "Jimmy" after being called out himself, walked over to the umpire, surrounded by angry and excited players and fans, and placing his hand on his shoulder delivered his little ultimatum "to let him alone." We judged "Jimmy" meant it, too. As a matter of fact, there appeared little doubt but what "Jimmy" would have patted the first man who laid his hands on the umpire, good and plenty. According to his idea of baseball what the umpire decided stood. We like to see baseball played along "Jimmy's" line, and although disappointed over the decision, both regarding the fly and the base runners, are distinctly glad that there was no question where Winchester stood in the matter.

SCHOOL SPIRIT DAY

What is it. A day when the boys and girls of the seventh grades compete against the boys and girls of the eighth grades for the honor of being adjudged the grade achieving the most for the glory of "Old Wadleigh School!"

When is it. Friday, June 22, 3 p. m.
Where. Town Hall. Of what kind are the contests?

Music, writing, orators, manual training, printing, sewing, basketball, attendance and punctuality.

In addition the Girls' Glee Club and the Orchestra will contribute selections.

Who completes? Teams of five pupils represent each grade in all events except music. In music one whole grade competes against the other.

How were the contestants selected?
The pupils of each division elected two of their division to compete in each event. The teachers then selected the better qualified of the two and chose the fifth pupil from the grade at large.

Here are the names of the pupils on the teams and the items in each event for which points will be awarded:

Speaking Contests

Grade 7: Rich Kennedy, Dorothy Smith,
John Robinson, Janet Goddard, Elizabeth Clarke, Helen Lundgren, John Wadsworth, William McKim,

Robert Williams, Ronald Olinsted

Article Made—Whitcomb, Junior, four pieces.

Sewing Contest

Grade 7: Florence Tolson, Florence Waters, Margaret Bradlee, Katherine Wall,
Elizabeth Clarke, Sarah Lundgren,
Alice Nelson, Catherine Green

The problem—a one bodied cap.
Conditions under which work is to be done—The two pieces of cap cut out by the contestant before the contest, the elastic measured and cut to the required lengths. All sewing to be done by hand.

Printing Contest

Grade 7: Philip Dalton, Walter Bradlee, Laural Brown, William McKim,

ing proofs of straight composition matter.

Rules—Each contestant to commence setting given copy in copy-book. Thirty-five minutes allowed for setting type. Ten minutes allowed for taking of first proof and correcting. Five minutes allowed for taking second proof.

Music—One song sung separately by grade seven and by grade eight.
Two songs sung by grade eight.
Two songs sung by grade seven.

Attendance, Punctuality—5 points for each event awarded grade with highest percentage record for the last four weeks of school.

Ranking—5 points given to grade having the highest percentage of class possessing book books. Five points given to grade that has saved the greatest amount of money during the school year.

What are the pupils to wear?
The girls must wear some ordinary cotton or linen dress. The boys may wear any ordinary suit. Seventh grade must wear on left arm above elbow a ribbon rosette of blue and gold. Eighth grades must wear on right arm above elbow a ribbon rosette of blue and gold. The rosettes were made by the girls in sewing classes. Blue and Gold are the school colors.

Who may attend? Any citizen who desires to attend provided the capacity of the hall permits. First come first served except that children unaccompanied by parents must give up seat to an adult if seats do not hold out.

Anything else? Report cards and certificates of promotion will be given out in envelopes as children file out of hall, by grades, while parents remain seated.

WINCHESTER AT LONGWOOD

Last Saturday, 14 of the Winchester girls and boys played in the open tennis tournament for children under 15 at the Longwood Club in Chestnut Hill.

As the Longwood Club is the oldest tennis center in the country and has been the home of many national champions, having five of them right now, our youngsters felt it was serious business. For the past two years our boys have played over there and taken some good lickings while gaining their experience. Mrs. George W.
Wightman (formerly Hazel Hotchkiss of California) present holder with Edmund Ball of the National Indoor Mixed Doubles Championship, which she won from Tilden and his partner last March, was in charge of the tournament.

The first match finished was in the girls' singles with Nancy Sherman on the big end of the score. Two minutes later Virginia Tompkins reported a winner; then John Clarke shut out Nathaniel W. Niles, Jr., son of the great player.

So it went on. When, after four rounds of play, the semi-finals of the boys' singles was reached it looked like a Wadleigh-Prince tournament.
Palmer and John Clarke (all of the Wadleigh School) had put out every other boy and were left to battle for the cup which was won by John Clarke 6-5 after the closest play imaginable with Palmer. It was well the play was so close, for a short set, otherwise the two might have been at it yet.

In the girls side Nancy Sherman, Caroline Jansen and Janet Smith (one Wadleigh girl and two High School freshmen) were semi-finalists with Ruth Wellington of Chestnut Hill.
"Birds" without any courage whatever. The only regret anyone had was
the failure of any opportunity to see
the affair a second time.

In the mixed doubles final, John Clarke and Caroline Jansen, (Wadleigh school and Winchester High) met Janet Goddard and Wadleigh playing with Prescott Bigelow of Brookline. Caroline and John came through beautifully with a third victory for Winchester and two more cups.

The final of the girls' doubles was another comfortable tie to watch as Barbara Baugher and Janet Goddard fought in this year's Wadleigh-Prince tournament) were on one side of the net opposed to Virginia Tompkins of Wadleigh and Gertrude Packer of Winchester. The two more cups and Janet Goddard took the championship, in spite of the blisters on Janet's playing hand.

The only event Winchester did not win was the boys' doubles, but our four semi-final boys were too busy to try their skill in that and did not enter.

Three other Winchester children, Louise Packer, Charles Eaton and Roland Sherman, were on the team and all played well, each finishing in a victory in one or more rounds.

If there is a better group of players of the same age than these youngsters of the Wadleigh-Prince and Winchester High, they will have to prove it.
Silverware is not safe anywhere when the Winchester Kids pick up their tennis rackets.

With four public tennis courts and a constantly increasing number of good players coming on, Winchester has made a fine beginning. If our public courts are improved and their numbers increased to keep up with the growing demand, there is no reason why Winchester should not go to the top in tennis and stay there.

BOYS' TRACK MEET

The Annual Boys' Track Meet of the Winchester High School was held last Wednesday afternoon. Rain interfered with the running of the events but when it was passed the program was finished. About thirty boys, representing every class in the school, took part.

The Junior delegation won the meet with a total of thirty-eight points. The Seniors were second with eighteen points and the Sophomores third with fifteen. The Freshmen made practically no showing, getting but a lone point.

The order of events were as follows:

1. 50-yard dash
2. 100-yard dash
3. Running high jump
4. 150-yard dash
5. Running broad jump
6. Discus throw
7. Mile run

Frank Rolli of the sophomore class won the 50 yard dash in 5.4 seconds.
Arthur French of the Junior class was second and Ralph Gardner, sophomore, third.

French won the shot put breaking the school record with a toss of forty feet one inch. Prescott Randlett of the Junior class was second and Clinton Mason, senior, was third.

French also won the 100 yard dash in the fine time of 10.3-5 seconds.
Rolli and Gardner were second and third respectively in this event.

Mason won the running high jump at five feet one inch. John Kenneron of the Seniors was second with four feet and Joseph Black, third with four feet.

French won again in the next event, the 220 yard dash. His time was comparatively slow at 25 seconds, but Rolli and Harold Tobey of the Freshmen all they could do to place.
Robert's time was the only point won by the '26 class.

French took his fourth first in the running broad jump, with a leap of over ten feet and he was two feet ahead of Mason who was second. Gardner was third with sixteen feet nine inches.

French won the discus throw by scaling it eighty six feet one inch.
French was a scant nine inches behind him for second place and Mason was third with eighty four feet five inches.

Others taking part in this event were: Kenneron, McCauley,
Black and Winter in this event.

The race was slow and little competition was shown by Bernard and Hegel who took second and third respectively.

Summary of points:

	Fresh.	Soph.	Jun.	Sen.
Shot put	0	0	3	0
100-yard dash	0	0	4	0
Running high jump	0	1	3	0
150-yard dash	1	3	0	0
Running broad jump	0	0	4	1
Discus throw	0	0	4	1
Mile run	0	0	0	1
Totals	1	15	24	15

The meet lacked the snap of those of previous years, not nearly so much interest being shown. Due to the oppressive heat the boys were certainly not at their best but those who were entered went into things whole heartedly with determination to win. French was the star of the day taking four firsts and one second in the five events in which he took part.

The next meeting of the Mission
Union of the First Congregational Church will be a social one at the home of Miss Frances Elder, Fern-way, at 9 o'clock in the afternoon on Tuesday, June 12th. The speaker will be Mrs. Henry S. Smith, the new President of the Woman's Home Missionary Association.

which completely destroyed the west section of the town last Saturday.

An initial advance of $5000 has already been turned over to the local Red Cross chapter, from the disaster funds of the organization.

The prizes offered by Winchester Lodge of Elks for the best essay on the Flag, which will be selected from over 150 essays submitted, are an exhibition in the window of Hevey's, drug store. The judges will select the best essay between now and Monday, when the winner will be announced.

Box 57 was rung in for a roof fire at the residence of Mr. E. Jennings 127 Church street Friday noon, a lively blaze started from sparks from the chimney. The fire was entirely extinguished with a garden hose, which had been brought into play when the fire was discovered. The fire had just commenced to go inside the roof, and it was necessary to chop an opening before it was extinguished. The damage was small.

Park Commissioner F. C. Alexander had placed another of gold medals in the fountain basin on the Common.
Provided the boys will restrain their hunting instinct and stop throwing stones at the fish, there appears no reason why they will not live and thrive in the pool. Water lilies and marine growth is to be added to the basin also, to provide shade and food for the fish, some of which are above ordinary size.

The Metcalf Party, conducted by Rev. Joel H. Metcalf of Portland, Me., former residence of Winchester, will sail the 24th of this month. Among those who will spend the summer abroad in the party are Mrs. Freeland E.
Hovey, Miss Elizabeth Downs and Miss Mollie O. Keepers.

WAS BROTHER OF THE LATE WILLIAM D. RICHARDS

The Rev. Joseph Haven Cowles Richards, former president of Georgetown University, and known as one of the most notable leaders in North America died late Saturday at Holy Cross College following a shock.

Fr. Richards during the war was a member of the advisory committee to the council of national defense. He was a native of Columbus, Ohio, where he was born in 1871. He was no resident of Georgetown from 1888 to 1898, was in religious work in California and in the Jesuit novitiates at Frederick, Md., and St. Andrews-on-the-Hudson until 1906, was attached to Boston College and the Church of the Immaculate Conception in Boston for three years and was at St. Ignatius Church in New York City for three and one-half years. He was vice president of Canisius College in Buffalo from 1915 to 1917, served as rector of Loyola school and the Church of St. Ignatius, Loyola, New York, since 1915.

His latest appointment was to the newly established home of Jesuits in Weston, where he was teaching when seized with the illness which caused his death. He went to Holy Cross about a month ago for a rest.

Father Richards was well known in Winchester where his people have made their home for 25 years. Miss Mary Richards of Black Horse Terrace is the only living member of the family. He was a brother of the late William D. Richards.

ENTERTAINED HIS CLASS

On Thursday evening, June 7, Frank Barrett of 19 Revere street, entertained at his home a number of his class students from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Dancing, games and lunch were enjoyed. Among the guests were a number of young lady friends including:

Grace Hatfield, Arlington
Marion Crosby, Arlington
Alice K. White, Arlington
Eileen White, Arlington
Constance Leland, Winchester
Mildred Barrett, Winchester
Dorothy B. Wadsworth, Melrose Highlands
Grace Thresher, Melrose Highlands
Mary Corbett, Greenwood
Doris Eaton, Greenwood
Winifred Lester, Greenwood Eunice Williams, Wakefield
Mavis Barker, Wakefield

Among the students were:

H. B. Kane, Cambridge
Scott Emerson, Winchester
Paul Ben Kerley, Providence, R. I.
Donald Lewis, Melrose
William Robinson, Somerville
Samuel Hatfield, Arlington
C. E. Smith, Melrose
G. M. Nash, Wakefield
C. J. Schwartz, Winchester
Vincent Lavigne, Fall River
Frank Barrett, Winchester

Among the above students there are five young men who will attend the Officers' Training Camp at Fort Wright, New London, Conn., in the Coast Artillery school. The boys expect to be away about six weeks. Scott Emerson '22 and Frank Barrett '24, are among the students attending the training camp.

We have just learned of a teacher who started poor 20 years ago and has retired with the comfortable fortune of $50,000. This was acquired through industry, economy, conscientious effort, indomitable perseverance and the death of an uncle who left her an estate valued at $49,999.50.

FOLEY-McNALLY

Miss Helen Frances McNally of this town and Mr. Martin Joseph Foley of Woburn were united in marriage at St. Mary's rectory on Sunday evening by the Rev. Joseph Fitzgibbon. The ceremony was performed at five o'clock the couple being attended by Miss Elizabeth T. Glendon of this town and Mr. Frank C. McKinnon of Woburn. The bride wore a dress of king's blue crepe tulle, headed and embroidered with ostrich feathers. She carried a bouquet of bride's roses. The bridesmaid wore grey tulle, embroidered in blue and silver, with hat of orchid, canton crepe, and carried orchids and sweet peas.

A reception followed the ceremony at 12 Park street, there being a large attendance of friends from this and surrounding places. The couple were generously remembered by many handsome wedding gifts. At the close of the reception the couple left on a wedding trip to the White Mountains, the bride wearing a going-away suit of white canton crepe embroidered in grey, with hat to match.

Upon their return they will make their home on Washington street, this town.

Saturday's heavy rain caused the postponement and cancellation of numerous events here. The picnic of the Sunday Schools of the Protestant churches had to be given up, the horse show postponed and the ball games abandoned, to say nothing of the hindrance to golf tournament and other sports.

Hall's Catarrh Medicine

Those who are in a "run down" condition will notice that Catarrh bothers them much more than when they are in good health. This fact proves that while Catarrh is a local disease, it is greatly influenced by constitutional conditions.

HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE consists of an Ointment which Quickly Relieves by Local Application, and the Internal Medicine, a Tonic, which assists in improving the General Health.

Sold by druggists for over 40 Years.

RAIN INSURANCE

The success of almost any event or undertaking—business or other—depends largely upon weather conditions. Some events may be only slightly affected by rain, while others are practically a total pecuniary loss. The only sure thing is insurance to indemnify for financial loss caused by rain. NOW is not too early to place orders for rain insurance for Memorial Day, June 17, Fourth of July, Labor Day, etc.

WINCHESTER LEGION 2, MALDEN CITY CLUB 2

Before a crowd of 2000 people on Ferryway Green, Winchester Legion and the strong Malden City Club battled to a 2 to 2 tie game Monday night. Malden City Club, which has a record of 10 straight victories, with their usual strong lineup, could do nothing to Durant's slants. Three singles by McKinley, Jackson and Clancy netted them two runs in the third and then Malden went down in one, two, three order. Winchester in their half of the third gathered in one run. Doherty singled, stole second and came home on Durant's nice sacrifice. In the fourth inning Winchester tied it up. Quigley reached first on a fielder's choice, stole second and came home on Hatch's hit into the left field crowd. After that both teams pitched errorless ball behind air tight pitching and darkness halted the game in a deadlock.

DAILY PHILOSOPHY

Since the war I have been trying to make out just what peace was like—can it be that we are having it now?

Strange to say that there are only a few men who object to going after fish early in the morning. They are in the fish business, and they don't pay others but dishonesty doesn't even pay them.

His word is as good as his bond. We wonder if his word is as good about his game of golf. The man who goes around complaining will never get across.

The dishonest not only do not pay others but dishonesty doesn't even pay them.

"One of the prize bathing suits was made of white ermine trimmed with monkey fur and fire for the same material, estimated to be worth $2500!" Could the girl swim? It wasn't stated.

Do you suppose any officer would have the courage to arrest any one of the thousands who have been using Sandy Beach this week for swimming down those barred gates to the bath?

who took a trip over the using the hot spell has no guarding the popularity of Sandy beach. It was a good thing—and then some. The padlocks on the bath houses were still in place yesterday.

The Star has been informed unofficially that some of the officials of the City of Medford are not so kindly disposed as they might be over rebuilding the wreck of Winthrop street. This is the horrible example of a highway which connects Winchester and points north with our neighboring city, and is largely used by each. Somerville, Charlestown and Boston. We hardly understand why any such feeling should exist, and the explanation that we have heard is that the city of Medford is to build its other roads first, hardly sufficient. One would imagine that a through highway such as this would receive first consideration by our neighbors. We feel certain that Mayor Coolidge would hold such a view. Of course we rejoice that Medford has been enabled to secure its large appropriation for new street construction, and wish its citizens to reap the full and immediate benefit from the contemplated work, but it takes no stretch of the imagination to guess where Winchester would begin on such a program—and that would be on its principal entering highways. Perhaps Winchester, in furnishing its Medford friends with a travel north with some of the best roads in the State, does not need consideration, but we hope so. Time will tell.

The report that extra police have been engaged to protect the Town as a matter of the rumor that someone is going to "paint it red" with water from the Aberjona River is absolutely without foundation. The committee which has been investigating the river during the past two years jest emphatically that this coarse jest originated within its councils, and as a matter of fact states that it doesn't even hold any council. It is quite apparent that should any town it would make an investigation, and it is stated on good authority that one town board at least is seriously considering fencing in the so-called Mystic Lake to prevent such a catastrophe occurring. It is said, but without any authenticity, that the canoeists on week-end races had much difficulty in breathing, and even questioned the substance in which the races were held, claiming that they had been accustomed to paddle through water only. One man who fell overboard is reported as being stung so badly that the doctors deny of restoring his natural color, but this, too, is probably exaggerated. At any rate, our river and lakes have gained considerable and widespread notoriety in the matter. The Board of Health expects to be away over the warm weather and will thus escape the stench from the town, thereby affording its members a perfect alibi. The best advice we have heard for those of us who are obliged to remain at home is to buy a good supply of clothes pins and fasten them on our noses when in the vicinity of the Aberjona. Probably everything will blow out all right in the end, however. We are a healthy town and not a few of us will be able to whale the salt sea air at least once during the hot spell.

The wedding of Miss Frances A. Elder and the Rev. Howard J. Chidley, which takes place next Tuesday noon at the Elder estate on Myopia Hill, will be very quiet. Only relatives have been invited to the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. S. Winchester Adrians at 12 o'clock. The couple plan to spend a month in California and then make a ten-day trip to Alaska, returning by way of the Canadian Rockies and Great Lakes, reaching Winchester the latter part of September.

APPRAISERS VALUING AN ESTATE

What are these bonds worth? We must look up the market value. How about this list of stocks? Probably like the average, some good others good for nothing. Here are ten life insurance policies. Now those are worth while. They are worth face value, and mean much more than that to the family, on account of the forms of settlement designated, which insures the insured.

SPECIAL TOWN MEETING

Important Matters Calling For Much Money to be Decided

Important matters calling for the expenditure of about $40,150 will come up at the special town meeting to be held on Monday evening, and it behooves every citizen to attend and take part in the session. Although the Finance Committee has passed upon the articles and announced its decision, it appears very probable that there will be considerable opposition on the part of those who advocate some of the measures advanced.

In the request for the appropriation for Highways, the Finance Committee will recommend the appropriation of about $10,000, allocating the sum for surface treatment on various streets, including work on Highland avenue, Kenwin road, Wilson street, Fairmount street and other ways. The committee will recommend raising $1400 for surface drainage on Cottage avenue also.

The committee will refuse the request for $700 for sewer construction in the Mystic Valley Parkway extension from above Mt. Vernon street to beyond the fish hatchery and will also turn down the request for $3500 for the lower end of Brooks street. This is said to have but one house on it and will necessitate going down 16 feet.

On High street, the advocates of spending $10,000 for sewer construction, will also be turned down by the committee. Above the Sanborn estate there are four houses, with one under construction on the opposite side of the street. It appears that this hill is of a ledge formation covered with six or eight feet of clay. Cesspools will not drain and the surface drainage overflows them. To relieve this condition and construct a sewer will necessitate blasting through ledge and also the laying of water pipe in the same trench, together with an expenditure of about $1500 for surface drainage. To enter this sewer would cost the property owners from $500 to $1000 each. As the development in this section appears to be slow, and considering the expense involved, the committee will not recommend the big expenditure, although there is good prospect that residents of the section will fight the decision.

Under Workmen's Compensation the sum of $2500 will be asked for in the case of Eugene H. Flaherty, who died last January. It was claimed that the death was due to results from an infection received from injury at the town stable, and the sum to be asked for is that agreed upon by the Compensation Industrial Accident Board.

Water construction will be approved to the extent of about $4000. $350 will be recommended for work on Lawrence street, $600 for Brooks street and $700 for Orient street. The request for $1000 for Mason street extension, which is a small street, will not be supported.

On Arlington street, from Swan road to McCall road, there is an 8 inch pipe but from the latter point to Cambridge street there is a 3 inch galvanized iron pipe, badly corroded. A hydrant near the Country Club has absolutely rotted and is stated, and the sum of $900 will be asked for with the Committee's approval to replace this pipe. If this is done our service will be connected with that of the Town of Arlington.

Because of increase in wages, it being desired to increase the force of five men to ten, the Water Board is asking for $1150. After investigating the situation, the Finance Committee will recommend the appropriation of $600.

The Wildwood Cemetery matter is important. Two years ago a Contractor purchased a lot of land adjoining the Cemetery and erected a building for making concrete blocks. This year he erected a dwelling upon the land and he now proposes to erect from 20 to 30 houses for Italian residents.

It is proposed to buy two parcels of 10 acres each and one of 6 acres at a price of $22,000, the money to be raised by a bond issue. This purchase would take land reaching to the crest of the hill to the west of the cemetery, thus giving a clear woodland to the view on this side.

The Finance Committee will recommend the purchase as they feel that the price is very reasonable. Land held by Mr. C. A. Gleason may be obtained at $500 an acre, although it is valued at $800. Furthermore, Mr. Gleason is willing to give to the Town various irregular parcels to straighten out boundary lines. His land is but a small portion of the taking, however.

Mr. Edward P. Macquire and daughter, Mrs. James V. Haley, spent the holidays at Bath, Me., visiting relatives.

CLASS OF '73 HOLDS 50TH ANNIVERSARY

The 50th anniversary of the class of 1873, Dartmouth College, has more than a passing interest for Winchester people, because not a few graduates of the college are residents of our town. Two members of the class belong to Winchester, as will be seen in the appended list. Fifty years have thinned the ranks of the class very greatly, yet, despite that fact, 23 were present, all but four of whom were graduate members of the class. Four left college before the four years were finished, but have always been enthusiastic in their devotion to both college and class. Of those present, Mr. A. S. Hall and Rev. S. W. Adrians are residents of Winchester, and another, Mr. J. H. Willoughby, was until recently a resident of our town. Mr. A. S. Hall is class president, and Rev. S. W. Adrians has been the class secretary for 48 years. In addition to the men, 14 ladies were present, all of whom took a hearty interest in the proceedings. Some of the men had not visited the college during the 50 years since graduation, and the marvelous growth in size of the campus, the new buildings and other new streets and avenues laid out, astonished them greatly. The class of 1873 entered college just as it was celebrating the first hundred years of its existence, and it was the largest class that had ever entered college up to that time, 134 in all belonging to it. As in every college, lack of funds or failure in health compelled many to leave before the full four years were completed, so that only 82 received the degree of Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science at the commencement of 1873. Seven more were later granted a degree, bringing the number to 89. Of these only 32 remain. The Boston Transcript of recent date published an illustrated article on the history of the class, having requested one of its members, Rev. Francis E. Clark, D.D., LL.D., to prepare it for them. One of the pleasant incidents of the reunion was the gathering under the fine old trees on Sunday afternoon, of the men of the class and the ladies and other guests accompanying them. At this time letters were read from many absent members and from surviving members of the families of the deceased classmates—wife or daughter—to whom the class secretary had sent a special letter before the reunion. The class banquet was held on Monday evening, June 18, and after the banquet, Alfred S. Hall called upon the men to tell of their experiences. In this heart to heart talk the hours went swiftly by, until with great regret all rose and sang "Auld Lang Syne," and so the memorable reunion passed. The secretary, as has been the custom with the class, while all stood to do honor, read the names of those who had died since the last reunion. The next day was commencement day, witnessing the graduation of the largest class that has ever left the old college.

In the procession, headed by the land, and followed by the various dignitaries in the college, followed the graduating class, which, on reaching Webster Hall, divided, lining the route on either side. Through this avenue of students the others were led to the places. The marching of the graduates to the platform to receive their "sheepskins" (the college name for the diploma) was impressive, and here and there the red-ribbon Phi Beta Kappa men lent color and interest to the scene.

The alumni banquet followed, at which as invited guest Secretary of State Charles E. Hughes was the central figure.

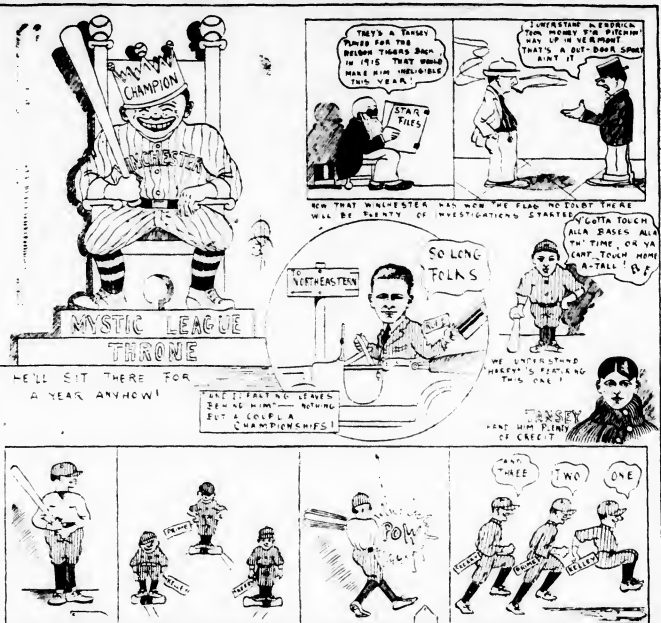

The members of the class of 1873, included the following: Prof. C. Frederick Bradley of Boston; Dr. Francis E. Clark of Boston, four of the Christian Endeavor Movement; A. R. Crispy of the Worcester Telegram; Rev. Pitt Dillingham of Boston, retired principal of the Calhoun School and Settlement, Calhoun, Ala., and still active in great social movements; Rev. George H. Danlap of Boston, only just retired from active service after almost 50 years of pastoral work; Ralph Field, for over 40 years connected with the General Fire Extinguisher Company of Providence; R. L. George P. Hadley of Goffstown, N. H.; our esteemed fellow townsman, Alfred S. Hall, Dr. J. G. Hayes of Williamstown, Mass.; Dr. Leonard Jarvis of Claremont, N. H.; Charles H. Jones of Boston, president of the New England Shoe and Leather Company; N. W. Ladd, lawyer, Boston; J. T. Merriek of Boston; Rev. J. S. Moulton, for 39 years pastor of the Unitarian Church, Stow, Mass.; C. D. Palmer of Manchester, N. H.; Prof. H. M. Paul, U. S. Navy, long professor of mathematics at the Naval Academy in Annapolis, Md.; Dr. Olney W. Phelps of Warren, Mass.; W. A. Robbins, tanker, Newark, O.; H. P. Sanderson of Manchester, N. H.; Dr. John C. Stewart of York Village, Me.; J. H. Willoughby of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company and formerly a resident of Winchester; Frederick S. Wright, tanker, Newark, O., and Rev. S. W. Adrians of Winchester.

Among the ladies present were Miss Helen A. Hall and Mrs. S. W. Adrians of Winchester.

There is a good deal of rivalry among the returning classes for the awarding of the attendance cup, a beautiful cup, held by the college and awarded each year to that one of the older returning classes which has present the largest percentage of graduate members. The class, number and the year of winning the prize was won annually on the cup. It was this year, as it was also in 1913, by the Class of 1873. The ladies were also sitting as interested spectators in the gallery, applauded heartily when the announcement was made and the members of the class rose to the front as the cheer leader called for the class of 1873.

S. Winchester Adrians.

One best prostration occurred in Winchester Tuesday when Andrew McCarthy, driver for the Health Department, was overcome at the town yard. McCarthy was seen to fall in a faint by Joseph Golden, who called Dr. Shee by after rendering first aid. McCarthy, who lives on Summit street, was taken to the hospital, where his condition is said to be serious although not critical.

HOT WEATHER

The hottest weather of the year struck town this week. Following three fine days over the week-end, the temperature rose rapidly Tuesday, reaching the hundred mark by noon Wednesday and yesterday was scorchers, with the glass in the high nineties. Sweating humanity made every endeavor to find cool locations and the lakes and rivers were lined throughout the days and nights with bathers.

At Sandy Beach by far the greatest throng in its history went in bathing. On Wednesday night the jam of automobiles was enormous. The bath houses there still remain padlocked, and thousands who used the place either changing their clothes at home or in the bushes.

Wedge Pond was thronged also, many who visited Sandy Beach de riding not to go into that water after looking at its disgusting and dirty composition, and coming back to Wedge. Wedge Pond also had a big crowd, while many children, disregarding the conditions, went in along the river in the northern part of the town.

Cooler weather promised for today and Saturday is expected to give relief from the extreme conditions.

South America is a bank or band of cloud extending for two thousand miles from Ecuador to the Argentine, and following the trend of the land at range of hills. The cloud band between ten and twenty miles broad, is at an elevation of miles between two thousand and three thousand feet and a vertical thickness of not less than one thousand feet. The curious phenomenon is ascribed to the influence of cool southerly and southwest winds blowing obliquely along range, and having their moisture condensed by the coast hill range just sufficient to produce clouds without

HIGH SCHOOL SENIORS HELD CLASS-DAY AT COUNTRY CLUB

The Class of 1923, Winchester High School, held its Class-Day at the Winchester Country Club on Friday evening. The Club made the ideal place for an affair of this kind and all present seemed to enjoy themselves. The Class-day committee consisted of Clinton Mason, chairman, Miss Barbara Pike and Donald Tucker. Principal Farnham, Miss Palmer, and Miss Parker of the school faculty acted as matrons. Every member of the class was present.

The seniors began to assemble at about eight o'clock and as soon as the majority had arrived the entertainment of the evening was opened. Wallace Downer, president of the class, introduced the various speakers. Robert Woodbury, class statistician, opened the program with the reading of the class statistics. The prophecy written by Helen Fowle and Henry Chapman was then read by the latter and seemed to afford much amusement and surprise to many members of the class who found themselves to be in rather strange environments in the later years of their lives. The class will, drawn up by Joseph Perry, the class lawyer, contained the usual complimentary remarks and was well received. Esther Carrier then read the class history, which was merely statistical, but contained all the necessary facts without superfluity. Mr. Farnham then spoke a few words to the class.

The customary class gifts were then presented by Clinton Mason. The committee had selected a suggestive gift for each member, all whether complimentary or otherwise, were accepted in good spirits amid much laughter from the class.

For the remainder of the evening dancing was enjoyed, the music being furnished by McNeilly, Taylor and Bernard of the High School.

A. Perley Chase of the Winchester Country Club is an eligible golfer for the National Amateur Championship to be held at Chicago in September. The list is made up by the Eligibility List Committee of the U. S. and includes 296 golfers.

COUNTRY CLUB EVENTS

Thirty-six Hole Medal Play and Mixed Foursomes the Holiday Play

The Winchester Country Club staged a 36-hole handicap medal play over Saturday and Monday, with a mixed foursome on Monday afternoon, the exceptional weather calling out a record field on both days.

Saturday afternoon's play, the first 18-hole medal play in the club's history, resulted in C. A. Wheeler taking best net honors with 67 and J. W. Osborne following with 68. P. A. Hendrick led best gross with 72.

The play Monday gave R. H. Sherman a net of 64, R. T. Damon 66 and J. P. Carr 68 for the second 18 holes. A. P. Chase, with 80, was best gross.

For the whole 36-hole play, R. T. Damon and W. O'Hara tied for first honors with a net of 139 each. O'Hara made a gross of 171 to Damon's 183, while A. P. Chase with a gross of 162 for the 36 holes took gross honors.

W. C. P. Whorf, with a gross of 167, followed.

A tie also resulted in Monday afternoon's mixed foursomes, a medal play by Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Bond and Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Bradlee each made a net score of 71, with the Bonds making a cross of 98 to the Bradlee's 97.

The best gross went to Mrs. W. U. Wyman and Mr. C. P. Whorf with 92.

Enjoyed a Trouble Breeder.

In many ways the American form of government is doubtless better than that which Spain imposed upon her colonies. Nevertheless, there are times when we could take a lesson in direct achievement from an incident of the colonial days of Peru.

"Since the arrival at Quito of a certain attorney, Bachiller Guevara, resolved the cabildo of Quito, 'many suits have been stirred up whereby, as there is no other attorney in the town, many persons might lose their legal rights.'"

"Therefore the said Bachiller Guevara is forbidden to exercise his profession, or to give advice or his opinion on any controversy or matter of litigation, under penalty of 1000 pesos for the first offense and one year's banishment for the second offense."

Virtue Ascribed to Gems.

The old custom of wearing a ring to hold a necklace in place originated in 1476, when the dukes of Burgundy wore his signet ring on a ribbon around his neck. Many were the virtues ascribed to gems. Amethysts were supposed to ward off effects of the weather, virtue, courage and magnanimity; opals sharing in the charge of every stone of which they reflected the color, if stolen, rendered the thief invisible, while topaz and chrysolite lost brilliance if dipped in poison, a highly important quality in an age when one could not tell friend from foe.

Up to Papa.

Margery's school reports weren't very good, so her father said: "The first time you get a hundred I'll give you a dollar." Time went by and the reward could not be claimed. Then one day the child was taken ill. When the doctor had been asked: "Mamma, am I very sick?" "No, dear, your temperature is a little over a hundred, but the doctor thinks you'll be better tomorrow." Margery's face lighted up. "Mamma, I can have my dollar, can't I?" Papa said: "He'd give it to me if I got a hundred in anything."—Boston Transcript.

STEPHENSON WINNER OF COUNTRY CLUB TITLE

B. K. "Bart" Stephenson stands 50-50 in list of club championships.

B. K. "Bart" Stephenson stands 50-50 in the list of club championships. He is a member of both the Winchester and Charles River Country Clubs and he succeeded in playing through the championship tournaments at both links to the final match Saturday. A week ago he was beaten for the first Charles River title by S. T. Hicks. Saturday's events, however, things by winning the Winchester gold medal, emblematic of the title at that club, from which a few years ago he was elected to the presidency of the Massachusetts Golf Association.

The wind-up of the 36-hole tournament was a steamy hot one. S. T. Hicks of hockey fame was the enemy for the moment. All day long the two players fought and the contest, with first one and then the other with his nose in front, but never much more.

At noon Hicks was a hole to the good, one of the feature stunts of the morning being the 3 made by Stephenson on the eighth hole, where his second was four feet from the cup, and he had played there with a mashie nibble, so far was his tee shot.

They were on each other's necks in the afternoon until finally they reached the 15th tee with Stephenson a hole ahead. Hicks here holed one from the edge of the green for a 3 to square the account. Stephenson then reached the 15th and became 1 up. Stephenson now figured it was his turn and he took it by sinking a 30-footer for a 3. That was the end of the row won in birdie figures; but Bart figured that, as he had won only one of the three it still was his turn and so he won the 50th of the match, to end it, with a 4. He was nicely on with his second and might possible have run down the fourth hole, but he was followed by a crowd insisted on pressing nearer that far, but he didn't.

Just to show that the 3 there was quite possible and reasonable from his viewpoint—along came Perley Chase in a few moments to drop a 40-footer for the figure. Perley, by the way, had finished 73 and 73, which shows that Medford did not lose all his kick when run left town.

The Winchester course just at this time has 18 holes in good playing condition, with scarcely the sign of the winter kick that paid its respects to links as well as the Greater Boston Club. The 12th hole lacks something of its best but is rounding encouragingly.—Larry Paton in the Herald.

"OUT OF DARTMOUTH FIFTY YEARS"

The following is reprinted from the University of Massachusetts Record of the class of '73 at Dartmouth College this year, which celebrated its 50th anniversary with fitting exercises.

"Sam Adrians was stricken with an almost mortal illness in his early ministry, and has never fully recovered his eyesight. He taught us how to use adversity to mellow and beautify the spirit, and his researches into the lives of the rest of us, as class secretary, have made much of us keep us together in spirit."

"Alfred Hall, another successful lawyer how much '73 has contributed to the nation's greatness."

Class president, whom no one could replace from that position, any more than from the affections of his classmates.

"Altogether, 155 men were connected with the class of '73. Eighty-five graduated, 69 in the classical, 13 in the scientific, and three in the short-lived agricultural department. Seven classical students of '73 afterwards received the degree of A. B. Of the graduates, 18 were in the class when Lemercier's "Christopher Columbus" was being played, the Quarter Latin students raised rats during the first two performances to show their disapproval of the fact that the unties of the laboratory, Madison, Wis. Whereupon the emperor, with whom Lemercier was a favorite, announced that he would attend the third performance and severely punish anyone railing a disturbance. He carried out his threat, and the next morning until the third act, whereupon the scene was changed to the deck of Columbus' ship. When the curtain rose about three-quarters of the audience dozed nightcaps, shut their eyes, and fell (apparently) asleep. This comical sight set Napoleon laughing, so his wrath was dissipated."

Accidental Discovery.

The accidental spilling of a bronze liquid on the table by a handy man about the house, painting the home radiators, has led to the discovery of a new way to protect wood from moisture, according to Carlisle P. Winslow, director of the forest products laboratory, Madison, Wis. The mishap that led to invention occurred on the "unfurnished" top of a kitchen table. Before the investigator could get a cloth the bronzing liquid had dried. Connecting this incident in his mind with his work in the laboratory, he started a series of experiments, and a bronze coating, composed of a cheap glass oil and aluminum powder superior to many other moisture-proof coatings for use indoors was developed.

Menu for Gourmet.

A banquet in Siam is no light matter, as Mr. Hermann Norden, the author of "From Golden Gate to Golden Sun," found out. While in Bangkok he was present at one in which the menu was as follows: Chicken kidneys, mushrooms, sirloins, cheese, shark's ears, soup, fish, onions, macaroni, Chinese soup, duck, barley soup, a sweet fruit soup, made of the milk of a coconut. It was served in the order given, and no wonder that "the dinner committee had set up until all hours combining this menu for gourmets."

REGATTA A BIG SUCCESS

The three-day anniversary and regatta on Mystic Lake, held by the Medford Boat Club on Saturday, Sunday and Monday in observance of its 50th birthday, proved a big success.

Regulation A. C. A. races were held on Saturday afternoon, 15 clubs competing. A reunion of old-time members and paddlers with a vaudeville and music was held in the evening. On Sunday, a three-mile open canoe race was held on the lake, and on Monday a regatta was held, the illuminated canoe parade and dance completed the program.

The Saturday afternoon racing was the best ever seen on the lake. Owing to the fact that some of the crews could not reach the lake, in the 15-mile race, the canoe race contained only five entries. It had been expected that seven boats would compete, and two of the big canoes lay on the shore without a crew. The Samosets lacked but one man at the time of calling the race, while Swastika of Providence was minus two.

The race was, nevertheless, by far the best ever pulled off in Massachusetts waters, the five crews fighting every inch of the way over the mile course with a finish at the half.

Presidents of Waltham won handsily with Winchester Boat Club finishing third, a close follower of Medford. In the 15-mile race there were 12 entries, an unheard of number. The singles also brought out 11 pairs.

The races were largely captured by the crew of Waltham and the members of the Pawtucket Canoe Club of Providence, R. I. Winchester Boat Club was well represented in every event, taking a first or second—as did Medford.

Following the racing, a banquet was served at the club to the racing men and guests, followed by a contest for the championship at pitching the horseshoes. The title was won by Homer Tatro of Swastika and "Cherry" Key of Medford over Hermann Dudley Murphy of Winchester and Arthur G. Mather of Medford. In the evening, a dance was staged by Tatro, Key and Dr. S. Martin. Speeches were made by ex-Commodore John B. Howard of the A. C. A. and Summer T. Merritt, the present vice-commodore of the association.

The sailing race on Sunday was won by Arnold Carey, who led the field of 15 canoes by nearly a lap. The race was sailed in a still breeze with shifting wind.

Monday afternoon's water sports opened with a canoe race between Winchester and Medford for the Charles S. Tenney trophy, previously held by Medford. Medford successfully defeated the honor, beating Winchester in a grueling race by half a length of open water.

In the novelty events Leroy L. Pratt of Winchester won a single blade race, and with his son John, took second in the standing gunwale race. Kenneth Pratt of Winchester won the upset race, and the Junior and Court gave Medford a hard rub in the tilting. Howard and Hunter winning out in the finals and placing this event on Medford's date.

A diversion was created in the rescue race, when Lee Court, attired as a lady, fell overboard. He was rescued amid much excitement.

In the evening the canoe illumination was won by W. S. Manson, H. E. Converse and I. M. MacDonald of Medford.

There were record crowds at the races on all three days, fair weather favoring the canoeists in their program.

The Little Corporal Mastered.

Napoleon was master of Paris and the continent, but he was not quite master of the students of Paris, who were like other students all over the town. In 1804 at the Latin when Lemercier's "Christopher Columbus" was being played, the Quarter Latin students raised rats during the first two performances to show their disapproval of the fact that the unties of the laboratory, Madison, Wis. Whereupon the emperor, with whom Lemercier was a favorite, announced that he would attend the third performance and severely punish anyone railing a disturbance. ## The Little Corporal Mastered.

Napoleon was master of Paris and the continent, but he was not quite master of the students of Paris, who were like other students all over the town. In 1804 at the Latin when Lemercier's "Christopher Columbus" was being played, the Quarter Latin students raised rats during the first two performances to show their disapproval of the fact that the unties of the laboratory, Madison, Wis. Whereupon the emperor, with whom Lemercier was a favorite, announced that he would attend the third performance and severely punish anyone railing a disturbance. He carried out his threat, and the next morning until the third act, whereupon the scene was changed to the deck of Columbus' ship. When the curtain rose about three-quarters of the audience dozed nightcaps, shut their eyes, and fell (apparently) asleep. This comical sight set Napoleon laughing, so his wrath was dissipated."

JAPANESE ARE GOOD FLYERS

Head of British Air Mission is of Opinion That They Positively Have No Nervous.

A rather curious report current two or three years ago with reference to Japanese aviation is recalled by an interview in London with the Master of Sempill, who has just returned after spending many months as head of the British air mission to Japan. The suggestion was that Japanese could not be made into good aviators because of something in their early upbringing, one point being that because they were carried pick-a-back in infancy they had somehow lost their sense of equilibrium. In support of this it was pointed out that many accidents had happened in Japan, and even today it is conceded that they have produced no outstanding flyers.

The statement, however that they do not make good aviators is disproved by the Master of Sempill, who describes them as pupils leaving little to be desired and the standard achieved by pilots throughout the naval air force as being very high.

One report of the interview credited him with the statement that it is higher than in the British naval air force. The Japanese are said to be ready to try anything and to have no trace of nerves. All this makes a very different story from that which became common property shortly after the armistice, and there seems now no doubt that hypothesis outran facts.—

DAILY PHILOSOPHY

Behind us is much that we have found to be faithless, cruel, and unpleasant—why go back to that—go forward to the things we really desire.

We too often praise the man who wins just because he wins; the plaudits and laurels of victory are the unthinking crowd's means of estimating success.

It is easier to fail than to succeed. It is easier to stream than to persist in making a break at one point or another through those confining circumstances.

DIFFERENCE BETWEEN AUTOBUST ON RAMPAGE AND WILD INDIAN

"Operators of automobiles, under the influence of liquor, make our days more dangerous than they were in the days when the Indians crouched behind the trees, at the roadside awaiting the unfortunate pedestrian," said Assistant District Attorney Robert T. Bushnell of Middlesex County, recently in his final plea before a jury in the Superior Court, East Cambridge.

The Indian gambled with his life; the auto driver bet against a $50 fine—an easy explanation, comments the Winchester Star, with irresistible "boss sense." (Sunday Post.)

Super-service at the Winchester exchange.

The padlocks on the bath houses at Sandy Beach have been removed and a mud turtle has been seen in Mystic. Will wonders never cease.

It is reported that the building of Winthrop street from the Winchester line to Medford is under discussion. We'll say so. Both "was" and "is".

The Star learns that the City of Medford is giving attention to the building of Winthrop street from the Winchester line to Winthrop square—with further plans which will carry the work along high street to Medford square. A report of appropriation of $35,000 will be presented Monday night, to be used on Winthrop street. With this sum goes the bonus from the city of about 25 per cent, making a total of close to $50,000. Winchester thoroughly appreciates this action on the part of its neighbors.

Recalling to mind that old adage about a lot of water flowing under the bridge, makes one ask what it is which flows under our bridge—and through the center of the town as well. We do not hear anything from our Board of Health nor that special committee appointed to investigate it, but many residents question the substance as being water. The Star is inclined to agree with them when they call it sewage. We seem to get just so far and no farther in the matter of purifying our river. The stench must be too great. There is some variety in color there though. It used to be green—remember the white dog?; now it is red. There has been a lot of the substance flow under our bridge since we started (7) to clean it up.

It is a regrettable occurrence at our town meetings that the habit which seems to have grown upon one or two of our citizens of prefacing their remarks with scantly veiled insinuations toward the private life, character, business, or any other point which may come to their mind, regarding a previous speaker who holds opposite views on the question under discussion, is becoming a regular and to-be-expected feature. It speaks well for the forbearance of our Moderator that he allows some of these speakers to travel along this road as far as they do without taking drastic action. The habit has the effect of causing many a worthy and able citizen to refrain from taking active part in town meeting discussion. The Star can readily understand the feelings of our Moderator in putting up with this custom. He hesitates to use his power and descend to the depths into which such orators have fallen. More than one citizen would be glad to have such tactics eliminated from our meetings. That the character and action of any citizen whose reproach to our community is above speakers, just because, after a clean and convincing argument, he happens to stand on the opposite side of the fence, is downright disgusting. It leaves little question in the minds of the voters as to who "loves" Winchester the most. Such mud slinging should be stopped, no matter what is the object of attack.

The Editor noted with interest the passage through town Monday morning of what must have been a typical automobile party. At any rate, it was certainly one of the parties to be often pictured these days in numerous car-

APPRAISERS VALUING AN ESTATE

What are these bonds worth? We must look up the market value. How about this list of Stocks? Probably like the average, some good others good for nothing.

Here are ten Life Insurance policies. Now these are worth while. They are worth face value, and mean much more than that to the family, on account of the forms of settlement designated, which insure the insurance.

toons. The car contained two women, two men and two boys of perhaps 15 years of age. It stopped at the corner of the Winchester Trust Company building and the two boys got out with two editions of the Sunday papers. Laying the papers in the street, they each took up a top section and commenced to read. A second later there was a cull from the car, and dropping the sheets they each scrambled into the auto, which drove away. A following auto whirled off the top of the two piles of paper, and within a few minutes the street was covered with flying papers and the torn litter. So far as could be ascertained, the stop was made simply to hand over the papers, which had served their usefulness. A nice way to do it!

The increasing menace of Hind corners in our streets is of growing importance. In some instances exceptionally dangerous corners have received attention; in hundreds of others, they constitute points of danger which are daily costing injury and damage. Mention was made at Monday night's town meeting of the corner at the High School, but it is only one of many which exist in Winchester. Complaint has been made to the Star of the bad corner at the Parkway and the entrance to Wedgemere station. Again it is only one of many. With the great horde of automobiles traversing our streets during daylight and dark the intersection of streets should receive careful attention with regard to obstruction of vision. In most instances the view is cut off by shrubs, and a replanting would easily obviate the danger. In others, buildings or permanent obstruction make a situation which cannot so easily be remedied. Whether it is our Planning Board or our Highway Department we do not know, but Winchester has a number of bad corners which need attention, and the matter should be under consideration. The removal or replanting of a few shrubs is a small matter compared with this present day danger.

The arrival of a band of Gypsies in town, and their opening a large camp on the shore of our reservoir, is a subject of considerable interest. In the first place the guests have not thus far made themselves in any way degrading a feeling of apprehension regarding the future. Secondly, the location of this large camp, without any sanitation (and every indication points to a great need of it), directly on the shore of our largest body of drinking water, is something which should receive prompt attention and remedy. The camp is in a very immediate vicinity to the thickly settled for such colonies. Our Water Board should be able to remedy the situation. If not, our Board of Health should do it. The Star is informed that an appeal has been made to the State Board of Health in the matter. The wilds of Romania are being disturbed by New England hills, and the hunting element here has too much of the human aspect.

Report has it that the band of Gypsies, now encamped on the shores of the South Reservoir, have offered to purchase the land they now occupy on lease from Samuel S. Symmes. The area is said to include some 23 acres, for which the Band is said to have offered the sum of $10,000. Mr. Symmes is reported to have offered the land to the town officials for the latter sum as being a desirable purchase to protect the reservoir.

The Story of Our States

By JONATHAN BRACE

XXV.—ARKANSAS

ARKANSAS was named after the river which flows diagonally through this state and is one of the chief tributaries of the Mississippi.

It is said that the early settlers found in this territory, an Indian tribe named Arkansas, but the actual meaning of the word is not known. It probably has some relation to the word Kansas. There has been much confusion as to the correct pronunciation of Arkansas. To remove this as far as possible a resolution was passed by the state senate in 1881 which specified that the true pronunciation was "Ark-an-saw."

Originally Arkansas was a part of the Louisiana Purchase. Its first settlement was made by the French about 1685. Except for the few years during which by secret treaty it was ceded to Spain, it remained under French rule until purchased by the United States in 1803. For nearly ten years after this, it was a part of Louisiana territory. With the admission of the State of Louisiana in 1812 this northern section was formed into the Missouri territory. In 1819 there was another partition and Arkansas territory was created, which included the present state and what later was called Indian territory.

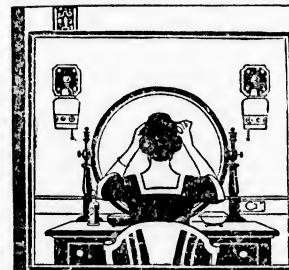

Due to the reports of an early explorer named Pike, who visited this region in 1804, the incorrect idea was generally accepted that most of the expanse of plains east of the Rockies was a vast desert. This idea persisted to such an extent that as late as 1850 the western plains were called the "Great American Desert." Adventurous settlers, especially from the South, found conditions in Arkansas quite otherwise, however, and by 1858 Arkansas was admitted as the twenty-fifth state of the Union with an area of 53,335 square miles.

The natural resources of the state are considerable. There are the mineral springs of medicinal value, which have been placed under governmental control at Hot Springs.

Rest From Labor.

Controlled experiments made upon large numbers of women working at all kinds of tasks have shown that to prevent overfatigue one must rest at regular intervals, not just at work but quite arbitrarily. Wherever regular recesses have been used among women in factories, the workers have more than made up for the time lost. They have become less tired from their labors.

Your Bedroom

THE room where you enjoy your rest is the one room in which the Right Light helps you to be most comfortable. Electric fans for the hot weather, warming-pads and glowing heaters for chilly nights, curling-irons, and all the other electrical conveniences supplement the first great comfort of proper light.

And it's so easy to obtain:

1. Use 50-watt or 75-watt lamps in the ceiling fixture, or the light hanging over the chifforoni.
2. Use 50-watt Mazda lamps in the side lights at your dressing-table, shaded to give you all possible light without glare.
3. And for the great comfort of reading in bed—use 40-watt or 50-watt all-fronted Mazda lamps in the bedside or portable lamp.

Every bedroom can have the Right Light if you call your own electrician for estimates, or for help in getting them.
